GREAT PICTURE AT THE HUB THEATRE TOMORROW

Tomorrow at the Hub theatre the epoch making screen production of "Romeo and Juliet" with Francis X. Bushman as Romeo and beautiful Beverly Bayne as "Juliet," is presented to the public in eight classical acts with the fullest confidence as to its reception. The showing of the complete picture requires two hours and the first reel will be on at 2 p. m. making a new showing every two hours thereafter.

Over three months were consumed in the actual work of photography, and the cost of production amounted to upwards of $250,000. Not even in the lavish stage productions made by such wizards of stagecraft as Sir Henry Irving and Richard Mansfield has such magnificence been dreamed of, much less attempted. The costumes alone cost $25,000 and the reproduction of the market-place of medieval Verona, with its 18 buildings, mean an outlay of $25,000 more.

Director-in-Chief John W. Noble, and the star, Francis X. Bushman, supervised the production. Their assistant directors were Edward J. Shtuber, technical director, Edward Elmer, Rudolph De Cordova, Shakespearean adviser, Leander De Cordova, Edward Levers, and Harry Scott. Mr. De Cordova has acted as stage manager to all the greatest stars of the present day including Sarah Bernhardt and Ellen Terry, and Mr. Shtuber, a nephew of E. H. Sothern, assisted his uncle in Shakespearean productions for seven years. Shakespeare's matchless story of love and tragedy scarcely needs to be refreshed in the minds of the public since the tale has always been a favorite one. Romeo and Juliet, who fall in love with each other at their first glance are members of the two great noble families of Verona, the Montagues and Capulets, who have for years been at enmity with each other. That their meetings and their marriage must be in secret is responsible for Juliet's being urged by her parents to marry Count Paris, and for her taking a potion that feigns death by the advice of Friar Lawrence so that Romeo may claim her unharnessed in the tomb. But the letter telling Romeo of the plan miscarries, she supposes her really dead, and, as he has killed himself beside her, she awakens and pressing his dagger to her heart, follows his spirit in death.

Full advantage has been taken of the fact that Romeo and Juliet belonged to noble and wealthy families. The appointments of the two households are superb, the furnishings magnificent beyond any in the history of the stage scenes, of prompt and economy are shown both civic and religious ceremonies and processions being included. These are all provided for in Shakespeare's text, but the limitations of the dramatic stage have heretofore made it impossible to present them. The Bushman and Bayne production of "Romeo and Juliet" shows the great play as Shakespeare would have written it if motion pictures had been invented in his time.

Fidelity to the greatest dramatic poet of all the ages has been carried to the last degree. Every member of the cast was obliged to learn the words of the play and repeat them, with the proper action before the camera. If a word was forgotten, the camera was stopped, and the work done over again. The original scenario was made from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," the greatest love story ever written, by John Arthur, and this was modified by Rudolph De Cordova, and the final work done by John W. Noble, whose masterly handling of the eight-act drama establishes him for all time in the front rank of directors. The genius of Mr. Bushman and Miss Bayne has never been so well exemplified as in the roles of the immortal lovers. The Bushman and Bayne production of "Romeo and Juliet" brings the soul of Shakespeare to the hearts of the people.

Note the hours of the beginning of each new show, and try to time yourself so as to get started with the first reel of the show you can most conveniently attend. PARIS DEFENSE LAND MAY BE PLANTED

(By Associated Press.) Paris, Feb. 13.—A band of territory about 150 yards wide and eighteen miles long skirting the fortifications of Paris and now uncultivated will probably be planted to potatoes next spring. The mayors of the twenty arrondissements, or wards of Paris have arranged to meet and settle the details. The land still belongs to the nation, but the city of Paris will eventually come into possession of it when the fortifications are demolished, in pursuance of an arrangement with the government. It will then be transformed into parks, boulevards, public playgrounds and sites for public institutions. In the meantime the cultivation of it will in no wise interfere with the plans for the future.

DON'T BE BALD

Tells How To Make Hair Grow Thick and Lustrous on Bald and Thin Spots

Thousands of men and women are growing bald every day and don't know the reason why. This is indeed a pity, says a hair specialist, who states that baldness usually comes from carelessness. The treatment is very simple; remove the dirt by shampooing every ten days and destroy the dandruff germs by frequently applying a little of the real Parisian Sage, a most efficient preparation that the best druggists are now recommending as one of the quickest and safest treatments to surely stop itching scalp and falling hair, remove all dandruff and to properly nourish and invigorate the hair roots. Parisian Sage is also the discriminating woman's favorite hair dressing because it makes the hair seem thicker as abundant and gives it a softness and luster that compensates for the loss of natural color. It is guaranteed to you.

IN MEMORIAM

This poem is written to my friend, Claude Cecil Eckard, born June 12, 1901; died February 10, 1917, who now lives in heaven. Tears we may shed, and well we might, for a friend, a boy, whom all that knew him, loved. He now rests free from all the stings, toils and cares of this world, a saint, now and through out eternity. In this poem I have depicted his spirit treading those sacred shores that land beyond beneath the loving wings of our good and eternal Savior. Silently he waits the ships that soon will sail and carry us all unto that land where all is love and bliss.
