THE CELEBRATION

The white way celebration Thursday night far exceeded the expectations of the most optimistic of the men and women of Hickory.

In the immense crowd there was the best of order. One was impressed by this fact. Ten years ago nothing like it could have occurred without boisterous conduct marring the observance.

The Merchants' Association, the Chamber of Commerce, the Community Club, the Knights of Pythias, the Woodmen of the World, the Junior Order, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the military company, the boy scouts, the schools, the bands, Lenoir College, the fire department, the Red Cross, the citizens generally and the guests of the city are responsible for the tremendous success of the celebration.

Chairman J. D. Elliott was an ideal master of ceremonies and the addresses of all the speakers were worthy of themselves and the occasion. Both Mayor Yount and former Mayor S. L. Whitener did honor to the occasion; Mr. Leake Carraway of the Southern Public Utilities Company assured the people of the willingness of his company to meet Hickory more than half way in its efforts to develop the city.

In fact the affair was such as one could hope for but not expect to see realized. It demonstrated most effectively the spirit of Hickory, and it marked a greater era in the life of this community.

WEST HICKORY'S CHANCE

The people of West Hickory will decide on Monday whether or not they want better school facilities, and the people of Hickory are greatly interested in the matter, for what affects West Hickory affects Hickory, and vice versa.

If this increased tax fails to carry, we believe it will be the first town of this size in the state to take a backward step educationally.

Record readers in looking over the paper yesterday must have observed some advertisers whose names and goods seldom appear in any paper. Personally the Record desires to thank the Red Cross ladies for showing them the value of advertising.

THE REPRISALS

The wisdom of reprisals is always debatable, but particularly so when one of the opponents wants only the pretext for committing any sort of acts against helpless men and women.

In the last few months French and British hospital ships, bearing the wounded, have been torpedoed as if they were warships.

Now it is announced from Berlin that three times the number of German officers placed aboard a hospital ship will be exposed to French fire in the west, and we may be sure that this will be done with German thoroughness.

The allies have everything to lose in engaging in reprisals; they cannot hope to equal or shame the exponents of frightfulness and the sooner they abandon this sort of business the better.

Both are frank. They recognize in President Wilson those qualities of statesmanship which Colonel Harvey was first to see and with Waterson and Hemphill was later to deny.

And German leaders are amazed because German-Americans have not betrayed the country that has furnished them shelter and given them opportunities to prosper as any other citizen.

One million New Yorkers turned out to welcome the marshal of France and General Joffre cast a wishful eye on about 200,000 men.

It was a white way with frills.

"HYSTERICAL ECONOMY"

The advisory commission of the council of national defense has warned people against the so-called "hysterical economy"—refusing to buy in order to get ready for any future emergency.

Mr. F. J. Flagler has purchased from Col. Robt. Ransom the cottage on Eighth avenue known as the Reynolds property.
