ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS
THURSDAY, JULY 5, 1917

STOP SPECULATION

We observe that flour has dropped considerably in price, that produce in the west is selling rather low and that the wheat market has opened at about $2 a bushel—it is less than that in Chicago.

All of which goes to show that as soon as the farmer has anything to sell the law of supply and demand runs riot and will continue to run riot until the gentleman who neither toil nor spin but dress handsomely, have succeeded in garnering in the supplies of various kinds.

Then the market will ascend again. We will pay fancy prices for everything we eat. The farmer will have sold when prices were low.

Whether this food control bill is passed or not, the country should find some way of preventing the speculator from taking money out of the farmer's pockets one month and repeating the trick by relieving the consumer the next.

It is nothing short of an outrage.

CONNECT WITH MAINS

City council is determined to improve the sanitary conditions of Hickory and citizens can help by reporting bad conditions in any part of town. Open surface closets are to be eliminated and wherever possible residents will be required to connect with sewer mains.

These measures are to be taken for the benefit of the whole community; they are urged in an effort to prevent typhoid and other diseases. There should be the heartiest cooperation.

During the summer and fall plumbers should have plenty to do in Hickory installing water systems and by next summer there should not be a home adjacent to sewer mains that is not connected.

Why not call in the plumber, if your house is not connected, and have it done now?

American transports en route to France with soldiers and supplies were twice attacked by German submarines, Secretary Daniels announced Tuesday night and, although not a ship, man or animal was lost, the conveying fleet had a job beating on the U-boats. At least one enemy attacker was destroyed.

The submarines first attacked in the Atlantic before the European fleet, which had been instructed to meet the transports at a certain point, had reached the rendezvous. Somebody had advised the Germans of the movements of the transports and they were ready for them. There are several spies loose in the United States and it is up to the secret service to locate them so that they can be shot or hanged.

The Russian offensive if it continues will be worth many thousand men to the French, who have been expecting an attack by Hindenburg in the west. The series of attacks all along the French line are believed to be feelers and if the Germans find a weak place they will try to break through. Thanks to the energy of War Minister Kerensky the Russians will occupy the attention of a great host of Teutons who quickly will be recalled to the eastern front from the west, where they had been assembled in an effort apparently to crush the French this summer.

French poilus have named American soldiers Sammys, borrowing the term of course from the mothers of some of the boys or the sweethearts following the receipt of a box of candy.

Ho for Mrs. Adrian Shuford of Conover who has sent us a pair of gloves made by the Warlong Glove Manufacturing Company there. Fine business.

Forty-eight of the 66 members of a Greensboro cotillion club have joined the colors, thus demonstrating that these young men actually learned to dance to the music.

The fellow who makes two blades of grass grow where one formerly thrived is not in it compared with the fellow who can make one dollar do as much as two used to do.

BUYERS OF BONDS

Ladies and gentlemen, allow us to present to you three persons who owe distinction to the fact that they have purchased liberty bonds. The first of these is Miss Florence Estelle Rogers of Medford, Mass., who purchased a bond when she was eight hours old. The second is Mrs. Louisa K. Thiers of Milwaukee, bond buyer aged 102.

We shall take a paragraph in presenting our Greek friend, who also bought bonds, and whose signature, we dare say, will never be forged successfully.

Mr. Gus J. Papatheodoroukounourgistomichalakopoulos.

Chicago also had some trouble with a colored man, but he was not the kind that is usually found in the south.

Don't eat cucumbers that have been gathered a long time. A Cherryville family was poisoned as a result of making this mistake.

Those Russian names that used to be such jokes with the paragraphs now sound like rippling waters.

If time were money congressmen would be worth a billion or two.

Rip Van Winkle was the luckiest man that ever lived.

FURTHER DECREASE IN ACTIVITY OF U-BOATS

London, July 5.—The weekly shipping summary issuer shows that 15 British merchant ships of more than 1,000 tons were sunk and five vessels of less than that tonnage. Eleven fishing vessels also were lost.

Forecasters that the summary of British shipping losses by submarines and mines covering last week would show the smallest number of sinkings in many weeks were verified by the actual figures. The total of 20 merchant ships sunk compares with 28, the previous week, and 32 for each of the two weeks preceding.

The heavy falling off in tonnage sent to the bottom is emphasized by the fact that in contrast with the 15 vessels of more than 1,000 tons now reported sunk, the sinking of 21 vessels in this class was announced last week, 27 the week previous and 22 the week before that.

It is not until the report of June 3 is reached that figures as low as those for the current week are encountered. In the height of the destructive submarine campaign in April 40 large vessels were sunk in a week, 28 in another, while the total of large and small vessels reached 55 in the week ended April 21.

STOMACH TROUBLE
Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT recommended very highly, so began to use it. It cured me. I keep it in the house all the time. It is the best liver medicine made. I do not have sick headache or stomach trouble any more." Black-Draught acts on the jaded liver and helps it to do its important work of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system. This medicine should be in every household for use in time of need. Get a package today. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c a package. All druggists.
