LET'S HAVE GOOD WILL

In six months or a year from now many persons who have done or said things recently that have tended to bring families apart will be heartily sorry for those acts. It may be too late then to mend matters; some of the older persons who have become estranged may have been called to their reward, and all the powers that could be placed over their graves would not make one conscience any easier.

If the Record could give a word of advice just now it would be for friends and relatives to live amicably as of old; to refrain from saying things of each other that will leave a scar for all time, and to remember that only unhappiness can result to all concerned in the harboring of ill will.

Let every person in the whole nation who has felt bitterly towards a neighbor or relative stop for ten minutes and think the whole thing out. If every person will do that, there may be differences of opinion on important matters, but there will be no hard feelings, no unhappiness.

For good will among neighbors and relatives is more precious than silver and gold.

BERNSTORFF LANDS AGAIN

We have never expressed and particularly fondness for Bernstorff and only once do we recall having said anything that was creditable to him. That was before he had been caught in his bad tricks at Washington, after which we refrained from joining the mourners who wept with him at his departure. Bernstorff informed the American people through the Associated Press that his diplomatic race was run, that he was going home to serve no more. It turns out that the kaiser has some difficult work to be done in Constantinople, and Bernstorff is selected for the job. He can fill any job from crying in public to leading a gang of murderers. A good bandit is Bernstorff.

HELPFUL RECRUITS

Henry Reuter Dahl, a Swede who came to this country in 1893, liked it so well that he not only remained here, but has become the foremost civilian authority on naval affairs. He has been an advocate of a bigger navy and by his trenchant writings is due considerable credit for the standing the American navy has in the world. America has drawn largely from Europe for its strong men, but Mr. Reuter Dahl is probably the ablest recruit since the men of the Jacob Riis type, fleeing from persecution in Germany, gave their fine talents to the new world.

Carl W. Ackerman, an American correspondent in Germany before diplomatic relations were severed, tells of the indignities heaped upon American consuls by German representatives. Some of these indignities, especially those practiced on women, were so revolting that Mr. Ackerman refrained from mentioning them. The fact that the American government made a protest at the time is news to most readers of the Saturday Evening Post.

Mr. Samuel L. Willard of Baltimore, who is one of our good citizens by proxy, has forwarded to the reading room of the Chamber of Commerce some illustrated London magazines and periodicals for the benefit of the soldiers.

"The only way they'll stop pleasure riding is to stop the sale of gasoline," sagely remarks the Statesville Landmark anent the effort of the federal trade commission to have joy-riding eliminated.

The pretenses made at electoral reform in Prussia must dumbfound those persons who used to contend that Germany was as democratic as the other countries.

That Virginia member of the exemption board who committed suicide took the shortest way to rid himself of trouble.

It is a well known fact that Henry A. Page of Aberdeen has not been an admirer of Senator Overman, and Col. T. Bost opened a new chapter in the Greensboro News when he wrote that Henry was urged to support Dr. Alexander in place of the senator. Charlotte friends of the doctor, Colonel Bost remarks, asked Mr. Page to advocate Dr. Alexander in lieu of Senator Overman, and the Aberdeen sage lost interest immediately. Mr. Page evidently is a man of discrimination.

"That's It," asserts the Statesville Landmark in a heading over a squib from the Record, which said that most of the persons who are so bitterly opposed to the administration now a year ago were berating him for a coward. This type is not confined to any one community.

The difference between the British and German governments is that Lloyd George goes to the people for his power and that Dr. Michaelis turns to the emperor.

The town is doing very well without its pool rooms. Some of the loafers have joined the army, one or more have taken to farming and the whole atmosphere was cleared almost in a day.

The Iredell Canning Company is operating every day and sometimes at night. There will be no scarcity of fruits and vegetables in our neighboring county next winter.

It is said there will be an abundance of salads this fall and winter, and to make the green stuff pay the growers should arrange to ship it.

Those persons who have had some doubt as to which side Providence has been favoring in this war should consider the crops in the United States.

It is a genuine pleasure to see those fine young men who have returned from Oglethorpe. They have worked hard to fit themselves for service and deserve the positions they won.

MURDER CAMAIGN WON'T WIN

Columbia State.
The most interesting portion of Premier Lloyd George's address of yesterday, of course, was the discussion of the food and tonnage question. Presumably it is honest, for Mr. Lloyd George has not been noted especially for turning the bright side of the shield without cause. Rather he has stressed the importance of looking the facts squarely in the face, confident that the British people are able to stare calamity in the eye if necessary and to outpace it by sheer will power.

Assuming then that the premier is telling the whole truth there is much for Americans to take comfort in. The submarine ravages, the premier admits, have been severe. Even the minimum loss of 320,000 tons a month if continued will be a terrible drain on the world's shipping. British construction plans for the last six months of the year, probably the first fruits of the standard ship policy, will not reach that figure. Thus, if England alone were considered, the depreciation would be a continuing factor of peril. But this makes no account of America. What the United States is doing is not exactly known, but the plans for ship-building certainly are sufficient, if carried into prompt execution, to even the balance.

Lloyd George's speech, like the weekly shipping loss reports, should come as an added spur to American endeavor. For it means, if it means anything, that the submarine will not be able to nullify American strength in bringing the war to a close which will insure the safety of democracy in the world. The ruthless U-boat warfare will go on, taking its toll in lives and property, but it can not win the war. The factor of victory is American determination. France and Britain will hold their western lines till we are ready; Britain will continue to resist unbeaten by the submarine; America will have its chance to win the war. It will be costly business, dear in blood and treasure, but Americans have not been in the habit of counting the cost where liberty and human rights are concerned. And we do not believe that they will start now.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hisson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

DR. MCBRAYER GETS HONOR

Dr. L. B. McBrayer, superintendent of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, has been appointed president of the Southern Tuberculosis conference which will be held at Chattanooga, Tenn., on November 9 and 10. Announcement of this appointment has just been made by Charles J. Hatfield, executive secretary of the national association for study and prevention of tuberculosis. The need of the conference now is greater than ever before. Medical examiners in one county in North Carolina, out of seventy-five men examined, rejected nine because of tuberculosis. Whether or not this average will run for the whole state is not to be said. It is likely that it will not, but the prevalence in this particular county is conclusive of a greater need for intensive work. The conference program is now being prepared and the executive office of the Association is hoping to arrange attractive meetings which will be largely attended.

"War or no War"

People are compelled to have eyeglasses and spectacles or not see as they should to read and work; and if the war continues glasses will keep advancing. One does not have to buy glasses often and they owe it to themselves to get the best quality and service. I have fitted many hundred satisfied customers in this city and vicinity and can fit as many more. Those who are governed by my suggestions in buying glasses get the best satisfaction possible. My service in the optical line will equal the best and excel the rest.

I also offer a free service to all who wear glasses. They are welcome to come in my office and have them cleaned and adjusted gratis whether they bought them from me or not. This free service has gained for me many new customers. Now if from any cause one should think they could get better service than I render they will find out very quick to the contrary by trying. I lead in original ideas.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY

An Ambition and a Record

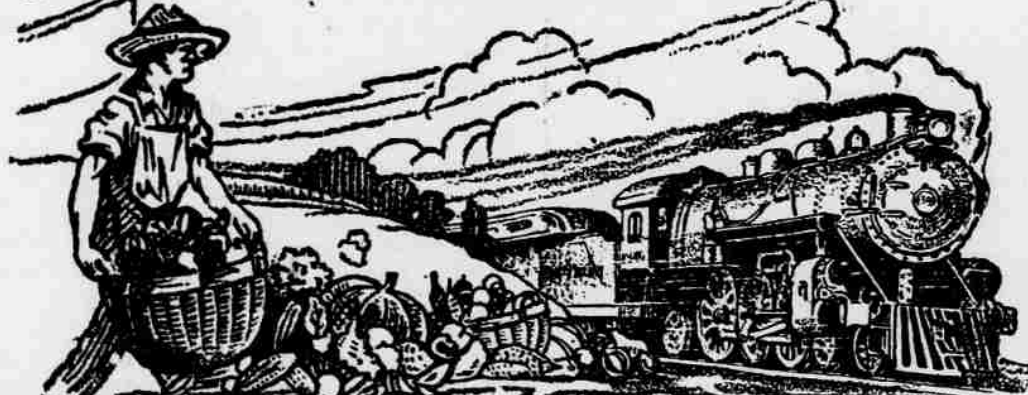

THE needs of the South are identical with the needs of the Southern Railway; the growth and success of one means the upbuilding of the other.

The Southern Railway asks no favors—no special privilege not accorded to others.

The ambition of the Southern Railway Company is to see that every inch of the South is born of co-operation between the public and the railroad; to see that the fair and frank policy in the management of railroads which invites the confidence of governmental agencies to realize that liberality of treatment which will enable it to obtain the additional capital needed for the acquisition of better and enlarged facilities incident to the demand for increased and better service, and, finally—

To take its niche in the busy traffic of the South alongside of other great industries, with no more, but with equal liberality, equal rights and equal opportunities.

"The Southern Serves the South."
