How to Stop Loss of Hair and Start New Growth

If your hair is thinning out, lifeless, full of dandruff, and your head itches like mad, it's a sure sign of the dangerous dandruff germ, and quick action must be taken to save what hair you have and start a new growth. Don't wait until the hair root is dead, for then nothing can help you, but get from your druggist four ounces of Parisian sage--it don't cost much and there is nothing you could use that's any better. Dr. Sangerband, the famous Paris specialist, discovered that dandruff and falling hair are caused by a microbe--then came the discovery of the value of Parisian sage (liquid form) to destroy this germ, prevent falling hair and the formation of dandruff. A few massages with Parisian sage are all that are usually needed, and very soon you should be able to see the new hairs coming in. Parisian sage is women's favorite hair dressing, because it will not stain and makes the hair lustrous, soft and fluffy. Be sure you get Parisian sage (Giroux's), for this brand is guaranteed by the Hickory Drug Co. and can supply you.

HOME GROWN SEED WHEAT IS BEST

By R. Y. Winters, Division of Agronomy, N. C. Experiment Station, West Raleigh, N. C.

It is a custom among some wheat growers to secure new seed from States further north every few years. It is claimed by these growers that wheat deteriorates when grown here several years in succession. Some even believe that a part of the wheat turns to cheat. The seed gotten from further north is said to yield better than the home-grown seed when planted here.

Home-Grown and Northern Grown Seed Wheat Compared.

In order to secure information on this point the Experiment Station and State Department of Agriculture have compared the yields from home-grown and northern grown seed wheat of the same varieties. Several varieties have been compared and in each case the home-grown seed was compared with the same variety of northern grown seed. The comparisons were made at the Mountain Branch Station near Asheville and at the Piedmont Branch Station near Statesville.

Results at the Mountain Station.

The comparisons of home-grown and northern grown seed wheat at the Mountain Branch Station were made for three successive years. In thirteen comparisons during three years the home-grown seed produced at the rate of 16.5 bushels per acre while the northern grown seed produced 12.72 bushels per acre or 3.78 bushels per acre less than the home-grown seed.

Yield from home-grown seed	Bus. per acre
16.5
Yield from northern grown seed	12.72
Increase due to use of home-grown seed	3.78

The results of the 1914 test were even more striking. In this comparison the home-grown seed produced 6.4 bushels per acre more than the northern grown.

Results at the Piedmont Branch Station.

Similar results were gotten at the Piedmont Branch Station. During three years (1914-1916) twenty-three comparisons were made between home-grown and northern grown seed of the same varieties. In these tests the home-grown seed produced at the rate of 16.01 bushels per acre while the northern grown seed produced 15.26 bushels. This gives an average of three pecks per acre in favor of the home-grown seed. The test of 1914 contained 13 comparisons in which the home-grown seed averaged 1.3 bushels per acre more than the northern grown.

Results from Another State.

Similar questions have arisen in other states. The following paragraph from Bulletin 137 of the Utah Experiment Station gives a summary of their results when home-grown and outside seed wheat were compared: "It is a common practice for big grain growers to send away annually for seed wheat. In this manner large quantities of seed wheat are annually imported into the intermountain region, under the mistaken impression that the home-grown seed is inferior in quality. The results of this investigation, therefore, are of utmost practical importance. The practice of shipping in seed wheat is entirely unnecessary and wasteful. The quality of the home-grown hard wheats is really superior to the original seed. Good pure wheat seed should be selected of the kind the grower desires to raise. He should then continue to raise his own seed and with proper selection he may rest assured that the quality of the seed will not become inferior, but he may have every confidence that his wheat is of superior quality."

Deterioration of "Running Out" of Seed Wheat.

The above results from three years comparison of home-grown and northern grown seed wheat clearly indicate that home-grown seed are preferable. If this be true what does cause deterioration in seed wheat? The condition known as deterioration or "running out" of seed wheat is usually due to poor care of the seed. Too often our wheat fields are infested with wild onions, cheat, mustard, and other weeds. Wheat containing seed of such weeds is unfit for seed purposes. Wheat that is damaged in the field, stored wet, or stored in damp bins will soon become unfit for seed purposes. Such conditions would cause deterioration of seed wheat in any section of the country.

How Can One Secure the Best Seed Wheat?

The best variety of wheat for a section is one that has been chosen on account of its high yield and quality, and then further improved in the locality by selecting seed from the best plants. One can easily select sufficient good seed from a field to plant a seed patch. A small seed patch could be kept free from wild onions and mixtures of other grains. By this method one could be sure of producing the best seed for his section.

What Can Be Done Now.

The high price of wheat is likely to result in a shortage of home-grown seed for planting this fall. This may be avoided by saving the best seed now. Growers who have good seed should have the best for planting this fall. Seedsmen of the state who have not yet collected their supply should use every effort to secure the best North Carolina grown seed. Millers who have good seed wheat grown in the state may benefit themselves and the growers of their community by saving the best seed.

COTTON GRADING SERVICE IS NOW VERY IMPORTANT

ABNORMAL TIMES DEMAND THAT ALL COTTON IN NORTH CAROLINA BE GRADED.

By O. J. McConnell, Cotton Grading Division of Markets, Agricultural Extension Service, West Raleigh, N. C.

It will probably be surprising to the farmers in those counties not having the grading service last season to learn that more than one-half of the cotton raised in North Carolina last year was better than Middling. The mills bought this cotton as being better than middling and probably paid $500,000 more for it than they would have paid for middling. Did the farmers in your county get better than the Middling price for more than one-half their cotton? Or the answer to this question depends on the answer to whether it will pay your county to secure the services of an official grader. The cost to the counties is very low, varying in amount with the number of bales produced. The actual grading is done by men in the joint employ of the State and Federal Agricultural authorities, but some assistance from counties is necessary and the following amounts will be required from each county served:

- Alamance, $10; Alexander, $20; Anson, $25; Beaufort, $100; Bertie, $100; Bladen, $100; Brunswick, $10; Cabarrus, $100; Camden, $25; Carteret, $20; Catawba, $75; Chatham, $75; Chowan, $50; Cleveland, $200; Columbus, $100; Craven, $75; Cumberland, $250; Currituck, $10; Davidson, $10; Davie, $15; Duplin, $100; Durham, $10; Edgecombe, $250; Franklin, $100; Gaston, $75; Gates, $50; Granville, $10; Greene, $100; Halifax, $250; Harnett, $200; Hertford, $100; Johnston, $250; Jones, $75; Lee, $75; Lenoir, $150; Lincoln, $75; Martin, $100; Mecklenburg, $250; Montgomery, $50; Moore, $25; Nash, $250; Northampton, $175; Onslow, $75; Orange, $10; Pamlico, $75; Pasquotank, $50; Pender, $25; Perquimans, $75; Pitt, $250; Polk, $10; Randolph, $10; Richmond, $175; Robeson, $250; Rowan, $75; Rutherford, $100; Sampson, $250; Scotland, $250; Stanly, $75; Tyrrell, $10; Union, $250; Vance, $25; Wake, $210; Warren, $100; Washington, $25; Wayne, $250; Wilson, $250.

It now appears that owing to the growing freight congestion North Carolina mills will be compelled to use more cotton that is grown locally than has been the case heretofore. Farmers who have had their cotton officially graded will be in much better position to reap the benefits that this should bring about than those who are "selling a pig in a poke" insofar as they are concerned.

The grading service gives the foundation for successful marketing, viz., standardization according to a universal standard. Standardization provided, only one prime requisite remains--Quantity--which can be obtained by pooling or selling together.

It cannot be too strongly impressed upon all concerned that the cotton grading service is merely applying one of business' efficient methods to the farmers end of the proposition and that to get good service proper provision must be made in time to enable the Cotton Grading office to prepare to render it.

Enquiries relative to Cotton Grading and Marketing will receive prompt attention if directed to O. J. McConnell, Agricultural Extension Service.
