

You Need Your Eyes

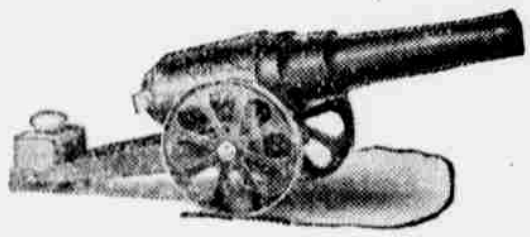

The only way you can have them is to take care of them. It is too late after they are ruined.

If you have trouble come in and have them examined. If glasses are needed, I will prescribe some that will preserve your eyes and make your work easy and pleasant.

Watch Inspector for Southern and C. and N.-W. Railways.

The above is a cut of a miniature cannon of the latest type exhibited in my window.

I am preparing to do more and better business, and the cannon represents that the experience and skill of the man behind the counter justifies my watch hospital and scientific optical business against competition. With Coville's Ophthalmic cabinet and electric lights I can fit the same by day or night. My service in both lines is the best to be had regardless. I lead in original work.

For Guests

Yesterday afternoon in honor of her charming house guests, Misses Claudia Wilson and Durham, Marshall of Manchester-by-the-Sea, Miss Elizabeth Holbrook entertained with three tables of auction. Table prizes, boxes of correspondence cards were won by Misses Helen Springs, Lenore Sourbeer, and Louise Coleman. To the honor guests were given lovely crepe-de-chine handkerchiefs. A delicious salad course was served after the game. Miss Holbrook was assisted in serving by Mrs. W. E. McRorie, Miss Janie Lyster and Miss Margaret Holbrook. Those playing were Miss Wilson, Miss Marshall, Misses Helen Springs, Gladys Reid, Lenore Sourbeer, Mary Allen, Louise Coleman, Frances Geitner, Virginia Allen, Louise Jones and Mrs. J. Clarence Yount of Newton and Mrs. M. Loy Bolick.

NEWTON AND CATAWBA SEND FIGHTERS AWAY

Newton, Sept. 20.—Newton and a good part of Catawba county turned out en masse here yesterday to bid farewell to the county's second contribution of young men to Uncle Sam's mammoth selective draft army. The Red Cross society of Newton had the entertainment in charge. At the noon hour a sumptuous dinner was served under the great oaks on the court square. More than 40 young men from all parts of the county entrained at 3:08 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Camp Jackson at Columbia, S. C. A large crowd of relatives and friends were at the station to see them off. They left over the C. and N.-W. railroad. It is reported that one young man cut off two of his fingers the first of the week to keep from going to war. He was chopping kindling when the hatchet slipped cutting off two fingers on his left hand. He wasn't excused and had to go along with the other boys.

The graded schools of Newton turned out en masse to bid the soldier boys adieu. There were 500 children in the parade. The children sang several patriotic songs.

NEARLY 500 STUDENTS TAKE MILITARY COURSE

Chapel Hill, Sept. 20.—Long lines of university students in uniform filing out to the Emerson athletic field at 8 o'clock each morning now afford striking evidence of the interest that is being taken from the start of the new courses in military training at the university. Close to 500 students are now taking the training. The arrival of Capt. J. Stuart Allen has served to put new life into the corps and the drills have been entered upon with much zest.

This week Captain Allen has been giving vivid pictures in his lectures of actual fighting conditions on the western front, as he has seen and experienced them. Methods of trench construction, bombs and grenades, dugouts, and other topics have been explained in detail. Yesterday the nature of gas attacks was set forth and types of gas masks were exhibited by Captain Allen. He told of the fighting around Vimy Ridge and the methods by which it was captured.

Before very long work will begin in actual trench construction, bayonet warfare, rifle practice and the use of various devices of modern warfare. Platoon drill was inaugurated Tuesday.

The Horseford bridge, the Record is requested to announce, will be ready for traffic Saturday morning. The bridge will charge reasonable tolls until the completion of the concrete bridge, some 60 days distant.

AMUSEMENTS

SPECIAL AT PASTIME TODAY

The special attraction at the Pastime this afternoon and tonight is "As Men Love," a five part Paramount picture featuring House Peters and Myrtle Stedman. The following is the story: Keith Gordon, a wealthy architect, and Paul Russell, a noted physician, have been the best friends from boyhood. Diana, Keith's wife, is a society butterfly and thinks herself in love with Paul. Keith's little sister, Marjorie, comes to spend the winter with them and Paul, who has known her from childhood, falls in love with her. The two are mutually attracted.

Paul overhears Paul's proposal to Marjorie—her jealousy is still more aroused, and she throws herself into Paul's arms declaring her love and is discovered by Keith. To save Keith's faith in his wife Paul takes the blame upon himself and is ordered from the house. Diana becomes reckless, leads Marjorie into fast society and the two are going a merry pace with the social parasites until Paul, in answer to an emergency call from a gambling palace, discovers them and threatens to disclose the truth about the scene Keith discovered if Diana does not take Marjorie away and behave herself.

There is a wave of infantile paralysis over the city and Paul by his methods is able to save a number of cases. Diana's little girl is stricken and she is advised to send for Paul. Keith sees Paul as he is leaving the house and upbraids him, refusing to have him attempt to save the child's life. Diana then shows the note Paul had previously written and which has been seen by Marjorie and the past is obliterated.

WHAT to WEAR and WHEN

For the man who can afford an expensive wardrobe, we offer every individual type of garb from the ordinary sack suit for business to ultra formal wear for state occasions. For the man who cannot afford these luxuries, we offer styles that are a composite of correctness for diverse occasions.

Of course, we cannot make a sport suit serve at a wedding dinner, but we can suggest combinations of style and fabric that will make your suit or overcoat correct as well for business as for sports or semi-formal occasions. In the "Who's Who" of the clothing world

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY

An Ambition and a Record

THE needs of the South are identical with the needs of the Southern Railway: the growth and success of one means the upbuilding of the other.

The Southern Railway asks no favors—no special privilege not accorded to others.

The ambition of the Southern Railway Company is to see that the public and the railroad are benefited by the most liberal and generous terms of service which involve the confidence of governmental agencies; to realize that liberality of treatment which will enable it to obtain the additional capital needed for the acquisition of better and more modern facilities incident to the demand for increased and better service, and, finally—

To take its niche in the busy politics of the South alongside of other great industries, with no more, but with equal liberties, equal rights and equal opportunities.
