"MR. TURKEY" GOT REPRIEVE

American Woman's Respect for Age Led Her to Forego the Prospective Thanksgiving Feast.

Miss H—, the matron of a girls' mission school on the island of Kuisie, one of the Carolines, relates this story:

She had often told her island charges about the customs of her own native land, and was highly pleased upon receiving in invitation to a Thanksgiving dinner, to be held on a neighboring island and given by one of her graduates, who had proudly specified that roast turkey would be on the bill of fare.

Miss H— was delighted, and told her pupils so. Whereupon one of them arose and said:

"It gives me great pleasure to think of your coming joy, Miss H—, though it gives me pain, also, to think of losing Mr. Turkey from our midst. I have been accustomed to seeing that turkey on our island for many years, he being the only resident turkey we have there. But if in his ripe old age he is to be eaten, I'm sure, Miss H—, Mr. Turkey would rather be eaten by you than by any other person."

Convinced that his death would be an undesirable sacrifice, Miss H— sent her hostess word that she preferred seeing Mr. Turkey to eating him.

DIFFERENCES IN CAT FAMILY

Physiological Reason Why Lions, and Others of the Tribe Are Unable to Purr.

A lion, while an accredited member of the cat family, cannot purr, however happy he may be when you stroke him, because the hyoid bone in his throat is loose. He has to roar.

This is one of a number of interesting things discovered about the cat family recently by scientists at the London Zoo. R. I. Pocock, superintendent of the zoo, explains that those feline or cat family that have an elastic ligament between the ceratohyal and the upper elements of the suspensorium (lion, tiger, leopard, jaguar) roar, but never purr, while all the other species of the feline, with normally constructed hyoids, purr, but never roar, and among these are the cheetah and puma.

CONGREGATIONALISTS MEET

By the Associated Press. Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 10.—Practically all of the leading Congregational ministers of the country and many of the lay leaders of the country were here today for a convention of the Congregationalist church.

Mr. P. E. Reinhardt, who conducted a pressing club, has combined his business with the City Pressing Club, to be known by the latter name, and headquarters will be in the rear of Dietz' barber shop, Mr. Reinhardt's old stand. The other partners in the business are Messrs. E. W. Berry and J. M. Ramsour.

The Record has spoken frequently of Dr. Murphy's farming, but that was on hearsay. Today the Record can testify that he grows mighty good green corn and snap beans, for a goodly quantity of his product was left at this office today.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. C. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work.

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui. . .

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134

COOL HEADS SAVED LIVES OF MANY PERSONS

Cool heads and a little common sense probably saved the lives and limbs of several hundred persons, as usual mostly women and children, in Raleigh recently when burning insulation on electric wires filled a motion picture theatre with smoke. The theatre has a seating capacity of about 800 and it was crowded. When there were indications of fire nobody got excited and the theatre was emptied without incident. Concerning the incident The Raleigh Times carried the following editorial:

"An unpleasant incident which marred the first exhibition of the Red Cross films, the tanks in action, Monday afternoon nevertheless served to display a quality in Raleigh people that is deserving of the highest praise.

"The Strand Theatre was crowded, practically every seat on floor and in gallery, when a pungent smell was succeeded by wisps of vapor creeping along the ceiling. Some few rose from their seats and made for the door. The audience as a whole—very largely composed of women and children—remained in their seats. Those who had started to leave returned. The pictures continued to be flashed upon the screen. The piano accompaniment never hesitated. The crowd smiled at its temporary nervousness. Then it came! The smell increased in pungency, ribbons of smoke became darker clouds that commenced to fill the theatres and to make the air stifling. It was only then that the crowd began to move—but without suggestion of fright, in order, without undue pushing or crowding. It was as if the program were complete and the audience filing out after uninterrupted entertainment.
