GERMAN MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT AT FRONT
By the Associated Press.
Rotterdam, Netherlands.—In so far as Germany is concerned, the German government evidently means to do away with the anomaly that the majority of members of belligerent parliaments have no first-hand knowledge of what real war is. It is sending the members of the reichstag on visits to the front in parties of eight. Within three months it is expected that every member will have been given the opportunity of making such a trip.

Held scoreless during the first half, while their opponents ran up nine points, Hickory came back strong in the final period and scored 13 points, but could not overcome the big lead. Eaton and Johnson were the best scorers for Hickory, while B. D. Dussart excelled for Lenoir. The Hickory team left today for Boone for a game tonight with the high school at that place. Next Friday the Lenoir high will be played in Hickory.

WAR ACTIVITIES IN WASHINGTON EXPLAINED

Washington, Nov. 24.—The population of the city of Washington has increased at least 50,000 since the war began. It is natural that the capital city, the center of government activities, should show this marked effect of the most extensive preparation for war ever undertaken by any country. A steady stream of new appointees to the great civilian army pours into the city; the streets hum with activity; everybody is busy and earnest; on every hand the sure signs of a competent organization, with a fixed purpose.

At the request of the United States civil service commission the Washington Chamber of Commerce has undertaken the work of directing to suitable rooming and boarding places the new arrivals who are not acquainted in the city. Hundreds of desirable rooms, with or without board, are listed, and at very moderate rates. Application for accommodations can be made by new appointees through correspondence before leaving home or by calling at the office of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, No. 611 Twelfth street, N. W., upon their arrival in Washington.

Stenographers and typewriters make up a large part of the additions to the force at Washington. Thousands have been appointed and thousands more are needed. Ship draftsmen for the navy department, mechanical draftsmen for the service generally, and statisticians and what are known as clerks qualified in business administration, clerks qualified in statistics or accounting index and catalogue clerks, but not acquainted in the city. Hundreds of clerks for the ordinance department of the army are also in great demand. Representatives of the United States civil service commission at the postoffice in all cities are furnished detailed information concerning positions at Washington in which workers are needed.

GREAT VICTORY IN FRANCE

front of some 12 miles, while the line has been broken, though not so deeply, for a full width of 30 or 33 miles, and the struggle continues with unabated vigor and determination. Cambrai may fall at any moment, has practically already fallen into the hands of the allies. It will be of intense interest to watch the effects of this thunderstroke upon the Germans and Austrians in their drive in Italy. It can not fail to give the invaders a shock. That it has done so to a certain extent is made evident by the hastily rushing of fresh troops across Germany for the western front. These reinforcements are really sent to attack France by the treacherous insurgents of Russia. It is not probable, however, that they will arrive in time to prevent the allies from gaining their immediate objectives, and will not long, if at all delay the blow that is to crush the German line at a vital point on the route across Belgium.

Better news is coming from Italy also, although the British official observer, General Maurice, warns us against being too confident of the safety of Venice. The Italian Commander-in-Chief, General Diaz, seems quite able to slow down the Teuton advance to the stopping point, and this must soon be reached with the aid of French and British reinforcements with more munitions and big guns and an unshaken and unshakable morale.

In the theatre of war in Palestine the British under their brilliant leader, General Allenby, have repeatedly routed the Turks, and are now in sight of Jerusalem. The fall of this city, which may come at any hour—may have already occurred—will be a great blow to the Turks, next, indeed, to the loss of Constantinople, itself. Here again the British official observer warns us not to be too sure of the immediate capture of the Holy City. The Turks, however, appear to be too much broken to stop the British and we are ready for the next great thrill of the triumph of the allied arms against Turks and Teutons.
