WEST HICKORY BAND

IN MOVIE BUSINESS
West Hickory, Dec. 4.—The West Hickory band has bought the moving picture show at the new hall.
The band only had charge for a few days and it seems everything is moving on fine. Mr. P. D. Short is the general manager and Mr. Short is usually successful in all his undertakings and consequently we hope he will make a success with the movies as that will help the band boys in keeping up their work.

Mr. Will Fisher and wife of Chester, Pa., spent several days here last week with Mr. Fisher's sister, Mrs. J. A. Williams.
Miss Donnie Mace of Morganton is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. J.
Lackey.

Mrs. M. E. Leonard, an aged lady died here Monday, Nov. 26, at the home of her son, Mr. T. J. Leonard, at the advanced age of 81 years, 9 months and 12 days. She had been in feeble health for several months and her death was not wholly unexpected. She was buried at Sardis Evangelical Lutheran church Tuesday where she had held her membership for many years. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. A.
Deaton, D. D.

Mr. D. R. Leonard of Altavista, Va., spent several days here the past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Leonard.

Miss Vessie Cook of Morganton is here at present visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. W. P. Austin's father and mother spent Saturday here with their son. T. J. L.

KIDNEY TROUBLE NOT EASILY RECOGNIZED

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected
An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, minimum and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Bing-hampton, N. Y., for a sample bottle.

INSANITARY SCHOOL HOUSES HELD TO BLAME

"Something must be done for the school houses since they are said to be to blame for so many of the unit young men found by the examination inadequate to the selective draft," says the state board of health. "Dr. J.
A. Nydgerger of the United States public health service says that in-sanitary and neglected conditions of rural schoolhouses are responsible for 75 per cent of the physical defects which are today barring men from the United States forces.
School houses in the country are apparently worse to blame than those in the city. Overheating at times, underheating at times and underventilation all the time were the three conditions most at fault.

"School houses must be made more than air tight boxes," says the state board of health. "A safe temperature is one kept around 70 degrees by the thermometer. No school room should be without a good thermometer and it should be the duty of some one to see that the temperature at no time rises far above or below 70 degrees. This degree of temperature is recommended for the children's minds as well as their health. They feel better and work better when not too warm.

This degree of heat is sufficient to keep every one warm and comfortably provided they are properly clothed, and at the same time will prevent their chilling when they go out into the open air.

"Nothing is more important in the schoolroom than fresh air. Ventilation is more essential than books.
Every school should have some arrangements whereby fresh air can be admitted freely without chilling the pupils. Fortunately for the school children of North Carolina, because of our mild climate this can be done, through the windows, especially if the windows are provided with deflectors. These are wide boards or pieces of glass as long as the window is wide placed slantwise in front of an open window on the sill, which turn the current of air upward into the room, thus avoiding drafts or direct currents. Windows should be kept lowered from the top. School rooms should be well aired out at each recess."

"Of course good lighting which comes only from plenty of windows is equally important to avoid eye strains and inefficient work. No decent school will now tolerate the common towel or the common drinking cup, neither will it have other than sanitary toilets. Provision should be made for washing the hands after each recess."

THE INTER-ALLIED WAR COUNCIL SESSIONS END

Paris, Dec. 4.—The inter-allied war conference was closed with a brief address by Colonel House, chairman of the American mission.
Colonel House, who delivered the closing address at the request of Premier Clemenceau, said:

"M. Clemenceau, the president of the French council, in welcoming the delegates to this conference, declared that we had met to work. His words were prophetic. There has been coordination and a unity of purpose which promise great results for the future. It is my deep conviction that by this unity and by concentrating efforts we shall be able to arrive at the goal which we have set out to reach.

"In behalf of my colleagues I want to avail myself of this occasion to thank the officials of the French government, and through them the French people, for the warm welcome and great consideration they have shown us. In coming to France we have felt that we were coming to the house of our friends. Ever since our government was founded there has been a bond of interest and sympathy between us—a sympathy which this war has fanned into a passionate admiration. The history of France is a history of courage and sacrifice. Therefore the great deeds which have illuminated the last three years came as no surprise to us of America. We knew that when called upon France would rise to a splendid achievement and would add lustre to her name.

"America salutes France and her heroic sons and feels honored to fight by the side of so gallant a comrade."

A CARD OF THANKS

We hereby wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their help and for their many kind acts extended to us during the sickness and death of our mother and grand mother, with deepest gratitude.

SHIPBUILDING AFTER THE WAR

The demand for ships will not end with the cessation of hostilities; it should, indeed, be of greater magnitude than is generally believed. For many of the older vessels now impressed into service must be relegated to the scrapheap while the wastage of war as it effects vessels of all classes, must be made good. It is by no means certain that standardized vessels, soon to be launched in large numbers, will meet the needs of commerce under conditions of peace, although they are well suited to meet the emergencies of war.
Many new fields of trade, now lying fallow, must be entered, and these will require vessels of special type, designed and altered from time to time as experience demands. Moreover, our yards may expect orders from other countries for tonnage to which must be added the requirement of our own passenger traffic throughout the world.

One result of the activities of the emergency fleet corporation's engineers, in combination with those of the shipbuilding companies has been elimination of much unskilled labor and the substitution therefor of modern machinery. Hence, with steel and coal abundant and virtually at the back door of the yards, our ship-builders may look for a period of real competition and have little fear of being underbid in the market. The old theory that shipbuilding is an art handed down from one generation to another no longer holds good. Not only in the United States, but in other countries, men who knew nothing about the building of ships four years ago, are now launching vessels today, and we are witnessing a revolution in the industry and may flatter ourselves that new methods created on this side of the Atlantic will supplant those in vogue before the war

AN ARMISTICE WAS AGREED TO SATURDAY, SAYS BERLIN

Amsterdam, Dec. 4.—An armistice was agreed to Saturday with the Russian army, according to a Berlin dispatch. It was to begin at 10 o'clock on the evening of Sunday, when hostilities were to be stopped and arrangements made concerning intercourse between the lines, troop movements in the trenches and work and air activity.
Forty-eight hours' notice was fixed for denunciation of the armistice, which covers the territory from the south bank of the Pripet to south of the Lipa.

VLADIMIR SCHNEUR ALSO WORKED IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, Dec. 4.—Vladimir Schneur, said to have been a German spy, and now a member of the Bolshevik peace commission, was formerly a waiter and elevator operator in San Francisco, according to the Russian consul-general.
Schneur had been here an exile from Russia, about a year previous to the revolution which deposed former Czar Nicholas, attaches of the con-sulate said.

During the time he was here, Schneur continued his activities in behalf of the Russian revolution, and was a prominent leader of the San Francisco society for cooperation with the Russian revolution, it was said at the consulate. Nearly all members of the society have since returned to Russia.

What A Man Wants for Christmas

(PRINTED IN THE DESIRE TO SERVE WOMEN)

WHEN a man wants to be "dead sure" of the right thing for a woman's Christmas gift, he goes to a woman's store; there he sees what women buy for themselves, and gets the expert advice of other women.

The rule works both ways, and the resourceful woman seeks out a man's store and the advice of other men.

This is a store for men; it sells the things a man enjoys owning; the things he gets for himself. And it's a place for both men and women to buy gifts for men.

Our stock is generous and varied: Hart Schaffner and Marx suits and overcoats, of course; shirts, hats, a new array of ties, suit cases, bags and toilet sets, sundry bags and leather goods.

There are many others, some that you will think of at once, others you'll appreciate having called to your attention. That is where we can be of service to you; we can share the advantage of our acquaintance with men.
We'll be glad to do it.
