TO CONSERVE WOOL WEAR ALL-WOOL

LET no man think he is conserving wool by wearing part-cotton clothes—wool adulterated is only good material gone to waste.... Instead of buying poorer suits and more of them—buy better suits and fewer of them.... For clothesmaking as it is done in the Kirschbaum shops means better looking, longer wearing clothes—means wool conservation in its only genuine sense. Kirschbaum suits - - $20 to $40

AN AGED MAN SAYS SLEEPING IN CHAIR IS NOT A SUCCESS

He Has Tried This Method for Over Twenty-five Years And Now Says For Purposes Of Rest A Horizontal Position in Bed Beats Dragging the Body Over a Chair.

There never has been but one satisfactory manner discovered for sleeping, and that is with the body in a horizontal position in a bed, and any effort to change this method defeats one of nature's most important purposes.

One of Raleigh's well known citizens, Mr. J. P. Pool, 708 Hargett St., says that he has been forced to spend many nights trying to sleep on a chair. Mr. Pool says: "I could not sleep lying flat on my back and had to get up and try to sleep sitting in a chair. This was due to a severe case of liver and stomach trouble, from which I had suffered for twenty-five years. I was also unable to eat meat and suffered intense pains in my shoulders, and at times these pains were so severe that I would fall over."

"My son recently gave me a bottle of Peplac and now, for the first time in twenty-five years, I can sleep peacefully in bed, free from pain. I can eat meat and vegetables three times a day. I am sixty four years old, but Peplac has made a new man of me. Now, in addition to looking after my grocery business, I can plow and am feeling fine and happy."

The merits of this great constructive will be gladly explained at Hickory Drug Company where it is recommended and sold.
