WAR OF POSITIONS AGAIN ESTABLISHED IN FRANCE

Momentum of Teuton Drive Stops After Striking Stiffened Lines of Allies—Small Attacks Made in Isolated Sectors Are Down.

Other War News Today

By the Associated Press.

German masses no longer hurl themselves on the allied lines along the front. The momentum of the advance of last week has been exhausted itself in the yielding lines of the British and French which now have advanced and are holding the foe except in the insignificant gains here and there especially along the front between Soissons to the west and the Chemin des Dames. The struggle apparently is changing from a war of positions to a war of positions.

Official reports show that the Germans are launching their assaults on the Chemin des Dames and near the Meuse. Isolated points of vantage were taken roughly from the front to five miles apart along the Meuse which includes ground where the Americans have established themselves and have fought the Germans. The French official statement says the Teutons were repulsed.

The report of operations along the front continues to show activity on the part of the Germans. A counter-attack between the Ancre and the Somme, south of Albert, the Germans, supported by heavy artillery, attempted to raid the British positions, but were repulsed, leaving prisoners in the hands of the British.

Details of the fighting in which American units have taken part show the General Pershing's men have fought the battle with a spirit which is magnificent. In their defense of the Marne they repulsed the enemy with their rifles and machine guns. The Germans from across the Meuse are also repulsed. The northern part of the Chemin des Dames into No Man's Land. The Germans no longer are able to hold their positions from the storm of American machine gun bullets, and have withdrawn to the outskirts of this section of the city.

U-Boat Raids Can't Prevent

By the Associated Press.

Washington, June 5.—Whatever the purpose of the submarine raid on the Atlantic coast and whatever the number of submarines that may come to American waters hereafter there will be no check in the flow of American men and supplies to Europe, Secretary Daniels said today.

"The great duty of our navy," he said, "is to keep open the door to France, to carry our men and munitions to the great battle front and to guard food supplies to our beleaguered allies. That has been accomplished thus far and we will continue to send men and supplies in undiminished quantities."

The navy department had no further advice at noon today from the patrol fleet hunting down the submarine that was last seen off the Maryland and Delaware coasts.

More Details of Big Scrap

By the Associated Press.

Continuing their advance they engaged the Germans at close quarters and drove them back on the ruins of the village.

In a sharp contest marked by the fierceness of the allied machine gun fire, French and American troops almost wiped out German detachments that crossed the Marne near Jaulgonne, east of Chateau Thierry. Most of the enemy survivors were rounded up in small groups and made prisoners.

HOME GUARDS DRILL IN NEW UNIFORMS

The home guards made their appearance on the streets last night in their new uniforms and for an hour and a half were put through the stiffest kind of exercising by Lieutenant Council. The men were given about half an hour's real work in the armory, after which they marched out Fifteenth street, back up to the square and then down Thirtieth street where some new movements were begun. In the old formations the guards needed little coaching and they marched with measured tread. The double time business got the goat of some of the fellows, and after one of these runs you could hear heavy breathing.

The calisthenics were given on Thirtieth street. A crowd had gathered here and the men knew they were not shining as they tried to make themselves do these stunts. One good thing, however, is that the uniforms give a sameness to the members. It was hard to pick out an individual in the company.

Captain Abernethy urged better attendance. There were only three squads out last night and there should have been five. This is now the way to have a military company, and the captain urged each member to bring the absent one next time.

LINCOLNTON MAN MADE TO KISS U. S. FLAG

Lincolnton, June 5.—S. P. Hauser, an alleged pro-German, was taken in hand by a crowd of Lincolnton people this morning, given rather rough treatment and made to kiss the American flag in the public square.

Hauser is said to have gloated over the presence of German submarines off the Jersey coast and to have expressed the hope that they would be successful. He was waited upon by citizens and made to declare his loyalty publicly.

A large crowd witnessed the exercises.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT

Lincolnton, June 5.—S. P. Hauser, has been making pro-German remarks and gloating over the recent German victories, so that practically all citizens of Lincolnton met last night and decided to compel him to salute the flag and read a public apology.

This is the first measure taken by the citizens of Lincolnton to stamp out pro-Germanism from the town and county.

Mr. Frank F. Allen is expected home today from Raleigh, where he enlisted in the navy.

UNARMED CAROLINA TOLD NOT TO USE WIRELESS

But 19-year-old Chief Operator, Despite Warning, Flashed S. O. S Before His Captain Accepted Conditions—Only 29 Persons Now Missing From This Steamer

By the Associated Press.

New York, June 5.—"Don't use your wireless and we won't shoot," is the newest "made-in-Germany" war slogan under which the emperor's submarine commanders are carrying their campaign of frightfulness into America's Atlantic waters, according to the 250 survivors who were brought to this port today aboard a schooner.

The Carolina was destroyed by U-boat gunfire 50 miles off the Delaware capes Sunday afternoon.

Stories told by passengers and crew of the sunken vessel indicated that Edwin Vogel of New York City, the ship's 19-year-old chief wireless operator, played a spectacular part in the raid on the vessel.

When the submarine message, "Don't use wireless—we won't shoot," Vogel definitely repeated his S. O. S. signals which he had already begun flashing and was on the verge of answering queries from the Cape May and other stations for the Carolina's position, when Capt. D. R. Barber, Vogel's commander, ordered him to quit his key, and see whether the Germans would keep their pledge, passengers declared.

Captain Barber said he decided to accept the proposition laid down by the U-boat skipper, because he believed disobedience meant forfeiture of the lives of the passengers.

Arrival of the 250 survivors here today, 156 of whom were passengers and 94 members of the crew, apparently leaves 29 persons to be accounted for.

Local Fighting Won by French

By the Associated Press.

Paris, June 5.—The Germans continued local attacks last evening and during the night on the main battle front, the war office announced today. The attacks on the French line at Carlepoint wood, Donniers, Courcy and in the neighborhood of Chevy failed.

In the region north of Courcy an action by the French infantry, assisted by tanks, rectified the French line on the borders of the forest.
