Mr. Herbert Penland, who for nearly three years has been fireman on the switch engine in Hickory, leaves today for special training at a station in New Jersey. He enlisted last week in the engineers' division.

There will be plenty of rain this month, according to the moon. Mr. P. Augustus Setzer squinted at this orb and says stuff will grow a little later. And then to make sure, the reporter knows where a house is being re-covered.

The Record's reporter reported today the loss of a $2.15 frying-size chicken, which a gentleman flattened out with his automobile yesterday afternoon. If the gentlemen will leave $1.45 at this office, no suit for damages will be instituted.

Mrs. W. L. Miller has received a letter from her son, Grover Miller, who has received his commission as second lieutenant. Lieutenant Miller is stationed in the Philippines, but expects to be transferred to China.

Miss Effie Herman has received two cards from her brother, Mr. Oliver C. Herman, saying he had arrived safely over seas and was well and having a fine time. The home folks are glad to know of the safe arrival of their son and brother.

Mr. Julius Abernethy and Miss Francis Schrum, Miss Mabel Bacon and Mr. J. W. Hollingsworth and family motored to Blowing Rock Sunday. The breezes were delightful and the roads excellent, they report.—Newton Enterprise.

The Greensboro News today reports the arrival in France of the 105th engineers, a card having been received from a member of the engineers. No word has been received here, it is said, as to the arrival of the engineers.

The other evening when Mr. and Mrs. Worth Elliott and Miss Johnson were sitting on the porch they saw a little red pig appear on the lawn. It escaped from somebody's safe, Mr. Elliott remarked, while Mrs. Elliott went out for a closer inspection. The pig disappeared as suddenly as it appeared, and Mr. Elliott is not quite sure whether it was an apparition or an illusion.

THE SLICK REPORTER

Dead Line. There's a certain eastern newspaper editor who—like many others in other sections—had a notice stuck up above his desk, reading "Accuracy, Accuracy, Accuracy!" And this notice he always pointed out to new reporters.

One day the youngest member of the staff came in with his report of a public meeting. The editor read it through, and came to the sentence, "Three thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine eyes were fixed on the speaker."

"What do you mean by making a silly blunder like that?" he demanded wrathfully. "But it's not a blunder," protested the youngster. "There was a one-eyed man in the audience."

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there. I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better. In fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic. Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists. NC-137

MOTHER SHIP MAY BE WITH THE SUBMARINES

Norfolk, Va., June 11.—Survivors of the American freighter Pinar Del Rio, arriving here from Manteo, N. C., said the German submarine which sank their vessel 110 miles northeast of Cape Henry last Saturday morning, after a stern chase of more than an hour, was accompanied by a large steamer which they believed to be a "mother ship." They also asserted that after their vessel was sent down by gunfire, the submersible sank two American sailing vessels.

Walter B. Burrows, first assistant engineer of the Pinar Del Rio, described the craft accompanying the submarine as a vessel of about 6,000 gross tons, with a single funnel amid-ship. She was painted grey and stood some two or three miles in the offing while the submarine sank the Rio. When the American craft went down, the submarine signalled the vessel in international code "follow me," and the U-boat and her consort steamed away.

According to the survivors, the first of the sailing craft attacked by the submarine after she had destroyed the Rio was a ship, which the second was a schooner. They knew nothing as to the fate of the two crews, but assumed that the men were allowed to take to the small boats as were the captain and 33 men of the Rio's crew.

William L. Clark, of the naval reserves, who said he was aboard the Rio in training for service as an officer on a merchant vessel, asserted that the submarine fired six shots at the Rio before the American craft stopped.

Both Burrows and Clark said the submarine was about 250 feet long with what appeared to be about six inch calibre rifles mounted fore and aft. The U-boat, they said, was painted a light grey and appeared to be weather and sea worn.

WHAT DID YOU?

When the war has been won, When our duty is done, When our sailors come sailing the foam;

When our men of the air And the guns over there All the nation is welcoming home; They will come to your door, The young winners of war, They will look you up, over and through.

And in word or in thought, They will ask, like us not: "Well we did quite a lot—What did you?"

When the years have gone by, And the pages are dry That the story of struggle record; With democracy sure, When we're living secure In the strength of our soul and our sword—

In that glorious time To your knee there will climb Then a boy or a girl, or the two, And will say, "Some were brave On the land and the wave. Some their everything gave—What did you?"

Or it may be at night, Of a fire in a home that is free. You will sit all alone Neath a roof of your own In some year of the future to be, And a voice down inside Will say, "Some of them did, Or they suffered their duty to do, And the ones who could not Give their money—say, what, What did you?" —Douglas Malloch.

AT PASTIME TOMORROW

The special attraction at the Pastime tomorrow will be Viola Dana a five act Metro screen drama in "Breakers Ahead." There are always breakers ahead for each one of us on life's sea, but if we can learn to break them as successfully as Ruth Bowman did in this stirring tale of the sea, the mysteries of the great deep will hold no terrors for us. Viola Dana has a capital role as Ruth, whose parentage is unknown but whose sweetness and charm win for her the love of young Eric Pixley. And when he tries to save "The Wasp" from being burned to the water's edge, she finds in the the ashes of the blazing ship the father she has never known, as well as a husband. Its a corking story.

SECRET DIPLOMACY VS. OPEN DIPLOMACY ARGUED

Washington, June 11.—Secret diplomacy versus open diplomacy was argued at length in the senate during consideration of the rule proposed by Senator Underwood to limit sense debate during the war, with an amendment by Senator Borah, of Idaho, for public consideration of treaties.

Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the foreign relations committee; Senator Lodge, ranking Republican of that committee, and Senator Knox joined in opposing the Borah amendment, which was upheld by the author and Senator Kellogg.

The opponents declared that the principal evil of secret diplomacy is secrecy concerning treaties actually consummated, which does not obtain in this country. Senator Knox said negotiation of treaties in public is impractical; that statements made in open discussion might prejudice the nation's interests.

Senator Borah insisted that the peace treaty to end the world war must be made with all the peoples of all the nations concerned having full information and giving their approval to the terms, while Senator Kellogg declared that the country could not afford to go on record now in favor of secret diplomacy.

IVEY DOTS. West Hickory, June 11.—The continued dry weather has about stopped the growth of the garden vegetables and it seems that the bean crop especially is going to be rather short. About 25 or 30 of the new draper looms at the Ivey Mill have warped and are ready for running, and the others are being placed and tuned up at a rapid rate. It looks like something will sure be doing at the Ivey in a few days.

ROOSEVELT PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE TO LEONARD WOOD. St. Louis, Mo., June 11.—Theodore Roosevelt, delivering his patriotic message before a large audience here last night, added to his set speech a tribute to Major General Leonard Wood and demanded the death penalty for proven traitors. "If the United States had followed the advice of Major General Leonard Wood two or three years ago," Roosevelt said, "there would have been 2,000,000 men prepared and armed when war was declared."

The McDonough-Baird Co. THIRD DAY AT CHAUTAUQUA

THE McDONOUGH-BAIRD CO. These two young women have again consented to spend a summer with the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association. They were so near to the best that has ever been presented on any Chautauqua that Director Pearson decided he must secure them for this circuit, knowing that they would prove equally satisfactory as last year. Full care has no show when they are around. They are as free and natural as one could expect from the accompanying picture. If Chautauqua patrons want to thoroughly enjoy an afternoon of music and fun, they should make it a point to hear the Misses McDonough and Baird the afternoon of the third day.
