WORK IT HARPER

The Record would urge on the good people who read this paper the necessity for doing all in their power to have their friends join them in making the War Savings campaign an overwhelming success in this county.

To buy War Savings Stamps might be a strain on some of us, but it is our duty to strain for our country; there are young men who are risking all for the people back home.

Catawba county is looked up to by its sister counties throughout the state. It has a position that it cannot afford to lose.

"PARTISAN BIAS"

The "one-horse editor" will be unable to clamor up on "every stump in Catawba county" between now and November, but he hopes some of his friends will post the following on one or more stumps in the county: METROPOLITAN Office of Theodore Roosevelt

To some it may seem that the government is going rather strong in raising armies for service overseas, but we may be sure that this does not seem to be true with those men who have gone across.

Frank A. Linney, who knows his mountain people, says there is no trouble about the citizens of Ashe. They are as loyal and patriotic as the citizens in any of the counties, and they are not responsible for deserters who infect the county from three states.

In presenting Rev. W. R. Bradshaw with an automobile, the members of the First Baptist church showed appreciation for a pastor whose first consideration is their welfare.

The farmers of North Carolina have been producing crops during the past two years that would have seemed impossible a few years ago.

The French, who know as much European politics as anybody, warn the public not to take the Austrian situation too seriously. We can hope that the dual monarchy will crack, but we should not expect the subject races to strike unless they feel that they can break the bonds.

Well, pretty soon the editor will be able to take a ride as often as he likes. It is not hard to call on preacher friends for a lift. All the preachers should have automobiles.

Rhodhiss and Granite Falls will have a rally tonight and there will be stamp works.

Some seasons we are having. Everything is growing.

OUR FUTURE TRADE

The future of American foreign trade depends largely upon the participation in its benefits of a steadily increasing number of enterprises. Individually or in co-operation, the prospect of success of well-directed and sustained effort is reassuring.

Our trade must depend for its future development primarily on the efficiency of agricultural and industrial production, upon the enterprise of American merchants, manufacturers, and bankers, and upon the training of youth in our schools, colleges and universities.

The best preparation for an effective after the war trade policy is adherence to sound business principles in the regulation and restriction of trade during the war. The various Federal agencies empowered to act can assist American enterprise by the negotiation of advantageous commercial treaties, by collecting and disseminating more extensive information for foreign markets and by suggesting improved financing, selling and purchasing methods—Bankers' Monthly.

NEED OF INCOME TAX REVISION

Our present income tax law is perhaps the most absurd hodge-podge ever placed on our statute books. After several years of struggling with its intricacies, the treasury is still unable to fit it to all cases, and it throws a heavy and entirely unjust burden of detail on bankers, brokers, employers and all those who in any way handle the incomes of others.

It is certainly to be hoped that since our taxation program is to be revised the revision may be thorough enough to make both the income and the excess profits tax laws simpler and more definite.

ONE TO THREE INCHES OF SNOW IN GERMANY

London, June 28.—Snow has fallen to a depth of from one to three inches in several parts of Germany, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company. Frost has caused havoc to the fruit trees.

GASOLINE STOVES

Have you a gasoline stove in your home? If you have, you had better communicate with your insurance agent at once, and obtain a permit to use such stove. There is a regular form for the permit, and it is against regulations to have a gasoline stove without permission.

HICKORY PLUMBER THOUGHT HE NEEDED NEW PIPES

"My stomach and intestines were always full of gas and I often had severe colic attacks. The pain and soreness caused me to think I needed a new set of pipes. Since taking May's Wonderful Remedy all this has disappeared and my only trouble now is to make enough dough to buy all the food I'd like to eat."

PRUSSIAN RETROGRESSION

The Outlook. The daily papers announce that a German commission appointed to examine the decline in the birth rate in Germany has reported a recommendation for the compulsory marriage of Germans before their 20th year is passed, with a provision of financial assistance to those who refuse to comply, and penalties also for married couples who remain childless.

This is the latest, though it may not be the last, manifestation of Prussianism.

Henry Drummond has said that love is the greatest thing in the world. Love has mitigated the horrors of war, and sent the Red Cross with its missions of mercy to tent on the battlefields, by the side of the soldier; it has provided for the lame, the blind, the weak-minded, and the various handicapped in peace; it was created within the nation the spirit of regard for each other's rights and of respect for each other's opinions—the spiritual basis of democracy; it has leaped over national boundaries, and by inspiring mutual regard, and respect among men of different races and nationalities has begun to create a spirit of international brotherhood; it has expelled the spirit of abject fear from religion and substituted the spirit of loyalty and reverence; and it has proved itself the bond of perfectness in creating the family, the foundation of all social civilization, and the nursing place of love in all its various forms as justice, pity and mercy.

Prussianism has abolished humanity from war and substituted terrorism, veiling its cruelty by a pretense that the greater the terrorism the sooner the war will be over; it has avowed its disbelief in aid to the handicapped, and declared that the best service which can be rendered to the unfortunate in society is to facilitate and expedite their suicide; it has proclaimed itself the inveterate foe of liberty, equality and fraternity, and has taken up arms to abolish democracy from the earth; it has denied that there is or should be any fellowship to nations, and declared that "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," does not mean that men of different nationalities are to have any feeling of good will toward each other; it has endeavored to drive love from the pulpit and for loyal love for a heavenly Father. God of love; it has sought to substitute abject fear for Odin, god of force; and now it proposed to English love as the bond of perfectness from the home life and make the family merely a means of breeding soldiers for the state. Where further step toward making barbarians of all German Prussianism can take it is difficult to see unless it should adopt the legislation which Plutarch attributes to the Spartans and teach its young men to murder peaceful laborers in time of peace in order to accustom them to brutality in time of war.

RING MADE FROM PARTS OF DESTROYED ZEPPELIN

Mrs. D. C. Keever is the proud possessor of a finger ring made from parts of a Zeppelin that was shot down by French airmen, probably on the last great Zeppelin invasion of England, when the Zeps struck across France and ran into hard luck—for them. Mr. A. F. Keever of Newport News, who was here on a visit to his mother, left the ring with her and she prizes it highly. It was presented to him by a captain of a transport in appreciation for courtesies shown him by Mr. Keever at Hotel Warwick at Newport News.

The Record is indebted to its good friend, Mr. M. H. Johnson of Bakers Mountain, for two baskets of fine peaches. Brother Johnson is one of the Record's friends who see to it that the joys of living are not lacking.
