PRESIDENT WRITES LETTER ON INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

Says Chairman Lane His Views on Big Point of Discussion by Conference—Came After Adjournment and May Not Be Made Public at All

HEAVY ROTTING IN CHARLOTTE TODAY

By the Associated Press.
Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 21.—Voters arrived for the election of the city commissioners two to one majority up to the noon hour against the three candidates on a recall ticket claiming to represent organized labor. It is predicted that the largest vote ever recorded will be cast and adjourned to be brought out.

The recall campaign was started immediately after riots on August 25 when two members of a mob that grirted the car barn during the recent car strike were killed and a woman in the auto sera injured. Several of the men to the press trade organizations to which the labor conference men belong instantly started a recall campaign and bitterness has since developed. The union labor ticket has been chiefly in the hands of Frank L. Chabot, editor of a new labor paper communist of 15 started here.

By the Associated Press.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 21.—A full election, the aftermath of recent strikes in the city and particularly the result of the riots at the carbarn of the Southern Public Utilities Company August 25, in which five persons were killed and a dozen injured, is being held here today.

Voting is exceedingly heavy and the belief is expressed that it will be the heaviest ever tabulated. The recall candidates are leading in five of the eleven wards, all of which lie on the outskirts of the city and in which the population is made up chiefly of mill working forces. The administration forces contend that they will carry the election by a majority of 2,000 in total votes.

HIGH POINT FOUNDATION

High Point Enterprise.
Creation of the High Point Foundation by the Wachovia Bank and Trust company, as outlined in the Enterprise today, ought to fill a community need; it ought to be well comended by every man who has a feeling for his home city, and who wishes to insure its moral and material development through his own acts.

We like to look upon cities and towns which have a soul, a feeling throbbing and pulsating. We like to look upon the citizens of those cities and towns as integral units of that soul, which, working together, create the finished product.

The operation of the foundation is simple. Mr. A., who has lived here all his life, has collected his fortune of worldly goods, knows his stay is but minute. He may be full, filled with the joy of living, but our stay is only a tarry for a few minutes. Behind Mr. A. wishes to leave something which he will go on working for his city.
Looking about for an instrument, he chances upon the foundation, and in his disposition of his money or goods, a certain portion is designated to the foundation.

The foundation, governed by local men, handled by a highly efficient trust company, grows just as much as the city's citizens desire it to. It is invested upon the principal, and is used as the citizen has designated.

Maybe it is a ward in a local hospital, where the derelicts may be given treatment, or maybe it is a school room, a park, a playground, a public square, no matter what, the foundation sees fit to the will of Mr. A. is carried out.

We believe the foundation in High Point, where public spirited men have contributed so liberally to the moral and physical welfare of the city, will become a distinct institution, an ever increasing power for the development of High Point and civic pride.

WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM

Grand Rapids Press.
We have faith that within a year or two some Luther Burbank, with a shrewd eye to the general demand, will be growing a cluster of grapes and a yeast cake on the same bough.

CRISIS REACHED IN NEW YORK STRIKE

By the Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 21.—A crisis in the strike of the 40,000 longshoremen was reached today. The international Marine Workers, which has 40,000 men led up in the port, but strike-breakers in work, and men began work at many piers where transhipments to and from the rope have been held up.

Army officials made it plain that troops here and at Newark New Jersey will be used solely as workmen at arms now and would not appear at private or shipping board docks.

Heavy police guard, however, are stationed at the other piers.

The strikers who yesterday voted out of a conference of committees at city hall because they objected to one of the conditions were invited to attend a mass meeting at Tammany Hall late today, a member of the convention committee appointed by Secretary Wilson stated.

Many members stated that they would not attend.

out in the steel mill district at Braddock shortly after noon. The police went to the vicinity of the plant and fighting was under way at 1 o'clock.

THE NAKED TRUTH

Los Angeles Times.
If the women of Los Angeles ever adopt the fashion of going bare-legged on the streets of the city we shall feel justified in calling them legs instead of limbs.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Fuller of Alta Park have returned home after a visit to her aunt, Mrs. G. M. Belcher,

For North Carolina: Probably much change in temperature, moderate

OREL RETAKEN

By the Associated Press.

taken by the Bolsheviks, who also have defeated 19 regiments of General Mamonoff's army outside of Veronezh, according to a wireless dispatch sent out by the soviet government at Moscow.

STILL HOLD KRONSTADT

By the Associated Press.
London, Oct. 21.—The fortress of Kronstadt was still in the hands of the Bolsheviks, according to a dispatch from a point in Finland, from which place the red flag was still visible from the masthead of a Russian warship sunk by the British.

A dispatch to the Mail states that factories at Kronstadt were working Sunday and that seaplanes, which bombed the fortress in that day were fired on by anti-aircraft guns. The reported raising of the white flag on Sunday is not explained.

The following excerpts are reproduced from the bulletin:

A College Town
"I've heard of Hickory; it's a college town." So say many strangers when you mention Hickory. Prof. Luther Fox, D. D., a native of Lincoln county, now professor at Leinor College, says that a casual conversation with half a dozen citizens of any town will reveal whether or not there is a college town. There is a certain refining influence exerted by a college upon its community. Though often not recognized at home, it is felt by others, and is worth more than any amount of money.

A college advertises its town favorably. Leinor's campaign of advertisements for students each year advertises Hickory. The series of full page and half page advertisements now running in the papers as a part of this campaign advertises Hickory.
Wherever Leinor's students go, they advertise Hickory. Leinor's unusual andounds after this campaign, will favorably advertise Hickory.

A college makes a town a more desirable place in which to live. It offers the advantage of an education without the necessity of sending the young folks away from home and the parental care. The lectures, concerts, debates, and entertainments are sources of pleasure and profit to many people.

The presence of a college, therefore, brings desirable citizens to town. The college professors and their families become citizens of the town, help pay its taxes, and make their contribution to the betterment of the community in many ways. A great many substantial families seek homes in a college town in order to educate their children. Ask the real estate man if the college does not create a demand for real estate in Hickory.

One of the first questions asked by prospective buyers is, not about the manufacturing enterprises, but about the churches and schools. In one day we learned of three families that expect to move to Hickory next summer in order to place their boys and girls in college.

There are no better citizens than those that has children and want to educate them. The students also are a desirable addition to the population of any community.

Brings Money
Here is where you will stop to think. The presence of Leinor College increases the wealth of Hickory by more than $75,000 annually.

sixty boarding students, each spending $350, means $56,000 a year. An average of seventy-five local students means $300 each year for each student, or a total of $22,500 kept in Hickory, which would necessarily go elsewhere if the students went away to college.

These are conservative figures. After this campaign has been completed the amounts will become much larger year after year. And bear in mind that this is quite different from the manufacturing or mercantile enterprise which does an equal amount of business. In that case only about one-fifth of the money actually stays in Hickory, while the rest goes away to pay for material or stock; but the $78,000 brought here by the college all stays right in Hickory.

This $300,000 endowment fund will be invested largely in Hickory securities, thus permanently increasing the working capital of the city.
And the whole of the income from

MARGARET ROSE WOOTTON
DIED THIS MORNING

Margaret Rose, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Wootten, died this morning at 11:20 at their home on Fifteenth street, following an illness of a week. Yesterday and Sunday the little girl, who was born November 12, 1915, appeared to be getting better and yesterday the family was hopeful that her recovery would be rapid and complete. Her condition became worse during the morning and death claimed her. Margaret Rose was an unusually sweet and lovable child and her passing brings sorrow into a home where she was deeply loved.

The arrangements for the funeral will not be made until word is received from Mr. W. P. Wootten, a student in the University.
