VERY SMOOTH GAME TO ACQUIRE MONEY

By the Associated Press
Vienna, Jan. 15.—A Vienna money broker was robbed of 2,000,000 rubles the other day in a political plot to obtain control of the Ukrainian legation here. The story as worked out by the police is as good as a play.

The scheme was the familiar confidence game of inducing the broker to violate the law and of seizure of the money by criminals disguised as gendarmes.

A supposed Ukrainian general recently arrived in Vienna and engaged with a money broker to buy up to 2,000,000 rubles. It is illegal in Austria to deal in foreign money or to have it in private possession, and all exchange is done through authorized banks. The broker agreed to have the amount in hand on a certain day. He lived and conducted his business in a hotel.

On the appointed afternoon, but a little ahead of time, a man in the uniform of a Ukrainian colonel called on the broker and saluting said he had come for General X's money. They sat down to a table to check the money when the door was opened and two gendarmes walked in and placed both under arrest on the charge of possessing and dealing in foreign money.

The broker begged and protested and finally was told to appear in court on the following day, his record being taken with the greatest care and particulars. But the colonel's protests were unavailing. He stormed and invoked his nationality in vain. The two policemen gathered up the money, counted it and giving a receipt, told the broker to appear promptly before the authorities.

Then, taking the colonel, they left. An hour later the broker woke up to the fact that the colonel and the two gendarmes were fakers and he had been robbed of some 2,000,000 rubles.

The Vienna police is efficient in this kind of thing and in a day or two had gathered in two of the swindlers, but not the one with the money. Working on the case they finally ascertained that the money was to be used for political ends. The plan, according to the police reports, was a plot to seize the Ukrainian legation here by an opposing political faction, get possession of the records and
