Prove It Yourself

that for price and quality, Karo is the best syrup you can serve. For pancakes, hot biscuits and making gingerbread, there is nothing better. As a spread on bread for children, Karo is a wonderful energy food.

Soft Gingerbread—easy to make:

- 2 Eggs
- 1/2 cup Brown Sugar
- 1/2 cup Karo, Blue Label
- 1/2 cup Cocoa
- 1/2 cup Sour Milk
- 1/2 cup Flour
- 1 teaspoon Salt
- 1 teaspoon Baking Soda
- 1/2 cup Matzola
- 1 cup Raisins

Sift dry ingredients. Add raisins and mix. Drop unheated eggs into dry ingredients, add liquids and stir well. Bake in slow oven about forty-five minutes.

Mr. W. J. Shuford, president of the Rotary club, Mr. J. D. Elliot, Dr. O. H. Hester and M. W. Clark have returned from Winston-Salem where they attended the Seventh District Rotary convention.

Mr. W. J. Shuford will go to Newton this evening where he has been invited by the Newton Kiwanis Club to tell about the work of Miss Bain who comes to Hickory on April 1 to make addresses on her work under the auspices of the Rotary Club. Mr. Shuford will be a guest at the Kiwanis dinner tonight.

The Girls' Glee club of Catawba College, Newton, will give an entertainment tomorrow night in the college auditorium for the benefit of the glee club scholarship. An exceptionally good program has been arranged and the concert promises to be one of the chief musical events of the year. Miss Vera Schien, head of the music department, is director.

BRIDGE CLUB WITH MISS KATCHER

Miss Kathryn Hatcher was delightful hostess yesterday afternoon to the C. T. & N. Bridge club at her home on Tenth avenue. Miss Josephine Lyerly made highest score and was presented with the prize. After the game delicious refreshments were served with Miss Kathryn Setzer coming in for this period.

MRS. MARTIN HOSTESS

Mrs. R. E. Martin was hostess yesterday afternoon at a very interesting meeting of the Pleiades Book Club. Mrs. Durant Abernethy of Washington, houseguest of Mrs. George Lyerly, was the only guest in addition to club members.

Many lovely spring flowers were used in decorating the home and were in keeping with the bright sunny day.

The hostess presented her book "The Head of the House of Coib" and the usual discussion of club books followed. Several business matters occupied the attention of the club and the program was featured by the exchange of current events, many items of interest being culled and related.

Small tables were arranged in the living room and the guests were served with a beautiful two course luncheon. The club adjourned to meet again on April 5 with Mrs. Frank Henderson.

WITH MRS. WILLIAMS

Mrs. H. P. Williams was gracious hostess yesterday afternoon to the Fortnightly Book Club, this being the last regular meeting of the series.

Roll call was answered with extracts from the club books, each member giving some bright, apt quotation. "The Kingdon Round the Corner" by Coningsby Dawson was the book for the afternoon and the hostess gave several criticisms and a general review of the life of Mr. Dawson. It was also of exceptional interest to learn the experiences that prompted the author to write the story. Current events for the afternoon brought out some of the foremost happenings of the day.

The meeting adjourned into a social hour and during this period a number of invited guests came. Mrs. Grace Patrick, Mrs. Norwood Bass, Mrs. George C. Yoder, Mrs. R. A. Grimes, Mrs. C. W. Dellinger, Mrs. E. A. Herman, Mrs. Lay Boick, Mrs. Walter C. Taylor.

The house was decorated throughout with spring flowers, a color motif of yellow predominating. Forsythia was used for decorating the living room and in the dining room a quantity of jonquils was used. The dining room table and four small tables were arranged and at these a beautiful three course luncheon was served.

Miss Margaret McNaught of Virginia, an honorary member of the club who is spending some time here, will entertain the club on April 5 at the home of Mrs. R. J. Revely.

MRS. BLACKWELDER HOSTESS

The Wednesday Afternoon Book Club held a delightful meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. B. B. Blackwelder as hostess at her home on Eleventh avenue.

The hostess' book was "The Mountebank" by Wm. J. Locke, a popular author in the club and owing to the fact that several of his books have been read in other series and numerous sketches have been given of Mr. Locke, this part of the program was omitted and the guests enjoyed a social hour. Eight members were present and Mrs. S. P. Withers was a pleasant visitor.

During the social hour the guests were invited into the dining room for a two course luncheon. An abundance of spring flowers were attractively arranged as decorations. The club will meet again on April fifth with Mrs. E. E. Menzies as hostess.

ROUND DOZEN CLUB CLUB MEETS

With Miss Amelia McComb as hostess the Round Dozen Book Club held a very delightful meeting yesterday afternoon. The members were present and Mrs. H. M. Doll, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. D. M. McComb and Miss Amelia McComb were welcome visitors.

In the absence of the president who is out of the city, Mrs. W. B. Council, the vice-president, graciously presided over the meeting. Roll call and the minutes of the last meeting marked the opening of the meeting after which the hostess introduced her book "Alice Adams" by Booth Tarkington. Criticisms were given and the hostess dwelled at length on her book and gave an entertaining account of the life of the author.

The program was also featured by the reading of a short magazine story. Current events were given and during the social hour Mrs. Hall favored the guests by playing several piano selections. The hostess, with Miss Millie Kate McComb assisting, served a very delicious two course luncheon and the club adjourned to meet two weeks hence with Mrs. J. W. Blackwelder.

Mrs. W. T. Henderson of Burlington is the charming guest of Mr. Henderson's bother, Mrs. Claudia Sullivan, on Eighth avenue.

Scout troop No. 1 will meet tonight instead of Friday night.
