MRS. LENTZ CIRCLE HOSTESS

Mrs. E. W. Lentz was delightful hostess yesterday afternoon to Circle No. 1 of the First Methodist church with sixteen members present. Little Miss Winnie Lee Kever was a charming and attractive visitor.
The meeting was presided over by the circle chairman, Mrs. J. A. Bowles, who conducted the business meeting. The usual devotional was held at the opening of the meeting after which the business for the afternoon was taken up and transacted.
After adjournment the hostess, with her daughters, Misses Mary Wiley, Margaret and Ruth, assisting, served delicious refreshments. The circle will meet next with Mrs. J. D. Winkler.

MRS. BOYD HOSTESS

A very interesting meeting of the Y. M. C. A. of the Reformed church was held last night with Mrs. D. M. Boyd as hostess. At roll call twenty-one names were recorded, each member responding with a verse of scripture.
Mrs. W. W. Rowe opened the meeting with a prayer from the prayer calendar and read an appropriate scripture lesson.
Plans for the fall work were discussed and acted upon and other matters of minor importance were talked over. The auxiliary expects to serve a supper some time soon.
The auxiliary is taking up a new mission study book entitled "India on the March" and the first chapter was assigned for study last night. Mrs. Rowe gave an introductory outline after which several members gave interesting supplements. Miss Pearl Bunker read a leaflet on the first missionaries to Japan after which Mrs. Russell M. Yount gave an interesting account of India, its population and its women followed by Miss Mabel Miller who read an extract on the Zenana, the part of the homes in India in which the women live.
After adjourning to meet the first Monday evening in October with Mrs. Dick Thommasson and Mrs. W. C. Tate as hostess, Mrs. Boyd assisted her attractive little daughter, Beatrice, and Mrs. Rowe, served a most delicious ice course.

MEETING AT BETHEL METHODIST

The revival meeting began at Bethel Methodist church Sunday. There will be preaching every night this week at 7:30. The Rev. N. C. Williams, of Granite Falls, will preach. I promise you good preaching. Let's all do some good praying.
J. R. WALKER, Pastor.

Our campaigning methods is to talk so fast and loud about the four-power treaty that not very many of the enthusiastic thousands notice it at all when some Democratic hiveling on the back seat raises his raucous voice and inquires in his rhetorical way about Uncle Truman Newberry and the Tariff Bill.—Ohio State Journal.

SPLENDID OPENING W. HICKORY SCHOOL

The West Hickory graded school opened Monday morning at 9 o'clock. The teachers were all on hand, most of whom being fresh from the various summer schools. The ministers of the various churches of West Hickory were present and all made most interesting talks complimentary to the rapid growth of the school. A large part of the morning was taken up with short talks on the subject of education.
Mr. John Pierce, chairman of the school board stood squarely with the teachers in the development of the school. Mr. J. L. Kiser, principal of the school, outlined the work for the year, calling attention to the fact that the school had now reached the point where it would turn out the pupils fully equipped to enter college. He mentioned also the plans laid for the development of the school in debating and public speaking in which a number of medals and prizes will be given by some of the leading citizens of West Hickory.
The enrollment was very large, numbering 343 with 40 in the high school department. The people of West Hickory pride themselves in being the fourth school in size in the county.
There will be many more entering during the week. Practically all the pupils were classified two weeks ago which enabled them to have their text books on opening day and begin class work immediately.
The school board were glad to be able to secure teachers this year who are either college graduates or who have had ample college training and who have had a number of years of successful experience in teaching. The teachers are as follows:
First grade—Mrs. Robert Hawn and Miss Gertrude Finger.
Second grade—Mrs. Rellie Alhuan.
Third grade—Miss Florence Rector.
Fourth grade—Miss Pearl Bunker.
Fifth grade—Mr. C. P. Pucette.
Sixth grade—Mrs. John Brooks.
Seventh grade—Mrs. H. L. Pendleton.
High school department:
Miss Chloe Miller and Mr. J. L. Kiser.
The patrons are looking forward to a most successful school year.

AS IT SEEMED

It was down in Louisiana and hot. The outfit, certain for many weary months to be the very next to go over, finally landed on a stretch of wilderness out from Camp Beauregard, fated to become an artillery range. For three weeks picks and shovels had been the implements de guerre and digging the order of the day.
He was a diminutive recruit and nothing of him showed above the top of the pit from which sweat and dirt were flying.
"Join the Army and see the earth," he paraphrased a popular slogan, and added with justifiable sarcasm, "a shovelful at a time."—American Legion Weekly.

A Cold-Milk Thermos

Milk is a delicious and healthy food drink. However, it must be frigid to be enjoyed. If you want to keep milk cold or any other liquid cold, place it in a Thermos Bottle and it will keep cold for days. We carry Thermos in all styles. We have the lunch kits. Goods are standard and prices popular.
