BRITIAN AND GREECE MAY FIGHT TOGETHER

Dethronement of Constantine, Who Disbanded Best of Greek Army, May Bring Venizelos Back and a Vigorous Policy Against Turks—Revolution Was Complete.

By the Associated Press. London, Sept. 28.—British circles today took a grave view of the situation in the Dardanelles, which was regarded as so critical as to overshadow the revolutionary developments in Greece.

The cabinet was convened this morning to consider a message from Brigadier General Harrington, commanding allied forces in Constantinople, summarizing Mustafa Kemal Pasha's reply against allied warning not to invade the neutral zone.

The reply was considered to be evasive and ambiguous. London, Sept. 28.—The abdication of King Constantine of Greece, making again possible cooperation between Prime Minister Lloyd George and ex-Premier Venizelos, may cause a lightning change in Great Britain's policy towards Turkey, according to persons in high official circles.

It is asserted in these circles that a possible conjunction of these two former co-workers is the explanation of the studied attitude of pessimism which since yesterday had been radiating from No. 10 Downing street, where this morning much apprehension was expressed regarding a possible clash between the Turcas and British.

With Constantine out of the way, it is claimed there will be one more chance of reorganizing the best forces in Greece whose Cretan army was disbanded by Constantine on coming to the throne.

It is pointed out that the present revolutionists in Greece are reported to be not only pro-Venizelist but are proudly and that they believe heart and soul in a greater Greece.

PIGSKIN WARRIORS TRAIN FOR GAME

With the approach of the opening game with Guilford here on October 7, Lemur's pigskin artists are bending more and more effort to whip into shape in time to spring the big surprise on the Guilford warriors when the referees whistle opens the local gridiron season.

Local football authorities who have been viewing the workouts of the team on the hill are predicting a team worthy to represent the college and community for which they will stand and fight. They are especially pleased with the strong fighting spirit the boys are developing and the amount of pep and enthusiasm with which they go after their intensive work outs.

Scrimmages started yesterday and will be held every afternoon this and next week according to Coach La-Motte's plans. His task to date being of blocking-talking, carrying the ball, kicking etc., but the time has now arrived when these fundamentals learned must be used under actual playing conditions so lively tilts are the result of the scrubs and first string men when they clash every afternoon in a scrimmage royal.

FIRST FOREST FIRE REPORTED IN STATE

By the Associated Press. Asheville, N. C., Sept. 28.—The first forest fire of the fall season occurred early in the week in Rutherford county, according to a report received by the district fire warden today. Prompt action by the warden confined the fire to a three-acre strip.

GREEKS ARE CRYING FOR REPUBLIC NOW

By the Associated Press. Athens, Sept. 28.—It is reported that a section of the revolutionary army is imbued with the idea of a republic and that the accession of King George may be accompanied with difficulty. An important pro-Venizelist procession occurred last night.

Several thousand persons paraded the streets with pictures of the former premier, marched to the French embassy and shouted "Vive la France."

The revolutionists have entered the city and occupied strategic places and the ministry buildings. At 8 o'clock last night the city was brilliantly illuminated with cavalry and infantry patrolling the streets.

SLICK FORGERS ARE CAUGHT AT MARION

J. J. Higgins and wife, claiming to be from Sumter, S. C., ran into $40 worth of trouble here Tuesday afternoon when they are alleged to have forged a check on David C. Howard of Brookford, bought $22 worth of clothes from Yoder-Clark, took the change and skipped to Marion. They had intimated that they were going to Gastonia and seemed in a hurry about getting away.

Mr. Howard had not issued any such check, it was learned yesterday, and George Yoder remembered that the woman, while her husband was buying from a clerk, asked the distance to Marion and he and Chief Lentz learned that they had gone there. Yesterday afternoon the chief phoned the Marion authorities, described the couple and learned before 9 o'clock that they were in town. They were arrested.

Chief Lentz and Fire Chief Harry Whitener drove to Marion last night and returned early this morning with the pair, who will be given a hearing this afternoon on a charge of forgery.

By the Associated Press. Stezia, Sept. 28.—The entire naval garrison at Salenara port, near here, on the gulf of Genoa is believed to have been killed in an explosion caused by lightning which destroyed everything within a radius of ten miles. There are many hundreds of wounded. Fifteen bodies have been recovered.

Fifteen hundred pounds of explosives were stored in the deep tunnels of the fort. The entire top was completely blown away. The wounded are being rushed to the hospitals here, all of which are already filled.

FORMAL EFFORT TO END A. C. L. STRIKE

By the Associated Press. Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 28.—A formal request for a joint conference between the management of the Atlantic Coast Line Company and the Atlantic Coast Line system federation of labor for the purpose of discussing an individual settlement of the shommen's strike on the basis of the Baltimore plan has been made. It was learned here today.

The request was contained in a letter forwarded yesterday to P. R. Albright, vice-president and general manager of the Atlantic Coast Line at Wilson, by C. R. Otterburg, secretary-treasurer of the Atlantic Coast Line system federation and marks the first step taken by the federation to end the industrial war which has been in progress since July 1.

SHEEP INDUSTRY IS RECOVERING AGAIN

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Five years will be required to overcome the effects of the recent collapse in the sheep industry, according to a survey made public here today by the national institute of progressive farming.

"How close the sheep industry in this country came to annihilation during the inflation period is not realized by the general public," stated the survey.

"It was all but wiped out. Imported wools were butchered and sold as meat owing to the collapse of the market. There is a mad scramble to get back into the business now that the market has returned to a stable level, the survey states, and herds which almost disappeared are being revived. The supply of breeding stock, sheep association officials say, is the lowest in twenty years and the demand for such stock on the Pacific coast is the greatest seen in double that time.

"In the corn belt where the maize crops can be fed to three dollar mutton, the problem is to find the lambs," declares the survey. "It appears that a higher price for fat lambs will prevail this fall, despite the present attitude.

"The institute believes that wool growing should be conducted as a side line rather than as an essential industry. Shepherds are in the habit of virtually ceasing business when the wool market is against them, and then slowly working back when the tide turns. While the United States cannot compete in the wool markets of the world with Australia and Argentina, yet it is unthinkable that the whole agricultural system should be thrown out of the balance by ignoring wool."

TRIAL OF JENKINS ON THIS AFTERNOON

By the Associated Press. Greensboro, Sept. 28.—With Minnie Jones in the city in custody of officials of the Ku Klux Klan, trial of S. L. Jenkins of Winston-Salem on a statutory charge was set to begin at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Jenkins is appealing from a two-years' road sentence imposed in municipal court here several days ago. The woman is the star witness, she being with Jenkins when the pair were held up and the woman beaten by six masked men near Taylorsville.

VETERANS PARADE ENDS BIG REUNION

By the Associated Press. Asheville, N. C., Sept. 28.—For a brief space today a lost cause became a living cause as a gray line closed ranks again and marched amidst the plaudits of thousands. High-spirited and proud, though largely incapacitated by the ravages of time, the Confederate veterans completed the third and final day of their annual reunion.

It was an inspiring sight as the men had followed Lee and Jackson grouped their brigade organization and responded to the cheering of crowds lining the sidewalks. For the first time there were no veterans in the parade on foot. Some had asked that they be permitted to form a column, but the officers overruled them. Automobiles and trucks, a multitude of them, moved through the streets, punctuated here and there with soldiers of the world war or national guardsmen.

Not all of the experience was with the veterans themselves, but the spectators' imaginations filled the ranks, took the aching stoop of bent shoulders and restored vigor to the failing figures. Imagination carried them back three score years when the flower of the state's manhood marched away to die for a cause that was dearer than life. They had formed ranks again—the last time for who knows how many?—They were testifying anew the memories that are still green and associations that are yet tender. A remnant of a famous army that gave to southern history its traditions and gallantry were marching toward final demobilization.

The parade was one of the longest, one of the most touching ever witnessed in this city, where conventions are commonplace. Most of the veterans were returning home, while some are remaining to spend a few days' sightseeing around Asheville.

MAY BE PRISONER

By the Associated Press. Constantinople, Sept. 28.—Former King Constantine of Greece, who abdicated yesterday, is reported to be prisoner of the revolutionists.

MAINTAIN CLASSES IN FAITH HEALING

By the Associated Press. Chicago, Sept. 28.—Consideration at the Protestant Episcopal triennial general conference of divine healing, and the question of giving it official sanction as a part of church work, drew attention to the fact that several churches in the Chicago diocese already maintained classes in faith healing.

Among such churches are the Church of the Redeemer, of which Rev. Dr. John Henry Hopkins is rector, and St. Chrysostom's, of which Rev. Dr. Norman P. Hutton is rector. The Rev. H. P. Pullin, assistant rector of St. Chrysostom's, declared that the purpose of the class at this church was not to supplant the physician, but to cooperate with the physician by strengthening faith and mind.

"Our method," he said, "is that of James Hickson, the Anglican layman who conducted meetings of healing in Chicago a few years ago. It involves private prayer of intercession, meetings with prayer and the laying on of hands and private conferences with the ill. "The people of the parish are much interested with the work. I know of no miracles that have resulted from it, but I am satisfied that those who have come to these meetings for help have been generally strengthened. It is our endeavor to take their minds off their trouble and to make them realize that there is something higher than their minds which directs them."

"The question is not one of divine power, but of its application," said Rev. S. M. Griswold of Evanston, suffragan bishop of the Chicago diocese. "The report to the conference of the commission of the church which examined the matter was very thorough-going."

CONSOLIDATED FAIR ALEXANDER FRIDAY

The premium list for the Consolidated Community fair, to be held near Bethlehem church, Alexander county, tomorrow indicates wide interest on the part of the two districts interested and means that other communities will be required to extend themselves to compete with these progressive farmers and their wives. Several Hickory people expect to attend tomorrow. As the exhibits will be removed at 4 o'clock, it is necessary to attend earlier in the day.

Many of the prizes were given by Hickory business men, who have shown a keen interest in the development of community fairs, and who last year visited all of those held in Catawba county.

The officers of the Consolidated Community fair are L. L. Bowman and Albert Duncan, presidents; P. L. Bumgarner, and E. W. Teague, secretaries; D. W. Moretz, W. L. Spencer, P. C. Bowman, J. L. Frazier, Dewey Presler and Miss Elizabeth Spencer, directors.

Constantine Forced to Abdicate by a Mob Angry Revolutionists

TO START LAYING ASPHALT AT ONCE

The Union Paving Company, which will lay the tarvia on the Catawba link of the Central highway, is assembling its mixing plant in Highland and will be ready by the middle of next week to begin putting the top dressing on the concrete. Hands are being hired for the work now.

The company will start at Lenoir College and work back to its plant, just east of Highland and from there start on the western end of the concrete. It is expected that a quarter of a mile will be laid a day. The Burke link ought to be ready for traffic within a month.

John N. Bohannon, who is laying the concrete, said today that he expected to complete his part of the contract by the first of December and the asphalt layers would be right on his heels. The job, with the weather at all favorable, should be completed before Christmas.

Mr. Bohannon has about 2,500 feet to build before he reaches the Eugene Signon home place this side of Conover and the remaining distance is estimated at 2.8 miles.

Material has been hard to obtain at times and the contractor was slowed up, but it is thought the entire job can be pushed. The traveling public will be able to ride on hard surface from the Burke line to Newton before Christmas, it is believed.

MR. DANIELS WILL SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Arrangements for the appearance here tomorrow night of Josephus Daniels, Raleigh newspaper editor and former secretary of the navy, have been completed by Chairman Chas. W. Bagby. The city auditorium will be used and the hour is 8 o'clock. Mr. Daniels is the first of several noted speakers to come here during the present campaign. He is sure to be heard by a capacity house.

While in Hickory Mr. Daniels will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Elliott. Former service men, whether they were in the navy or army, will be glad to hear Mr. Daniels tomorrow night. As head of the navy for eight years, part of the time during the war, Mr. Daniels effected many reforms, cut out the waste for officers, inaugurated a school for the enlisted men and otherwise improved their lot. He is said to have almost as much interest in the former soldier, who certainly knows about his good work.

Robeson Man to Face Trial For Murder of Another 44 Years Ago

By the Associated Press. Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 28.—Sheriff R. E. Lewis left early today for St. Augustine, Fla., to bring back Joe Kemp, who is wanted in Robeson county for the murder of Daniel E. McNeill at Red Springs 44 years ago. The sheriff is expected back Sunday with his prisoner.

By the Associated Press. Athens, Sept. 28.—King Constantine's abdication came after dramatic scenes with the palace surrounded by an angry mob of revolutionists demanding his surrender. It was not until the mob threatened to seize the person of the sovereign that an emissary appeared at a window and announced the abdication of the king.

General Paulous had previously been sent to treat with the revolutionists, but finding his entreaties unavailing then joined them. A second messenger was sent to the mass of people and he was told:

"We are resolved to dethrone the author of Greece's misery."

Constantine then addressed a message to the Greek people saying in part:

"Yielding to the solemnly expressed will of the Greek people I returned to Greece in December 1920 and resumed my royal duties. I declared the n and took a solemn oath that I would respectfully observe the articles of the constitution.

"This declaration corresponded both with my private desire and that of the Greek people as well as the international interests of our country. Within the limits of the constitution, I have done everything in my power for Greece.

"Today regrettable misfortunes have led our country into a critical situation.

"Not wishing to leave in the mind of anybody the slightest suspicion that by remaining on the throne I would alienate in any degree the sacred unity of the Greeks, I have abdicated the royal power. From this moment my eldest son, Prince George, is your king."

The resolution, it is understood, will call attention to the fact that its speakers and framers do not speak for Mr. Ford or have conferred with him.
