Miners Write Own Epitaph

A few chalk marks on a wall of stone tell the tragedy of the 47 miners whose bodies were found entombed in the Argonaut mine at Jackson, Cal. While their fellows were working feverishly to dig through the rocks these men tried to keep a report of their suffering. These marks will stand as their monument.

Miss Katherine Clement will arrive tonight from Charlotte to spend the week end with her mother, Mrs. H. L. Clement.

Miss Mary Matthews Doll, a member of the Gastonia graded school faculty, is spending the week end with her mother, Mrs. H. M. Doll.

The 9 o'clock singing will be resumed by Dr. Wright's class at the First Methodist Sunday school tomorrow and all members are asked to be on hand. Visitors welcome.

Mrs. H. W. Williams and son, Mr. Charles Williams, are expected today from Jonesboro to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Spratt, Jr. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Spratt are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Elliott will return to Catawba this afternoon after being guests for several days of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sledge. Mrs. Sledge will accompany them home for a visit.

Dr. F. B. Hicks is the possessor of a fine photograph of a training class of young men in the United States navy at Hampton Roads. In the 100 or more fine young men are Bedford, Hicks and Ira Nize of Caldwell county and Edward Mize of Highland. The three boys are cronies.

The Woman's Missionary society of Corinth Reformed church will meet in the ladies' parlor at the church at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. Following the program a report of the synodical convention at High Point will be given by Mrs. C. C. Best, president of the society who attended from here.

Dr. E. M. Craig has returned from Burkemont and will occupy the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow morning and evening. Dr. Craig spent the entire week at the Burkemont mission, nine miles south of Morganton, where he conducted a series of meetings. The Burkemont mission is in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ramsey, both of whom are quite popular here.

The musical feature of the Holy Communion service at Corinth Reformed church tomorrow will be a solo by Mrs. John Geitner. Mrs. Geitner will sing "Lead Thou My Soul" by Rob Roy Peery with violin obligato by Mr. Peery. Through error this was announced for last Sunday. Mrs. Geitner has a warm place among the music lovers of Hickory and it is assumed a large crowd will hear her with pleasure tomorrow.

ATTENDED THE FAIR

Bob Martin, Hugh Williams and Hugh D'Anna slipped off from home last night and took in the fair in cognito. Several persons penetrated their disguises and today the news was about town.

MRS. HARTFIELD GUESSED NUMBER OF GALLONS

Mrs. J. W. Hartfield won the first prize in the Abernethy Hardware Company's guessing contest at the fair grounds this week and was awarded 20 one-half gallon cans Texaco motor oil. Herbert Bolick of Taylorsville route 6 won second prize, five gallons of Texaco motor oil. More than 1,000 persons entered and the results were close.

UP-TO-DATE CLUB

Miss Clara Ballew was hostess yesterday afternoon to the Up To Date club, this being the first meeting of the fall. Eleven members were present and two visitors, Misses Nita Mosteller and Rebecca Kirkpatrick, were cordially welcomed.

Officers for the year were elected during the business session as follows: President, Miss Elizabeth Moretz; vice-president, Miss Sara Doll; secretary and treasurer, Miss Clara Ballew. The work for the year was planned and several new rules were adopted. Several piano selections were given during the social period. Refreshments were served and the club adjourned to meet in two weeks with Miss Elizabeth Hall.

MISS PATRICK IN CHARLESTON

The following is from the Charleston Evening Post. "Miss Gertrude Cappelton has returned home, after an extended and enlightened visit to points of interest at the north, including New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Camden, N. J. Miss Cappelton has associated with her in her school of music this winter, Miss Grace Patrick, of Hickory, N. C., who succeeds Miss Sarah Denham, who has resigned to be married. Miss Patrick is a graduate of Elizabeth College, Charlotte, N. C., and has a number of school friends in the city who will be glad to learn that she will reside here this winter. She will reside with Mrs. Fred Felder on Fifth street.

Designers Grow Lavish

Nearly all the new fall frocks show a growing recklessness of material. Many of them use panels and draperies and sleeves of fine pleating. All are longer and fuller. Embroidery is used to a large extent. Wide sleeves are often lined with brilliant colors.

MR. HERMAN PAYNE LEAVES FOR LENOIR

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Payne and family will move to Lenoir the first of the week to make their home. Mr. Payne and Mr. R. F. Munly being owners of the Lenoir Ice and Fuel Company. Mr. Payne has been with the Hickory Ice and Coal Company for the past ten years, the last three years secretary and treasurer, and knows the ice and fuel business from beginning to end. Mr. and Mrs. Payne are the kind of people that any town is proud to claim as citizens and there is no denying the fact that Hickory regrets to lose them. They will have the best wishes of their many friends here.

MRS. WISE'S MOTHER DIES AT ASHEVILLE

Friends of Mrs. Henry Wise of Hickory will be interested in the following from the Asheville Citizen Friday announcing the death of her mother: Mrs. S. M. Barfield, 62, for the past six years a resident of Asheville, died Wednesday night at 1:30 o'clock, after a short illness, at her home, 115 Haywood Street. Survivors are three sons and five daughters, Mrs. J. J. Dunlop and Mrs. Horace Seelye, of Asheville; Mrs. Henry Wise of Hickory; J. C. Churchill, of Charleston, S. C.; and Mrs. Howard Stevenson, of Lexington, Ky.; C. V. Barfield, of Los Angeles; A. D. Barfield, of Greenville, S. C.; Mrs. John Smyre, of Camden, a sister, also survives. The body was carried to Camden, S. C., yesterday afternoon for interment.

WITH MRS. GARTH

After enjoying the summer meetings which were purely social, the Do As You Please club met yesterday in the first meeting of the fall when the books for the coming series were brought in and exchanged. Mrs. C. V. Garth was hostess at this meeting which was very interesting.

In addition to the club members the visitors present were Miss Seymour, Miss Louise Jones, Mrs. Connolly Gamble and Mrs. Carroll C. Best, Jr. The hostess' book was "Cappy Ricks Retires" one of Peter B. Kyne's new novels which is attracting quite a bit of interesting attention. The hostess waived all criticism and review of her novel and the club adjourned into a social half hour after going through the regular routine of business.

A salad course was appetizing accessories was served.

ATTEND DEDICATION OF BUILDING

Perhaps one of the largest bodies of Presbyterian women to ever assemble together was at Barium Springs yesterday when the magnificent new woman's building was dedicated.

Those going down from here were Mrs. W. B. Ramsay, secretary of the board of regents, Mrs. Claudia Sullivan, Mrs. John Henderson and two daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Cline and son John, Mrs. A. A. Whitener and daughters, Misses Miriam and Jane, Mr. Louis Whitener, Mrs. R. J. Revell, Mrs. W. E. Conolly, Miss Amelia McComb and Mrs. Carrie Gamble.

The building is of handsome design and was the gift of the women of the Presbyterian church in North Carolina. Crowds gathered from very part of the state and the day was a great event in the life of the women of the Presbyterian church.

MANY WOMEN PRESENT AT DEDICATION YESTERDAY

Barium Springs, Oct. 7.—One thousand women from various portions of North Carolina were at Barium Springs yesterday to witness the dedication of the handsome woman's building at the Presbyterian Orphanage home. The new structure has been named the Lottie Walker building in honor of Mrs. Lottie Arrey Walker.

The visitors at Barium Springs included 400 people who came by special train from Charlotte. Many also were here from Raleigh, Greensboro, Wilmington, Goldsboro, Durham, Gastonia, Lincolnton, Hickory, Newton, and other towns.

Mrs. Reid Presides

The exercises began at 11 o'clock in the school auditorium with Mrs. E. F. Reid of Lenoir, president of the synodical, which has been in session in Charlotte, presiding. Mrs. Reid makes an ideal presiding officer and the program was rendered in a most happy manner, 12 women making brief but excellent addresses.

The opening hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," was followed by prayer by Mrs. R. D. Blacknall and a song by the young people from the orphanage. Mrs. J. T. French spoke on the history of orphanage work, telling of the wonderful progress that has been made. "Barium's challenge" was the subject of Mrs. A. Currie's address. Messages from the Presbyterian auxiliary secretaries of orphanage work were delivered by Mrs. Joe Cannon, Mrs. C. E. Neisler, Mrs. J. R. Page and Mrs. R. N. Page. The financial statement and presentation of building to synodical was made by Mrs. F. P. Hall, synodical auxiliary secretary of orphanage work. Mrs. E. F. Reid made the address of presentation of building to the board of regents and the acceptance was by Mrs. W. B. Ramsay, secretary of the board of regents.

The dedication hymn written by Mrs. E. D. Brown of Rowan county, was then sung. The dedication prayer was offered by Mrs. R. N. Page. Appropriate talks were made by Rev. R. W. Boyd, the first superintendent of the orphanage; Prof. E. Mica Hyde, the present superintendent; Joseph B. Johnston, business manager and head of the institution, and Rev. R. Murphy Williams, of Greensboro, president of the board of regents.

In Mr. Johnston's address he outlined a progressive program for the next year, including a baby cottage, a boy's dormitory and a teachers' all of which were heartily endorsed.

The magnificent new laundry was the subject of much favorable comment. This building, in which the machinery is now being installed, with a sewing room upstairs, is all the gift of one Charlotte man, C. W. Johnston.
