DAMAGE AT ASHEVILLE ESTIMATED AT $500,000

Asheville, Nov. 16.—Work repairing the damage done to the wooden car tunneling depot street, the Southern Railway station, the Asheville grocery company building and the Southern Railway tracks destroyed in a speculative fire late Tuesday, has begun. The total damage is estimated at $500,000 with $30,000 loss to railway property. To combat the flames in the 900-yard aqueduct the firemen had to resort to dynamite, blowing up the culvert at several points in order to bring streams of water into play. Several buildings, caught fire, were saved from destruction by prompt work of the firemen. Traffic on the railway was held up for several hours and a bridge, ignited from the culvert, burned.

BETTER CREDITS PROMISED TO FARMERS

By the Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 16.—Liberal facilities for the extension of credit to farmers by the federal reserve board were seen today by rulings of the board on the eligibility of rediscount of cooperative associations.

The most recent ruling excludes credits of the cooperative associations from the federal reserve act, which means the paper one member of the federal reserve banks may discount is but one per cent of the capital of the member bank.

The ruling was regarded by officials of extremely advantageous to farmers. The board also had ruled that the carrying of a crop in orderly marketing is an agricultural operation and a farmer's note for financing the carrying of his product for a reasonable period eligible for rediscount.

GIVE BAND CONCERT HERE THANKSGIVING

Announcement of a band concert to be given in the City auditorium on Thanksgiving night has aroused quite a bit of interest and enthusiasm in the music loving circles of Hickory. In addition to the selections by the band some of Hickory's most talented and popular singers, readers and violinists will appear on the program and an evening of rare entertainment is promised.

The band is in need of funds to pay for the instruments and unless the money is raised the band will have to disorganize. On every occasion when their services are asked the band has cooperated readily and on special occasions have been the major attractions. At the Halloween fete, on the night of the armistice day program and on all public occasions during the year the band has more than done its part and there is not a doubt but that a large crowd will be present on Thanksgiving night for the concert.

In charge of Prof. J. E. Barb, the Hickory Concert band is among the best in the state, is a live organization and its instruments are the best. Popular prices will prevail for the concert, the seats to be 35 and 50 cents. The proceeds will go to the band.

WASHINGTON SAFE AS ENEMY AIR RAIDERS ATTACK

Washington, Nov. 16.—Washington was "saved" from "enemy" air raiders yesterday when a defending squadron of army planes warned by scouts, repelled the invaders in a theoretical encounter. The victory was complete. The five hostile bombers were "captured."

The attacking forces left Langley Field, Va., yesterday morning and drove toward Washington, intent on "bombing" the white house and other government buildings. Word of the "enemy's" advance reached defending forces at Bolling Field.

Three big scout planes rose and circled southward groping for contact with the enemy. The enemy machines were spotted down the Potomac and the word was flashed by radio to Bolling Field.

Back at the field, three dimutive fighting planes shot up. They had scarcely disappeared from sight before three heavier fighting craft followed them.

The distant grumble of the planes of the enemy bombers gave notice that they were at hand. The five big planes from Langley came on to the attack. From above dropped the defending planes into the midst of the enemy flight and the "battle of Washington" was on. The fighters used every maneuver of battle practice, picking off the bombers until the last of the quintet had been forced to earth, (theoretically) Then all the planes landed at Bolling Field where the empires ruled that the enemy had been repulsed and captured.

METHODISTS TO STAND UP TO PLEDGES

By the Associated Press.
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16.—Methodism is not yet ready to beat a retreat on its centenary pledges, Bishop Collins Denny said today in addressing the North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. He stirred the preachers to fresh enthusiasm in collecting the pledges in the conference, declaring that the church has been content too long to do a little corner retail business instead of having a world business. With the collection of this year's pledges, the North Carolina conference will have paid about $800,000 of its pledges, about 52 per cent of its pledge.

The North Carolina conference stands second to Virginia in this respect.

LUTHERANS RAISE MILLION DOLLARS

C., Nov. 16.—The Lutherans of North Carolina opened their 119th convention yesterday morning in St. Matthews church, Kings Mountain, with an enrollment of 228 pastors and delegates, representing the 35,000 adherents in the state. "Approximately $1,000,000 has been expended and authorized for church buildings and renovations in the state during the past year," said President Jacob L. Morgan in his official report to the convention following the formal opening. A program of Christian education, home missions and finance was outlined and presented to the convention and ordered placed in the hands of the committee on President's report.

The Rev. Edgar Grimm Miller, general secretary of the board of ministerial relief of the United Lutheran church in America, Dr. A. L. Ramer, secretary of the immigrant mission board of the United Lutheran church, and Dr. Charles E. Hay, superintendent of the deaconess Mother House, Philadelphia, Pa., and general secretary of Lutheran deaconess work in the United Lutheran churches, were heard in their respective capacities.

Following the meeting of the educational board of the North Carolina Synod, Dr. O. H. Pannkoek, representative of the National Lutheran bureau, New York City, made an announcement that perhaps never had its equal in the Lutheran church in America, certainly not in the Lutheran church in the south. Rhyne of Lincoln College of Hickory a signed agreement to make a donation in cotton mill stock to the value of $300,000 with the provision that an equal amount be given by the church at large.

LARGE FUN FEST LEGION HALL TONIGHT

The Community service get-together will be held tonight in the Legion hall at 7:30 o'clock and indications point to a very large attendance. For many these programs provide the only opportunity for recreation and the meeting of friends and neighbors.

Already there is a change in our attitude toward play. Formerly it was considered something permissible which might be indulged in occasionally within certain limits but now it is beginning to be taken seriously and considered a primary human need. Leadership qualities that often lie dormant are brought to the surface through such gatherings as provided in the Community Service program for Hickory. The outlying districts are becoming enthusiastic over the possibilities of community games, recreation, music and dramatics and there is already a demand for local leaders for programs in these places.

The program for this evening will include the popular games that have found favor with the people. Then too, new ones will be presented under the direction of Mr. H. D. Schuertz.

NEW VILLAGE AT GRANITE FALLS NOW BUILDING

The are hustling over at Granite Falls, where a new village is rising almost overnight. The Granite Cordage Company is having 40 three, four and five-room cottages erected to provide homes for new employees the first of the new year and the Elliott Building Company is doing a rush job. The contr. was signed four weeks ago and the roof and weatherboarding are being put on most of the houses. The sound of the saw and hammer is heard in that land, where four sub-contractors, with their forces of masons and carpenters, are literally consuming materials as rapidly as three or four different plants can put it on the ground.

With J. D. Elliott, president of the Elliott Building Company, and K. C. Menzies, a Record representative made a visit to Granite Falls yesterday afternoon and saw the work moving. J. Milton Setzer has charge of a new mill job near the graded school—a fine one at that—and Horace H. Abbe is keeping the carpenters and masons supplied with sash, doors and blinds and roofing, if the roofing is caught the drift of the situation, and everybody wants to be sure he is well supplied.

The houses will be equipped with water, bathroom and lights and are being built on new streets laid out for the purpose. The contract calls for completion of the 40 cottages by January 15, but if the weather is favorable, they will be turned over to the cordage company by the first. That looked like a cinch.

Mr. Elliott and Mr. Menzies decided at 10 minutes to 4 o'clock that they might run up to Morganton and see two other jobs Mr. Elliott is doing there—one the remodeling of the First National Bank building and the other an addition to a hospital—so Frank Shuford stepped on the gas and the party went by Caga's mountain and Rutherford College.

A new Buick short car was the vehicle used, and it is some car, too. It has everything desired, including an electric cigar lighter, and ate up the miles.

The Elliott company has a big job at Cooleemee, where R. G. Henry, who has just completed the erection of Lenoir's new high school building, has been assigned. Mr. Henry, by the way, built the Hickory postoffice and the municipal building and auditorium and contracting is what he craves. Mr. Elliott said Mr. Henry would help the organization, of which he is now a member, speed up the work a bit. The company also is building a station at Louisburg, has recently completed a school building at Union, S. C., the Mosteller building in Hickory, is putting up the First Building and Loan home, building a few more depots, and is just now in what might be called a strut. The company is loaded down with work and if it is all moving like that at Granite Falls, it soon will be ready for more.
