REPAID IN KIND

"Now I've had my revenge," said the shoe-shop proprietor to his friend, as a customer left.

"Revenge? How so?"
"Well, the young lady who just went out is a telephone operator. I gave her the wrong number."—London Opinion.

WHAT CROWNS ARE NOW

A reward of 1,000,000 Polish crowns has been offered for the discovery of the youthful Count Boverovski, Ottawa Citizen.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE

Two automobiles, a taxi driven by Vernon Herman and a Ford touring car operated by C. E. Mize, collided at the intersection of Thirteenth street and Tenth avenue about 6:40 this morning with the result that Mr. Mize is suffering from cuts on his right leg. The wind shield of his car was knocked out and struck his leg. Several stitches were made. The cars were not seriously damaged.

NEW DODGE BROTHERS SEDAN CAR A BEAUTY

The new model Dodge Brothers automobiles, including a sedan, are now displayed in the show room of the Standard Garage and Sales Company and are attracting lively interest. The sedan especially catches the eye. It is as pretty as any car on the market and its appointments are first class. Every person who observes it stops to admire.

WILLIAM FARNUM IN 'PERJURY' MAKES HIT WITH AUDIENCE

"Perjury," the William Fox special which created a tremendous sensation during its run in a Broadway, New York, theatre, opened a two days run at the Pastime theatre yesterday. It is a gripping drama of acute human emotion, and held the audience spellbound to the end.

The famous screen star is seen first as a vigorous man, happily married, ambitious and successful. Suspicion and jealousy, born of a secret enemy's envy, bring a change, and then comes race, followed by despair. Prison gates close upon Robert Moore for twenty years, following an unjust conviction of murder, and his wife and children are left to struggle alone in the world.

The last scenes show Robert, exonerated and pardoned at 65 years, old for his age, but with all bitterness and animosity eliminated in the crucible of long confinement, leaving a sweetness and gentleness of nature, which are exquisitely pathetic. "Perjury" is a picture play which will be long remembered as among the greatest of film productions.

Harry Millard directed the production, and the cast includes Sally Crute, Wallace Erskine, John Webb Dillon, Frank Shannon, Frank Joyner, James W. Crane, Grace La Vell, Gilbert Rooney and Alice Mann.

A RADIO CHRISTMAS

Is what it will be this year. Santa Claus has already placed a number of orders for Radio Equipment, and his pack this year will be filled with tuners and ticklers, detectors and amplifiers, tubes and batteries and coils and coils of wire.

H. A. Latta has been conscripted to help the old fellow out, and he has promised to see that the Radio sets are working properly on Christmas morning. All Mr. Latta asks is that orders be placed as early as possible so that nobody will be disappointed. Remember there are the expensive sets for the entire family, and the small inexpensive sets for the boys and girls to tinker with. Get in touch with Santa Claus in care of H. A. Latta at once. Adv.

RUTHERFORD COLLEGE

Rutherford College, Dec. 5.—The rains have come and we are glad for them, but like most every other community, a few people are not ready for them. They furnished a real excuse for those who would have worked at the new church to stay at home. Never mind, we will try it again next Saturday. Everybody in a radius of four miles around is invited to come with wagons, picks, shovels and crowbars and put in the biggest day's work yet.

Wife and I returned from a week's visit in Greensboro Friday afternoon. Guess we are housed in for the winter, but will not make any rash promises, for Christmas is coming and people are inclined to run around then, while excursion rates are to be had. We are sorry to note that Rev. J. M. Lowder has been quite sick since his return from his conference trip. He was quite sick Saturday night, and though still confined to his bed, is much better today. Mrs. Lowder is also quite indisposed, but the neighbors are coming nobly to their help.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howard and Mrs. Ada Hevner spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Howard's people in Denver, N. C., returning Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. U. Ledbetter, who went to the hospital in Rutherfordton, last Tuesday for treatment, passed the operation successfully, and expects to be able to return home in two weeks from the time she entered.

The Sabbath was observed here Sunday by a lively Sunday school, a preaching at 11 o'clock by Rev. Jim Green, who agreed to deliver a special sermon here next Sunday night on the "Evils of the Tobacco Habit." Rev. W. F. Elliott at 7:30 p. m. which was preceded by an interesting program by the Epworth League, at which cards were circulated, and a large number of them signed for the Christian workers' Covenant, Christian Stewardship, and Comrades of the Quiet Hour. This movement should result in deepening the piety and usefulness of these young people.

The following old students were welcome visitors here last week: Rev. I. L. Roberts, pastor of the Huntersville charge, Miss Erin Abernombie, teacher in the Table Rock school, Professor John Tabor, of the Ranlo High school. Owing to the semi-annual review and the pressure of work before the holidays the monthly lecture will be omitted this week.

last Friday night was a fine number and was well received. Next Friday evening an open debate will be given by the Platonic Literary society.

The Womans and Young Peoples Missionary societies had what they called a "measuring party" at the college Saturday evening, and raised a nice sum which was divided between the two societies.

The Platonic Literary society will hold an open debate at the college next Friday evening. This will likely be the last public entertainment before the holidays.

THEY'LL BE SURPRISED

It is proposed to make gramophone records of speeches made by present-day statesmen, for the benefit of coming generations. It is just as well that posterity should know what we have had to put up with.—Punch (London).

Just Married
