Jefferson's Education.

For a boy born in a wilderness, Jefferson enjoyed remarkable advantages in early youth, growing out of the fact that the frontier was as yet so near the parent colony. Good English tuition at 5, Latin, Greek and French at 9, regular classical studies at 14, and a college course at 17, fall to the lot of few Ameri can backwoods boys. #### Saratoga Chips,

"Do Saratoga chips come from Sara-toga!" inquired a Mail and Express reporter of a New York grocer.

"Not much," said the grocer. "They are made in this city, and many are shipped to Saratoga. But if you want The President's trip through the west to know all about them just go up to the bakery and see how they are made."

At the bakery it was learned that the concern has a monopoly of the business in this city, and that there are only three makers of Saratoga chips in the country. It has its moods and changes of color, like the tops of the Swiss Alps. This morning the base of the 600-foot structure was lost in a deep blue mist, which filled the valley for a depth of a couple hundred feet. Then came a section of, perhaps, 100 feet more in which the shaft was purple and pink, the whole crowned with a white blazing column, hundreds of feet high, flashing back the sunlight, set against a deep blue western sky! At another time you will see the cold, gray base of the monument rising above the deep green foliage which surrounds it, with the dark blue highlands of Arlington beyond, and overtopping all these cher in the crookly Academy of Music towering far above the horizon line, until on Monday night, preached in Plymouth | its top is lost in a sea of fleecy clouds. But at every flash of the lightning the whole eastern face of the monument gleamed and flashed like a polished sword, coming out of the darkness with a suddenness and vividness that was startling. It seemed to be a ghastly monument, a col-umn of electricity, which leaped from the earth to the sky. I am sure no other monument in this world can exhibit such a phase as that.

Where Dancing is a Passion.

I presume those who have not traveled in Spain hardly realize how thoroughly that country is given to the worship of St. Vitus. Says a recent writer: "The dance demon seizes on Spaniards at all times and under all circumstances-in the streets, on the public squares, under the porches of the stately mansions. A peripatetic musician comes along strum ming his guitar, and in an instant the maid servants throw aside their brooms, the work women set down the pitchers they are carrying to the fountain, the muleteers leave their mules, the innkeeper forgets your dinner, and all spring forward, arms akimbo and eyes sparkling. Their feet just touch the ground, they balance in unison with the music and dance with their souls as well as with their bodies. Let a tourist pay a visit to Toledo and put up at the ancient hostelry of De Lino, and let a guitar player station himself under the great sombre archway that Don Quixote himself would not have passed without a foreboding of evil. ## A "Fortune" That "Come True."

Some years ago Christine Nilsson, whose recent marriage, you remember, had the lines of her hand examined by a palmist, who told her she would have trouble from two causes, fire and maniacs. This prediction was verified for during the Chicago fire she lost $20,000, and when Boston was burned she lost $200,000. When at New York a crazy man followed her for a week, believing that the words addressed by Marguerite to Faust were intended for himself. In Chicago a poor student decided to marry her, and wrote passionate letters to which he received no answer. One day he came in a superb sleigh, drawn by four horses, to take his affianced bride to the church. The manager quieted him son has gone there to wait for you."
