VOL. VII.,

State Cannot Supply Liquors as a Beverage to Increase Revenue. FLATFOOTED DECISION. Federal Court Judge Holds That the south Carolina Measure in Conflict

With Inter-State Commerce Laws.

In the United States Circuit Court. at Charleston, South Carolina, Judge Simulton handed down his decision in whit is widely known as the Vanderwhich case, a case which involved the valuaty of many provisions of the South Carolina dispensary law. The decision created a sensation when it was learned that the court had declared certain provisions of the law in conflict with the inter-State commerce regulathey of Congress, and that conse-HILLETS. to a syllabus prefixed to the full text if the decision, Judge Simonton savs: Any State may in the exercise of the notice power, declare that the manufactire, sale, barter and exchange, or the se as a beverage of alcoholic liquors, republic evils, and having thus demed, can forbid such manufacture, barter and exchange, or use, withwhen territory. But when a State recnizes and approves the manufacture, barter and exchang, and the use beverage of alcoholic liquors, and State itself encourages the manufacture, engages in the sale of and proides for the consumption of alcoholic iquors as a beverage, and so precludes the idea that such manufacture, sale, barter, exchange or use are injurious to the public welfare, it is not a lawful exone of the police power to forbid the aportation of such liquors, or their ale in original packages, for personal ise and consumption. Such prohibition under such cir-fully used and consumed as a beverage by citizens and residents of the State of South Carolina. And that the prod-ucts of the vineyards are lawful subjects of inter-State and foreign trade and commerce. The bill then charges that the said dispensary law, in so far as it authorizes the acts of the defendants, or in any way attempts to abridge the right of importation of the products of complainants' vineyards, into this State and there to seal in original packages, or in any wise hinders and prevents its intercourse, commerce and trade with citizens and residents of South Carolina in the products of its vineyards in such original packages, is in conflict with the constitution of the United States and is null and void. The bill then alleges for the acts sustaining the jurisdiction of the United States Supreme Court, and prays for a temporary, to be followed by a permanent injunction.

He then reviews at great length the laws of the case and concludes his decision as follows: "It is manifest. therefore, that the same conclusion must be reached with regard to the dispensary of 1897, which was reached by the Supreme Court of the United States, as to the act of 1895, that it is not within the scope and operation of the Wil-son act. This being the case, the law inently it might result in the total laid down in Leisy vs. Hardin, controls lownfall of the South Carolina monop- this case and the attempt to forbid the ived the whiskey business within her importation and sale of spirituous liquors in original packages must fail. "The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States must control all Circuit Courts. By this decision it is clear that so long as the State herself engages in the business of importing and selling alcoholic liquors, for the purpose of profit. So long as she recognizes that the use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage, is lawful and can be encouraged. So long as she seeks a monopoly in supplying these liquors for that use, and in this way looks to an increase of revenue, she cannot, under her constitutional obligations to the other States of the Union, forbid, control, hinder and burden commerce in such articles between their citizens.'

The United States weather bureau, in its report of crop conditions for the past week, says:

The week has been generally favorable for farm work, but cool nights generally throughout the States of the central valleys, lake region and middle Atlantic coast have proved unfavorable for some crops, while the need of rain is beginning to be felt in the central Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and in the South Atlantic States.

Cotton has experienced general im. provement in Texas and has made rapid advancement over the southern part of the State, where squares and bolts are forming. A decided improvement is also reported from Alabama, with favorable reports from Arkansas and Georgia. Cool nights have proved injurious in Tennessee, and but slight improvement is reported in Louisiana, where the plant is sickly and is being in-jured by lice. While cool nights have unfavorably affected the crop in Mississippi, it shows improvement. In the Carolinas the plant is small, but healthy. In Indiana and Ohio, where corn planting has been much re-

REVIEW OF TRADE.

People Are Actually Doing More Business Than They Realize. Messrs, R. G. Dun & Co's. Weekly

Review of Trade for the week ending May 29th, says in part:

"People are actually doing more business than the realize. They reckon by values but these are much lower than in any previous year of prosperity and leave little margin for profits. In quality there is almost as much business being done as during the years of greatest prosperity and though the increase in population would call for more material expansion the comparison is not discouraging. The recovery is slow, hesitating and gradual, but more has been done on the whole in May than in April, while returns of April showed the volume of business only 1 per cent. smaller than that of the best year heretofore. Yet hesitation is doing its work every week, and multitudes are waiting, because of possibilities at Washington, who ought to be filling the demand for labor and the products of labor. "Events have proved that the crop of wheat going out is much larger than for the year. Of this number 437 have any of the markets expected, and Western receipts for the week were 30 per cent. larger than last year, while Atladtic exports have been for four weeks 6,815,329 bushels, flour included, opinions have been rendered are several against 4,777,457 last year. cunstances is in conflict with the laws of inter-State and foreign commerce. "The dispensary act of 1896 as amended by the act of 1897, inasmuch as they approve the purchase and manmacture of alcoholic liquors for the State and provide for the sale of such aboholic liquors as a beverage, in aid of the finances of the State, in so far as they forbid the importation of alcoholic hquors in original packages for such use in this State, are in conflict with laws of inter-State and foreign commerce, and are, therefore, to that exteat vent.

The court then goes into a lengthy discussion of the facts and the law of the case. Judge Simonton's summary of the facts before him is as follows: This is a bill in equity. The bill aleges that the complainant is the owner of vineyards in the State of California and that it manufactures from grapes of such vineyards, well known pure wines, brandies and other liquors, particularly clarets, Rhine wine, Burgundies and champagne. That by its traveling agent the complainant took orders from certain citi-

and residents of the Zetry State of South Carolina, to deliver to each of them certain original packages, products of its vineyards, filled said orders and shipped from San Francisco in California to Charleston, S. C., by rail, a carload of its products containing 13 separate original packages for each of its said customers, all marked with its name and address in Califorma adopting this mode of shipping by carbal in order to obtain a large reduction in freight. That the goods so shipped arrived in Charleston, passing through the hands of several common carners in continuous route; and thereupon were seized without warrant by Pefendants Baher and Scott and sixty of the packages were shipped by said constables to Columbia to John F. Gason, then the State Commissioner and got into his hands and then the busiless hands, and then into the hands of his successor, S. W. Vance, with full notice of the unlawful seizure, and that Vance, notwithstanding, refused to deliver them to complainant or its agent, alter repeated demands, and threatens to convert and sell the same to citizens of South Carolina. That these same constables and others, claiming like anthority, threaten to seize in like man-Ler, all wines shipped by ecmplainant into this State wherever found, and for whatever purpose shipped, arriving in said city of Charleston, and in like manner to ship and deliver the same to sand S.
