Losing Flesh

You naturally lose flesh in the summer and running down is so easy. You get a little weaker each day without hardly noticing it. There is loss of appetite, headache, weakness of the muscles, disturbed sleep, weakness of memory, and these are the beginning of nervous prostration. Iron and tonics and bitters may afford some temporary relief, but what you need is a food for body, brain and nerves.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites, furnishes just the nourishment needed for those who are run down and pale and thin and weak. If you lose flesh in summer take Scott's Emulsion now. Don't wait till fall or winter before beginning.

For sale at 25c and 50c by all druggists.

Jimbo.

Yadkin College.

While on one of my bums I chanced to stop at this place. Well, it is a bustling little city, located just in the bend of the mighty Yadkin, which is so muddy, all the time, that you couldn't see a whale in it if it was only six inches deep.

In this city I found three great tobacco works with enough negroes and white boss men to keep them all moving—you know it takes negroes stink to flavor tobacco and make it taste good. Yes, Webster Koonts, one of the tobacco boss men, is building him a dwelling house opposite his factory—then I guess he will get him a wife to go in it.

I am glad to state that I learned that Joe Walser, who has been sick, is improving.

One other thing I found in this city, which I was about to forget to tell about, is a starming big brick house which stands on one of the largest hills I ever saw, there is a thing on the top of this house that looks somewhat like the Finnacle on the Pilot Mountain, when a fellow goes on top of this thing he can almost see all out of doors. Then down on the ground, just at one side of this big house is a queer looking thing, it looks somewhat like an old fashion wash-pot turned upside down and hanging in a frame, every morning about eight o'clock a boy goes up and shakes that pot of a thing and it makes wonderful racket. Then it seems to me that all the children in town climb that hill and flocks in that big house, then there is always a whopping big man with the kids who looks like if he would give them a back handed lick it would knock them crazy for ever and always, instead of him being a negro boss I call him a "kid" boss and a good one too.

Then there a kind of a thing they call the Cicero Literary Society which meets in the College every Friday night, this society has debates in general and they tell me it is doing good work to make men out of the boys who attend it, I believe it because I attended it one night and can feel the effects already and think I will forever. On last Friday night this society met and elected officers as follows: W. H. Phillips, president; Geo. L. Curry, vice-president; Roy Williamson, secretary; J. A. Sotherly, Treasurer; H. B. Phillips, librarian.

W. J. Payne has lately arrived to attend this school, but is somewhat home-sick already, and I think if he don't get better he will be to send home.

But to lay all jokes aside, and take up facts I believe this is a fine little city and I know it has a good school and believe I know the school has a good Literary Society. Pat O. K.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MOTHERS.

WE ARE ASSERTING IN THE COURTS OUR RIGHT TO THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF THE WORD "CASTORIA," AND "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," AS OUR TRADE MARK.

I, DR. SAMUEL PITCHER, of Hyannis, Massachusetts, was the originator of "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," the same that has borne and does now bear the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on every wrapper. This is the original "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," which has been used in the homes of the Mothers of America for over thirty years. LOOK CAREFULLY at the wrapper and see that it is the kind you have always bought and has the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the wrapper. No one has authority from me to use my name except The Centaur Company of which Chas. H. Fletcher is President.
