Twenty-four arrivals at the Lincolnton Hotel on Monday last.

Davis & Collins are the best artists in town.

Mr. J. B. Ramsaur, of the firm of Lore & Ramsaur, left last week for Northern markets where he will buy a large fall stock.

Miss Bessie Johnston left for Mathews, N. C., on Monday last, to teach school.

Mrs. Minnie Tunis, who has been on a visit to Blowing Rock, returned last week.

Mr. C. P. Miller is going to add largely to his livery stables. This sounds like business.

Go to Davis & Collins for fine photographs.

A little black boy killed a rattle snake at the crossing of the C. C. and N. G. roads. It had seven rattles and a button and was 4 ft. long.

Since Aug. 1st. the Lincolnton Hotel has had about 350 arrivals. This speaks well for our town.

Miss Jennie Johnston left for the Charlotte Female Institute on Tuesday of last week.

Miss Annie W. Moore of Dallas, who has been visiting Col. J. C. Tipton's family, met with a painful mishap on Monday night last. A bug got into her ear and caused her intense suffering. It was finally killed by pouring oil into the ear. Miss Moore left for her home the next day, but the unwelcome guest still remained in her ear.

It is true that Davis & Collins take better photographs than any other artists that have been here for a number of years.

Gallery over Dr. Lawing's drug store. Give them a call.

Lincolnton is the most popular summer resort in this section of the state.

Messrs Wetmore, Brown and Taylor started off on a tramp through the mountains on Monday of last week, and returned on Friday.

The Piedmont Seminary opened last week and now has 50 or 60 pupils. We think that this is a good beginning.

Mrs. Wallace Alexander and Mrs. C. H. Motz left last week for Yanceyville Co. where they will visit relatives.

This is a dry (?) town and yet, from all we can hear, there are several "walking bar-rooms" which pay only poll taxes.

We hope the grand jury will ask them to go "courting".
