Pleasant visitors at the home of Mrs. J. B. Rees are her sister-in-law, Mrs. King of Richmond, Va., and niece, Miss Wilhelmina Mitchell of Connecticut.

Rev. H. H. Cassidy will preach in the High Shoals' Presbyterian church on next Sunday night at eight o'clock. Mr. Cassidy is to live at Dallas and will be the regular pastor of High Shoals church.

Chief Faries corraled three runaway youngsters at the Daniel mill Tuesday morning. Two of them were from Waco and the other from Cherryville. It developed that the boys when they left home Monday to see the sights of the world had only ten cents between them and this was spent at Crouse for a can of tomatoes which served as dinner. Just imagine three hefty youngsters making a can of tomatoes answer for a square meal. Monday night was spent in a barn near the Daniel and Tuesday morning some one at the mill notified Chief Faries who took them in tow, gave them their breakfast and a ticket for home. They had had enough of the trip by the time this point was reached and were glad to go home and once again hang their feet under dad's table.

Mr. W. L. Holbrooks, of Lincolnton route four was a visitor here yesterday.

Mr. H. F. McCaslin of Newton route three was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Mr. E. O. Anderson, cashier Independence Trust Co., Charlotte, spent last Tuesday in Lincolnton.

Sheriff G. L. Heavner and Mr. Jake Johnson left yesterday for a pleasure trip of a few days to the mountainous section of the State.

There is no medicine known that will cure tuberculosis, and those who patronize the firms or individuals who advertise to cure this disease not only squander their money, but throw away valuable time. Every consumption cure is worthless, and potentially dangerous.

Messrs. George and Milton McCorkle have purchased the David Drum place of 250 acres near the Little Mountain. On the place is a large amount of valuable timber and a good prospect of a gold mine. They got it at an auction sale at a great bargain. —Newton Enterprise.

The News is requested to state that there will be no services at the Reformed church Sunday. Rev. W. H. McNairy, the pastor, will be away from town attending classis at China Grove. Mr. E. D. Fox delegate from the Lincolnton church is also attending.

Dr. Joe Osborne of Lawndale makes a hobby of raising Indian runner ducks and was here yesterday with an unusually large egg which he was sending to The Progressive Farmer. The egg measures 7 inches around 8 1-2 inches lengthwise and weighs 5 ounces. The shell is crystal white. For eating purposes he says the runner duck eggs are just as good as those of the hen. —The Cleveland Star.

Complimentary to Fassifern Faculty.

In honor of the ladies of Fassifern School, Mrs. J. B. Wright gave an exceedingly pretty party on last Wednesday afternoon. The home was gay and festive in an abundance of the bright blossoms of the season, while a daisy hunt provided novel and pleasing entertainment. At the conclusion of the flower contest the hostess served her guests a delicious salad course followed by cream and cake.

A successor to the Maiden charge has not been chosen. Mr. Cromer's resignation takes effect August 10.

Lincoln County News Is On The Job.

Catawba County News

The Lincoln County News has an eye to the eternal fitness of things. In its Friday's issue there were pictures of Rev. Mr. Rowe of Newton, and Rev. Mr. McNairy of Lincolnton, and on the same page was a picture of a lusty rooster, crowing and looking his best. Preachers and chickens all on the one and the same page.

Union Warehouse Assured.

Newton, April 30.—After months of talking and hard work on the part of the members of the Farmers' union of Catawba county, their dreams in regard to a union warehouse will be realized. Already the greater part of the stock has been secured by the different local unions, others are subscribing and it is thought now that every local in the county will take a part of the stock. The warehouse will be built at Newton. A location has not been decided on yet, but it will probably be built on the railroad so as to save much necessary hauling of freight.

Winnipeg, Man., April 30.—A heavy fall of snow was general throughout Alberta Province today. Seventy-five per cent of the Spring wheat in Southern Alberta is above the ground.

CAPTURED IN CATAWBA

Revenue Officers Make a Raid In Catawba County and Land a Fifty Gallon Still—Moonshiners Swam to Safety.

Hickory, April 28.—Late Saturday afternoon Deputy Sheriff J. P. Burns and Revenue Officers Jones and Bandy raided a still near Wright Bros.' store, 17 miles southwest of this city and captured and destroyed a 50-gallon copper still and 1,500 gallons of beer, together with other fixtures. The still had been in operation for about two weeks and from appearances had been running day and night. As the officers stole upon the outfit two men were seen working at the place. At about the same time the men saw the officers and as the still was in such a place that the only way to reach it was by the path in which the officers were coming upon them on one side and South Fork river on the other, the moonshiners chose the only place left for them to vacate—the river. It is said that they did some powerful swimming to reach the other side, where they disappeared over the hill. Their names were not known.

Keep Your Money.

A new fake consumption cure is born every week, and, as some one said, a sucker is born every minute. Supply and demand, in these two instances, seem to run a riot. The supply of unfortunate consumptives and the demand for these false "cures" are rivaling. The race is nip and tuck.

But how are we going to head off such a race? Pure food and drug laws get an occasional fakir, but it is only an occasional one, scarcely a drop in the bucket. With all "consumption cures" founded on fraud and flourishing on fear, the ever-hopeful but susceptible consumptives is robbed of his money and robbed of his chance of life. But what care the "consumption cure" companies? It is good business.

The only prevention for such wholesale robbery is education. Yes, just that. Education will banish the old superstition that for every ailment there is a "specific." Education will teach those having consumption that their only assurance of a cure lies in their strict obedience to the laws of hygiene, with unlimited fresh air, rest and food. When this is done, why there will be no more demand for patent medicine consumption cures, and the dastardly business will stop. But we must educate, and the only way to do this effectively is through health departments town, county and State.

Six Health Suggestions For May.

1. Clean the barnyards, stable and chicken-yard again. Spread the manure on the fields. This is the time of year when manure does most good on the fields and most harm about the house.

2. Get a home canner. Start with the cherries and let the wife and the girls can all summer. Home-canned goods are better than store stuff and cheaper by far.

3. Screen a porch for sitting out. One that is shaded in the evening is best. Sit out there where the flies and mosquitoes can't get you. Eat out there, too. Sleep out there if you can. It is lots cooler than the coolest room in the house.

4. Get the wife a fireless cooker, or make one of a lard tub and some straw and a tin bucket. It saves chopping wood; keeps the kitchen cool and cooks better than the stove ever did.

5. Make a big fly trap, big as a barrel, bait it every day with fresh bread and milk. It will catch a bushel of flies in a week or so.

6. Take another look at the rain-barrel and the horse-trough, looking for wrigglers. Big mosquitoes come from little wrigglers.

DR. A. W. FREEMAN, In Progressive Farmer.

The final concert of the Music Department of Fassifern School will be given Tuesday night, May sixth, at 8:30 o'clock. At the close of the program will be presented the medal, certificate and the first diploma for the completion of the Literary Course. Friends and patrons of the school are cordially invited.

In Flaims! That's What Bill Hepburn Was & Might of Been Burned to Deth---All a Result of Bill's Appytite for the Demon Rum.

Special Correspondence Lincoln County News.

Bill Hepburn, our artistik blacksmith, when he is not under the influence of lieker had a narrer escape from being distinguished by fire last Saterdag ev'g. and while it lasted Bingville was in throws of excitement which was horrible to witness. Bill was burnt some as it is, and is a sadder, but wiser man, we hope. It was a good eal like this:

Bill he went to the countyseat last Saterdag and bought a hafl gal. of lieker and started home in his pung, and being as it was turrible cold." Bill tuck several swigs from the jug and by the time he reached Bingville he was warm and noisy.

Evverybuddy knowd he wuz coming when he wuz a mile out of town becuz he was a singin "Sweet Bye and Bye!" in a voice that could be heard clean over into Scraggs Township. Well, when Bill drove home his wife unhitched the hogs and tried to get him (Bill) into the house, but Bill said he was agoin' down to Hen Weathersby's store to have some fun and so he tuck the jug in one hand and started in the middle of the street, which wasn't scairecely wide enough for him, but he tried to make it do.

Bill got along all right till he met Miss Amelia Tucker, Bingville's leading soshial light, in front of Harve Hines' barber shop, and as soon as Bill recognized Amelia he straightened up and tuk off his hat and made a deep bow, saying, "Evening to you, Miss Tucker!" Of course Amelia didn't never let on she see him, becuz she said she would feel disgraced to speak to the likes of Bill Hepburn when he was so intoxicated.

Just as Bill went to make the bow, however, he bent too fur over and slipt on the ice and throwed forrerd his hand to save himself and smashed the jug of lieker, and most of it splashed over his person. Bill, he got up to his feet without knowing hardly what had happened he was so dazed, and his hat fell off and he couldn't find it, so he felt into his pocket and got holt of a match and struck it on the seat of his pants so as he would have a light to look for his hat by, and soon as the match struch, his clothing, which was soaked with rum, as you might say, it tuk fire and in a second Bill was in flaimes.

When Bill realized that he had ketched fire he run around in a serke a cuple of times hollerin "Fier!" at the top of his voice and evverybuddy rusht out of their houses and the boys all come out of Hen Weathersby's store, and when Bill saw em he started right tords em as hard as he could run and when they see him coming they started to run tother direkshion, becuz they was afeard Bill would ignite them also, and Hen Weathersby run into his store and lockt it up for the same reason, becuz he ain't got no inshoorance on the store, and by this time Bill was a little bit more soberer than what he had been, and he saw Seth Dewberry, our lion-hearted town constubble, and he started for Seth and hollerd to him for goodness sakes put him out, and Seth he run from Bill, and hollerd back that if he didn't pause he would a rest him for resisting a officer.

By this time Jed Peters, our intelligent school teacher, happened to come along, and seeing that Bill would be burnt to the ground and become a total loss unless something was did, Jed, with great presence of mind, snatched a pail from Hen Weathersby's store porch and run to the town pump and filled it with worter and dasht it all over Bill distinguishing the flaimes with one fell swoop.

The cold worter made Bill still more sober and like to of froze him to deth, and as soon as the fire was out he started for Jed for throwng so much worter on him, and if Jed hadn't of run Bill would of ketched him and-give him a good wallopin. As soon as the fire was out Bill went home and Doc Livermore was cald, who examined him critical and found that he was burned in two or three places and slapped linsed poultices on to him and made him go to bed. The lieker was a total loss.

An hour later the fire department responded promptly with their buckets, but when they found what it was that was on fire they was glad they hadn't got there sooner. The dept. tuk a vote on the spot and eleked Jed Peters ornry member of the Bingville Bucket Brigade for his heroic ackshun.
