DAVIDSON COLLEGE TO RAISE $600,000

Davidson, July 28.—A campaign to raise $600,000 for the endowment and expansion of Davidson College as one step in the program of Christian education of the Southern Presbyterian church, was announced here today by Dr. William J. Martin president of the college. The campaign will begin about September 15, and end January 1, 1923.

The minimum of $600,000 that will be raised by this campaign will be given chiefly in North Carolina, Georgia, and Florida, the states whose Presbyterian Synod have Davidson under their direction. Of the fund $400,000 will be used chiefly to rebuild the historic old Chambers Hall, and shrine of sons of Davidson, that was burned to the ground last November, and $200,000 will be added to the endowment fund of the institution in order that fifteen new teachers, necessary to the college with its present enrollment, can be added to the faculty.

Plans for the campaign with a mass meeting of students who rallied around the smoking ruins of the old hall, and pledged themselves to the task of rebuilding it, and at the same time gave their support to a greater and better Davidson. Hundreds of former students of the institution, including ex-president Woodrow Wilson endorsed the campaign movement and pledged their aid.

"A greater Davidson for a Greater Southern Church" will be the slogan of the campaign. Davidson College is famous throughout the United States as one of the greatest and best Christian colleges in the entire South, and its graduates include many men famous in history. One third of all Southern Presbyterian ministers are graduates of the institution, and this is by far the largest percentage from any institution. A large number of the present students at Davidson plan to enter the ministry that at any other Southern school.

Work at the institution was greatly handicapped by the destruction of Chambers Hall, the largest and most important building on the campus. According to the announcement of college officials this building will be rebuilt just as soon as the necessary funds for its construction are available. Much needed equipment for classrooms and laboratories, as well as an enlarged faculty will be provided from the increased funds made available by the campaign.

CHILD UNHURT AFTER

FALLING FROM TRAIN

Youngster Picked Up By Farmer After Miraculous Escape From Death.

Richmond, Va., July 22.—While a Sunday school excursion train going at the rate of 30 miles an hour, was coming from Buckroe Beach, Va., to Richmond last night, Woodson W. Woodward, two years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Woodward, of this city, fell out of a coach window as he reached for a toy balloon. The train was stopped while the excursionists became almost panic-stricken. A few minutes later a farmer found the little Woodward child wandering along the railroad tracks, toy balloon in hand, unhurt. The child's hand was stamped with hugs and kisses when he arrived at the waiting train.

PRACTICAL JOKER IS DAINTY

GLORIA SWANSON!

Star of "Beyond the Rocks" Puts Garlic in Valentino's Handkerchief! Gloria Swanson showed marked propensities as a practical joker during the filming of "Beyond the Rocks," her new Paramount picture showing at the Ford theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, when she made Rodolph Valentino, her leading man, the butt of a practical joke which caused hearty laughter.

During the filming of the scene in an Alpine tavern, Mr. Valentino, seated in the dining room, finds a lace handkerchief which he learns belongs to none of the ladies in his party. He lifts it to his nose and is entranced by the delicious perfume, which brings back memories of a romance of the past.

Miss Swanson conspired with the property man in preparing a duplicate handkerchief in which was concealed several pieces of garlic!

At the last rehearsal before shooting the scene, Miss Swanson whispered to Sam Wood, director, to note the result. Slowly and with a beatific smile, Mr. Valentino lifted the dainty kerchief to his nose and then a look of infinite disgust overspread his features, followed by one of surprise, till the shrieks of laughter from the star and other told him it was a joke.

The boll weevil is getting close home, Mr. John Eaker has found several bolls containing these pesky things.

Prof. C. L. Eaker who is attending summer school at Chapel Hill, has succeeded in getting a high school teacher, Mr. Strider of Davidson county, for the North Brook Consolidated school. Mr. Eaker has informed us that he is a live wire, interested in school and athletics. We are hoping North Brook will do some good ball playing this coming term. He has had special training in elocution and debating, he is also fine in English and History.

MINISTERAL STUDENTS WANTS BOOKS

Davidson, N. C., July 12, 1922

Lincoln County News,
Dear Editor: I am preparing for the ministry in Carolina Institute and Bible Seminary, Kinston, N. C., and fell there are people in my county who have some good books that would help to build up a library, or some school books which would aid in supplying the fatherless and motherless, who are welcomed into this institution when otherwise it is impossible for them to accomplish anything. I feel that they would gladly contribute some to a school who's head (Prof. J. A. Saunders, is giving life a living sacrifice for those who are least able to help themselves. (James 1:27) encourages us in this effort.

Anyone desiring to help in this cause will please write name and address inside of front cover and mail or ship to Rev. J. A. Saunders, Kinston, N. C., care of C. T. & B. S. Yours truly,
Jack Barker.

MAJOR GRAHAM SETS HISTORY STRAIGHT

Raleigh, N. C., July 22, 1922.

Lincoln County News, Lincolnton, N. C.
Gentlemen: You will notice in Mr. Hoffman's sketch of the Morrison family he states that Mrs. Morrison was a grand-daughter of John Graham, signer of the Mecklenburg Declaration. This is a mistake; she is a grand-daughter of John Davidson, who was the signer of the Mecklenburg Declaration.

R. H. Morrison, Jr., was on the staff of Gen. Rufus Barringer and not Gen. D. H. Hill. He now lives at Mt. Mourne in Iredell county and his son was a member of the legislature of that county in 1920. These are the only corrections which appear to me in the statement.

Yours Very Truly,
W. A. Graham.

A lightning bolt not only killed two birds with one shot but a cow to boot, Mr. R. L. Mize reported late Saturday. His cow was pastured in Mr. C. C. Bost's lot in Highland and was standing about 20 feet from a poplar tree several days ago when an electrical storm came up. A bolt splintered the tree, killed the cow and a jaybird and thrush which had taken refuge in the tree. Their bodies were found under the poplar by Mr. Mize and several other persons saw them. It was the first incident of this kind ever reported here. —Hickory Record.

ROCKY MOUNT MAN IS VICTIM OF AN UNUSUAL ACCIDENT ON RAILROAD

Washington, July 22.—E. V. Hunter of Rocky Mount, N. C., a baggage man on a Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac train was killed today in an unusual accident in the Washington terminal yards.

Hunter, as his train was pulling into the yards, leaned from the door of the baggage car. A break in an air brake coupler suddenly brought the train to a standstill, the sliding door of the baggage car closing and catching Hunter, who received injuries from which he died later in a hospital.

EDITORS CELEBRATE GOLDEN JUBILEE

Successful Convention of N. C. Press Last Weeks at Cleveland Spring Hotel, Shelby—As Host Shelby Dispensed Real Southern Hospitality—Few Editors Who could Look Back Over Fifty Year Period Program.

About once a year an editor goes away for a few days and associates with fellow editors in Convention. This year the North Carolina Press Association meeting was held at Cleveland Springs Hotel assembly room at Shelby. It was the Golden Jubilee Convention, and the program looked back over the past fifty years in Tarheia. The convention was very largely attended, both the Shelby hotels being crowded and the overflow was taken care of by Shelby homes.

The Golden Jubilee was a big success and editors from the high peaks to the rolling waves were present in large numbers, many with their families or a portion of the household, and they returned home singing the praises of Shelby's hospitality. The extra program put on by the association itself was out of the ordinary and very enjoyable, but the hospitality of the Shelby people was an outstanding feature of the editors meeting, and for the next 50 years a pleasant memory in the minds of Tar Heel editors will be the "Golden Jubilee" convention at Shelby and the real Southern hospitality shown by the Shelby people.

At the opening session at Cleveland Springs Hotel, the address of welcome was delivered by Clyde R. Hoey, former member of Congress. Mr. Hoey paid tribute to the editors and the newspapers, told with evident pleasure that some twenty years ago he had been an editor, and portrayed swiftly the great progress made by the newspapers of North Carolina in the past twenty years, saying, too, that never the clink of the money in the till of the business office influenced the policy of the editorial columns. He told, too, of the big things that had happened in Cleveland county and Shelby since the beginning of this century, that in them was a counterpart of the forging ahead of the state itself. Shelby gave a royal welcome through its representative, and its citizenry made good, for the town was wide open in its hospitality.

Sanford Martin, editor of the Winston-Salem Journal, one time Secretary to Governor Bickett and an ex-president of the press association made the response. Mr. Martin, in the course of his remarks speaking of the choice things Mr. Hoey had said of the editors, that it is always better "to have taffy than epitaphy," a sentiment in which there was agreement all round, the applause proving it. Both Mr. Hoey and Editor Martin "did themselves proud" by their clever remarks.

Business was completed by the convention Thursday night but entertainment by Shelby continued through Friday when 100 automobiles were placed at the service of the Convention by Shelby Citizens through Editor Weathers of the Star for a trip to Chimney Rock, where a sumptuous dinner was given by Shelby Kiwanis Club. The feast of a dinner had been prepared in the dining pavilion located high up near the chimney shaped rock. Dr. Morse turned the place over to the party. Speech making occupied the dinner hour, Col. T. L. Kirkpatrick of Charlotte, Dr. W. A. Smith of Hendersonville, E. E. Britton of Washington, and others being among the speakers. On the trip the writer had the very good fortune of falling into the hands of Mr. George Blanton of Shelby and traveled with him on the mountain trip and he observed that he is no stranger to that section; he knows the people, the points of interest and the highways. Great improvements continue in Cleveland and Rutherford counties. The city of Shelby is engaged in making six miles of permanent streets, building new homes and industrial plants. Rutherford also is growing; the Chimney Rock section is developing into a great play ground, cottages and hotels and tents are becoming more numerous each year. The highway to Chimney Rock is still partly in the hands of the state road forces; it is being straightened, new concrete bridges put in and the road resurfaced with soil.

On the way to Chimney Rock, a distance of some 50 miles from Shelby along the Wilmington-Charlotte-Asheville highway, the party stopped at Rutherfordton, "The Gateway of the Land of the Sky", and were given a cordial welcome by the citizens of the Rutherford county capital. The visitors and the townspeople gathered for 45 minutes

SHORT NEWS ITEMS

Atlanta, Ga. July 22.—The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan have been ordered to discard their masks, robes and other regalia except when in their lodge rooms, it was announced here tonight at headquarters of the organization. The order was first made public in a letter to Governor Hardwick of Georgia from E. Y. Clarke, Imperial Wizard, pro-tem, mentioning only Georgia Klansmen but later it was stated the order was general.

on the courthouse lawn the party proceeded to the Rutherford hospital, and were shown through it, being especially interested in the radium equipment, which is declared superior to anything of the sort south of Baltimore, and the great x-ray equipment, which is said to be of the most modern design. The wonders of radium, as explained to the visitors, greatly interested the newspaper men. They were told that the one-fourth of a level teaspoonful which is installed in this institution cost $90,000, to say nothing of the expensive equipment installed for its use, the whole outfit having been made possible by the gift of $100,000 by J. C. Plonk, as a memorial to his wife, the late Mrs. Laura Plonk.
