In School matters Catawba Springs and North Brook townships of this county, made a forward move last Monday when the voters said yes to the proposition for an accredited High School in each of these townships. That's real Progress, and the folks are to be commended for their vision.

With a standard High School in North Brook and Catawba Springs township those sections may expect the move to town, that the children may finish their education, to cease. When the schools in the country become equal of any in any city, the population of towns will not increase so fast at the expense of the country.

You will be out of luck if you have not a new number on your gas buggy by next Tuesday.

The next president of the U. S. A. is being selected by the Democrats in convention this week in New York City.

People this day and time deliberately vote upon themselves more taxes if it is for schools and roads. These are the developers of N. C.

More Good Nuggets. It isn't your position, but your disposition, that makes you happy or unhappy.

Front page news this week is furnished from the big city of New York, where the big Democratic Convention nominated a presidential candidate. This convention was one of the most important in the history of the nation. The interest was great, one reason for this being uncertainty. No one seemed sure as to who the nominee would be.

France has elected a new President without holding any nominating convention. But the game is nothing like so exciting as it is in the United States.

MORTGAGE SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust dated March 15, 1917, and now of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Lincoln county, North Carolina, in a Mortgage Book 122, on page 339, and executed by John Beam and wife Minnie Beam to E. Randolph Williams and O. M. Mull, trustees, to secure an indebtedness of $2500, default in payment having been made and being requested by the holder of said indebtedness to foreclose, we, as trustees, will sell at public auction for cash, to the highest bidder, at the Court House door in the town of Lincoln, N. C. at 12 o'clock, or within legal hours, on MONDAY, JULY 21, 1924, the following described real estate encumbered by said deed of trust, in order to secure funds with which to satisfy said indebtedness, to wit: Adjoining the lands of N. D. Dellinger, David Dellinger, John Queen and others, in Lincoln county, and bounded as follows, to wit:

Beginning on a black jack and running thence N. 24 E. 122 poles to a stone; thence N. 72 W. 62 1-2 poles to a stone; thence N. 25 1-2 W. 82 poles to a stone; thence S. 48 W. 66 poles to a pine stump; thence S. 55 W. 28 4-5 poles to a poplar; thence S. 15 E. 51 poles to a stone; thence S. 6 W. 62 poles to a pine; thence S. 37 W. 74 poles to a stone; thence S. 72 E. 40 poles to a post oak; thence S. 23 1-2 E. 30 poles to a Sassafras; thence N. 58 E. 23 poles to a stake or stone; thence N. 72 E. 108 1-2 poles to a red oak; thence N. 43 W. 24 poles to the beginning, containing 176 acres, more or less. Excepting that part of said tract which lies on the south side of Mill creek and containing 40 acres, the same having already been sold off to Frank L. Beam. This June 16, 1924.

M'ADOO AND ROBINSON AND OSCAR UNDERWOOD PLACED IN NOMINATION

New York, June 25.—The deep, swift currents of Democratic rivalry and dissension burst their dykes today in Madison Square Garden and engulfed the party's national convention with a bellowing wave of confusion and disorder.

The Ku Klux Klan issue, brought at last to the open floor of the convention, set off an anti-klan demonstration that swept the great hall like a tornado and led to several fist fights among delegates, but apparently brought the question no nearer a solution.

Reaching the stage of receiving nominations for the presidency, the convention also was shown in an hour's demonstration for William G. McAdoo visible proof of the organized and driving power of the forces that are at work to influence the selection of a nominee.

The name of Governor Al Smith, of New York, will be presented Thursday and his campaign organization was preparing a convention floor parade designed to out last and outbid that accorded today to his leading rival. Nominating speeches for all the other candidates are expected to conclude before Thursday night, but there will be no balloting before Friday or Saturday.

Convention officials hope the platform will be ready for submission by Friday morning.

In all about 20 candidates are to be formally presented to the convention and only three of the nominating speeches were heard today. Alabama, heading the roll of States, placed in nomination Senator Oscar W. Underwood. Arizona had no nomination to present, and Arkansas presented the name of Senator Joseph T. Robinson. California's nomination of Mr. McAdoo and the demonstration in his behalf brought the day's proceedings to a close.

CONVENTION NOTES

The front page of newspapers are given over to Democratic convention this week. The headlines scream:

Delegates indulge in old time 20-minute demonstration in honor of Wilson's memory.

McAdoo gaining ground hourly. Morrison calls on McAdoo.

Prohibition and the League are central issues.

Need a Paul Revere in the White House says Harrison, who calls on party to present solid front to enemy. McAdoo stock goes up in face of plan to wear out his forces.

Senator Walsh introduced as greatest investigator in the world.

Mothers of New York present fans to Dems, sweltering in heat.

Hope to nominate this week is aim of McAdoo Forces.

One hour demonstration for McAdoo.

Smith forces plan an 8 hour demonstration when his name is presented today.

LOOKS LIKE A DARK HORSE TO MR. POU—McLEAN FLOOR MAN

New York, June 25.—The name of McAdoo was presented to the convention and there followed a demonstration which the McAdoo partisans considered very satisfactory. Representative Pou said after spending some time with the North Carolina delegation "it looks like a dark horse to me." Mr. McLean has been designated as one of the McAdoo floor managers.
