LEAKSVILLE AS IT WAS IN 1914 AND WHAT IT MAY BE

Building of mills in Leaksville Gave Town New Hope And Life

CHANGES SHOW SOME PROGRESS IN 9 YEARS

When it became known that Marshall Field and Company would build large Mills in Leaksville, the old town began to take on hope followed by new life. Dreams of great riches passed through many a man's mind. New hope gives inspiration for undertakings in many lines of business and enterprise. But then as people began to find themselves and settle to the work before them, the war came on and with it new problems were upon us. Conservatism seemed to again dominate the thought and action of most men. No one knew just how things would end. Of course no one doubted the outcome, but as to when the struggle would end and the result as far as business was concerned, no one knew.

It was only natural that a people long conservative would again return to that state of mind whenever a dark cloud appeared. So it may be truthfully calculated that the war held the town back at least four years. It will be remembered that a start was made in the way of public improvements when Washington street and Boone road were paved with asphalt and water and sewer mains laid on Washington street.

High priced materials and labor conditions along with the policy of the Federal administration made further progress in public improvements impractical. It was then decided to defer any additional public work under the then existing conditions.

As for the Mills this policy did not prevail. Work was pushed on the Mills until they were completed and put into operation. Hundreds of houses were built for employes, streets laid out and graded, sidewalks laid and a town really brought into being in two years time. For the benefit of out of town readers, it may be stated that the mills are located inside of the incorporated town lines, while most of the mill residential section lies outside the line, but close to the town. This development undoubtedly added 1,000 or 1,200 more people to Leaksville inside and outside.

No town can be more proud of its mills than Leaksville. There is a good reason why it should in addition to the increased business it brought to stores and shops. The Wearwell Bedspread mills are a complete textile unit taking the raw cotton and turning out the finished Bedspreads ready for the Market, with a capacity of 15,000 Bedspreads a week.

And another thing, the management was in the hands of men well known in the community. This developed a spirit of cooperation. Work already begun, means much for Leaksville when completed. Until completed, it is but a hindrance to business with streets and roads torn up. Next summer should see one big thing after another completed.

The $200,000 State Highway bridge on Hamilton streets across Dan river, should be open for travel late next summer. This will mean an asphalt road from both Greensboro and Danville, Va., by way of Reidsville through Wentworth the county seat, to Leaksville and a sand clay road to Ridgeway and Martinsville Virginia. While the State road by the Berry route will be two miles longer between Leaksville and Wentworth, the Hamilton Street route direct to Ridgeway will make up about the same distance.

The Town Engineer expects to see the $200,000 water and sewerage systems in operation in June of this year. This will give the town a first class water system of suffi-

BURDENED WITH BILLS, BUT NO CARFARE

(By Associated Press) DUESSELDORF, March 6.—"You must be making an enormous lot of money," said an American to the head porter of the largest hotel in Duesseldorf, "you spend more than half your time counting great stacks of bills."

The head porter looked up sadly: "Don't joke with me," he admonished. "I am the man who is responsible for the passing of one of the oldest ironical sarcastic remarks ever made about jobs."

"What is it, I would like to know?" "This job isn't worth carfare," the porter replied.

It turned out to be literally true. It cost him fifteen thousand marks a month to go to and from his work on the street cars; the hotel paid him ten thousand marks.

Grossman said his invention could provide light, heat and power, while being used in office buildings to produce motor trucks. He will build a larger model to prove his theory.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OVERCOME SEVERE HANDICAP AFTER ALL

Passed best educational measure ever enacted in North Carolina

The General Assembly of 1923 labored under severe handicaps. So many things of a spectacular nature happened in Raleigh during the sixty days of its life that we are afraid the public gave more attention to them than to the great constructive activities of the law-makers.

From the headlines and debates in both ends of the capital a man from Mars might have thought the anti-Ku Klux bill was of more importance than the educational bill. But they do not deserve to be mentioned in the same breath. We have the word of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction that the 1923 Legislature passed the best educational measure ever enacted in N. C., if it had done nothing else, it would deserve to rank high among the legislative bodies of the Commonwealth.

There were many spectacular investigations. Sometimes these so far overshadowed the real work of the Legislature that the public was tempted to reach the conclusion that the General Assembly was doing nothing but investigate. But as a matter of fact it was making better provision for the maintenance and progress of the State's institutions than was ever made by any other Legislature.

Of course, the Legislature of 1923 made mistakes. It did some things that it ought not to have done and left undone some things that it ought to have done. But on the whole its record is one of which every member of both Houses may well be proud. The good bills far outnumber the bad bills. The things it failed to do that were right are nothing to the things it might have done that were wrong, but didn't. It failed to give us relief from congested court dockets by redistributing the State, but at the same time it might have put Solicitors' salaries so low that no lawyer worthy of the profession would have had the job.

MRS. D. E. PURCELL SHOT THREE TIMES BY YOUNG BOY

Hilton Seares taken into the home turns on lady of house while men is out

DEMAND HER TO OPEN THE SAFE FOR HIM

REIDSVILLE, March, 7.—Mrs. D. Ernest Purcell was shot and perhaps fatally wounded yesterday morning at 10 o'clock by Hilton Seares, a 17-year old orphan boy who was making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Purcell about seven miles south west of Reidsville.

Mrs. Purcell was carried to a Greensboro hospital this afternoon. Mrs. Purcell's husband was spending the day in Danville on business and young Seares, taking advantage of Mr. Purcell's absence, decided to rob the safe in the Purcell home. Entering the room he demanded of Mrs. Purcell to open the safe, and upon her refusal, the boy shot her with a revolver. The first bullet entered her arm, penetrating into her breast. Two other bullets entered the woman's back just left of the spine.

Her children at school at Sharon, a mile distant, were notified and one of the sons came to Reidsville for a physician.

The Purcells are prominent and well known in this county. Last year Mr. Purcell operated an automobile business in Reidsville.

The youthful desperado has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Purcell about a month. Only last Saturday Mr. Purcell told County Welfare Superintendent J. H. Allen that the youngster had been a model boy and he and his family were delighted to have him in their home.

Seares was an inmate for a time at the Thomasville orphanage. Last year he was sent to the orphanage farm (Kennedy Home) near Kinston. Seares was dissatisfied with his surroundings there and ran away. At little later he was caught at Raleigh and turned over to the State Welfare Department. About the first of December Welfare Superintendent J. H. Allen, of Rockingham county, was asked to take the boy in charge. Supt. Allen went to the home of the boy's sister, Mrs. Whitt, at Proximity, and brought the youth to Reidsville.

Mr. Purcell asked Supt. Allen to allow him to take charge of the boy. Seares seemed to be delighted with his new home and soon gained the full confidence of the Purcell family. He knew that Mr. Purcell kept money in the safe at home and the temptation to rob was too great for him to resist.

Seeing Mrs. Purcell seriously wounded the boy dropped the revolver, mounted one of Mr. Purcell's horses and left. Ashort distance down the road an hour after the shooting occurred the horse was found wandering in the woods without its rider.

Searching parties were formed and messages sent to nearby points notifying officers of the dastardly deed.

Mrs. Purcell before her marriage was Miss Vannie Troxler, daughter of Alex. Troxler, of near Benaja.

REIDSVILLE, March 7.—At noon today the Sheriff's office or Police Department of Reidsville had not located Hilton Seares who yesterday shot Mrs. D. E. Purcell at their home west of Reidsville.

They had a report stating that a young man answering the boy's description was carried toward Burlington or Eden College. Seares spent the night, it was said in Rockingham County.

Mrs. Purcell was reported better this morning and hopes are now held out for her recovery.

There is a $50 reward now offered for the arrest of Seares.

Mrs. B. Frank Mebane returned home last evening from a trip to New York, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. Col. Mebane meeting her at Reidsville.
