KEEP UNSPOTTED

(By Wickes Wimbold)

The man who takes good care of his physical self spends about an hour a day at it. He must keep his hair cut, his face shaved, his nails manicured his body bathed his clothes brushed, his shoes shined. And his linen must be clean. It calls for constant vigilance. To keep oneself morally clean it is even more difficult because the lines are less definite.

The five physical senses cannot know spiritually. They do not discern it. But they can discern and turn toward all that is unspiritual. The eye must glimpse the thing that is unspiritual before it can be prevented. The ear will pick it up. The nose will smell it. The tongue taste. The fingers touch.

Why is it so difficult to do the decent thing? Probably for the same reason it is harder to do on example in algebra than not to do it. We need spiritual exercise. We need to work out life's problems. Evidently that is what we are here for.

Nearly every person puts to himself the question, "How can I keep unspotted from the world?" Instinctively he knows he should keep himself unspotted. Instinctively he wants to be unspotted. That is one of the differences between man and beast.

There is no man with habits so low that there is not within him a constant urge for better things—for higher things. He may not realize it but it is there. The proof is on every hand. Time and time again we see men rise from the muck and mire cleanse themselves and stand in the white light of spiritual determination.

The great objective of all mankind is to keep the spots off. I have known men to weep over their failure to do so and weeping keep right on in the way they themselves deplore. "I try," they say, "but my will is not strong enough."

Man's will is never strong enough. It is a puny thing when pitted against the devil's. The devil has a giant determination. You cannot fight the devil with his own weapons, because he knows how to use them better than you do. Locking horns with the devil is like matching muscle with a gorilla.

There is a way to get the best of evil, however. Neutralize it. How? It is really simple enough. If you were going to destroy acid you would not add more acid to it. You would pour in a quantity of alkali. If you have an unwholesome desire, don't fight it by saying, "I will not have this unwholesome desire,"—for you are then holding up before you and looking at the thing you want to keep away from.

Go at it from another angle. Declare the thing you want. Do not declare the thing you don't want. Say in substance when tempted or when an unwanted thought appears, "I love the right thing. I love decency. I love fidelity, chastity and purity. I love to be clean, wholesome and manly. I love to worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." You will be surprised at the neutralizing effect this procedure will produce.

Do not turn your back on the devil. You cannot get anywhere by ignoring him. Do not look at him. For he has a strong allurements. But always adopt the practice of placing Christ between yourself and the devil and he will be neutralized. He will flee from you.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.
