Senator Hiram Johnson Will Seek Republican Nomination For President Friends of W. G. McAdoo To Nominate Him on Democratic Ticket

Two Presidential Candidates Toss Their Hats in The Political Ring

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, November 16.—Two presidential books containing emanating from Chicago resound throughout the country today with the formal announcement of Senator Hiram Johnson of California that he is in the contest for nomination as a Republican candidate and the endorsement from Omaha, Nebraska, by William Gibbs McAdoo of a statement issued here by David Rockwell that supporters of the former treasury secretary intend to nominate him in the Democratic National convention and elect him to the presidency.

Senator Hiram Johnson of California tonight announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President declaring "the ensuing contest will determine whether the Republican party shall be the permanent instrument of reaction or whether it shall respond to present day conditions and aspirations.

In tossing his hat into the presidential ring Senator Johnson declared for indirect presidential preference primaries in all the states and the need today for a "revitalized Republican party" which should be an instrument rather of static reaction or destructive radicalism, and expressed opposition to the league of nations and all its subsidiaries.

NEW BALTIC STATES PROSPER, BUT FEAR GOBLIN OF THE EAST

(By Associated Press)
Riga, November 16.—The new Baltic Republics are prospering and their foreign observers are optimistic as to their future. Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, from their respective independence, have passed through a period of common to all of them, and are today exhibiting a new vitality. The nations still in the grip of a goblin of the East, Russia, who some day may step in and gobble it up like the giant in Jack and the Beanstalk.

Just now according to American and other foreign observers at Riga, Reval, and Kovno who base their belief upon first hand information from Moscow, Soviet Russia has no desire for the trouble and war that aggression against these states would mean. In fact some of the more optimistic Russian leaders predict that within a decade or so, the Baltic provinces will willingly join the union of Soviet Socialist republics as autonomous states.

Of the three states, Latvia perhaps is at the present the most prosperous. Her imports were only slightly above her exports in value last year, and this year it is hoped that the trade balance will be in her favor. Her currency too is stable and the government recently informed the American Minister to the Baltic States that Latvia would like to negotiate for the funding of her $100,000,000 dollar debt to the United States.

Latvia's dairy product export is constantly growing and the country has ambitions to rival Denmark in this respect. Riga once a great industrial city is still far from having recovered the factories she lost when machinery was evacuated into Russia during the war. The Soviet government promised to return it, but thru neglect or inability to find the machinery, has sent only a small proportion back to Riga.

Lithuania being mainly agricultural and previously dependent upon Germany for manufactured articles and financial support and having had prolonged troubles over Vilna and Memel with the Poles has not reached the obvious prosperity of her northern neighbor. But it too is too far moving ahead. Lithuania's relations with Soviet Russia may be said to be more cordial than those of her sister states.

Polonia which probably grows more potatoes in the square mile than Ireland ever dreamed of turns most of them into alcohol and her spirit industry is thriving. In fact she is the Bahamas of the Baltic with dry Russia, dry Finland and somewhat dry Sweden and Norway as neighbors. Bootlegging and vodka running are prosperous and reputed to be among the sturdy folk of this maritime and farming republic.

Ere Maria has been taken over by the Lithuanians—and they mean to keep it. Each of the Baltic states has a pact that Soviet Russia either must today or will cover some day. The pact for all of their admitted patriotic and nationalistic feelings should secure amicable relations.

New York's Latest Crime Wave Crows More Desperate

Bandits Smash Plate Glass Window Get $50,000 Worth of Furs

OTHER BANDITS GET WAGON LOAD OF SILK

(By Associated Press)
New York, November 16.—New York's latest crime wave continued when bandits smashed the plate glass window in the fashionable 5th men were in the store. Thieves sent two ash cans crashing thru a window shop of Hickson Incorporated and escaped in an automobile with $50,000 worth of furs. This robbery which followed the theft of a wagon load of silk from a livery stable took place while four watch dogs and before the watchmen could reach the street to get a description of either of the bandits or their car they escaped. John Gillen night hostler was beaten into unconsciousness bound and gagged by the four armed men who escaped with the wagon load of silk.

VARIOUS LOWLY JOBS WORKED BY GERMANS TO INCREASE INCOMES

(By Associated Press)
Leipzig, November 16.—This is a time of by-profession in Germany. Doctors, lawyers, teachers, professors, scientists, dentist, preachers government employes and actors will all cling to their old callings are for the most part doing something else in their free time to piece out their incomes.

Stock brokerage and money changing are popular sidelines for professional folk. All sorts of securities are in great demand among persons who wish to get rid of their marks as soon as possible with the result that there is flourishing business for bond and securities agents who conduct their business in a more or less secret way.

Everybody is dodging taxes, consequently there is a great demand among persons with funds to conceal their wealth.

Many professional men also become agents for coal dealers. There are many restrictions on the sale of fuel. Consequently it is bootlegged, such as foreign money is.

Manual labor is much better paid than many professions, with the result that men of excellent education are accepting positions as janitors and street cleaners. One Berlin lawyer who had a lucrative practice before the war is now running a just-cart, and is much happier than many of his associates in the practice of the law who are waiting in idleness for clients to visit them in unheated offices.

Hotel prices have soared so high that most of the larger hotels have been emptied and their patrons have sought private lodgings to the great delight of women who have large apartments and are glad to get roomers who will pay higher prices than persons who get rooms assigned to them thru the housing committees.

MUST AMEND STATE LAWS FOR FARMERS CREDIT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, November 16.—The of a number of states will have to be amended to enable their farmers to take full advantage of intermediate credits provided by Congress in the agricultural credits act. Secretary of agriculture announced. Officers of farm organizations held should examine their state laws and if they find that the act has not been secured amendments.

LET US "JUST BE KIND"

Wouldn't this be a nice world if people made only speeches to one another instead of indulging in ill-tempered remarks and mean criticism?

Even the bravest of us, the most self-reliant the ones of us who are most liberally endowed with common sense, have our moments of yearnings for sympathy the periods when we want some one to tell us that we are just the nicest creatures that ever happened.

Of course we don't believe it any of us but it makes us feel good just the same, and it helps us to work a little harder and to be a little more diligent and to postpone for a little longer the day that just seems to end everything.

Families often indulge in unkindly criticisms of one another. Kind remarks are as unheard of in some as two Sundays in a week, and natures that would blossom into new beauties and broader development under the influence of praise are starved and dwarfed and stunted for its lack.

A pleasant feeling for yourself helps you to get thru your given work more easily; things glide along on wheels devoid of friction, the duties that looked mountain high dwindle down to hill-like proportions and all because some one has been nice enough to say a word that made you feel at peace with the world and yourself.

And since unkindly criticism hurts so much and since praise leaves such a pleasant impression let us all turn over a new leaf commencing with this Thanksgiving season and be nice to each other as we journey along.

What does it matter if some one accuses us of jolly? We are big and strong and can stand having that said to us when we know that we are infusing a little cheer and gladness into some one's life.

So let us from now on as James Whitcomb Riley says in his familiar poem, "Just Be Kind."

The Oregon State Federation of Labor refuses to follow the lead of Samuel Gompers who demands light wines and beer exempted in the liquor law. The Oregon federation unanimously adopted a resolution declaring for strict enforcement of the law as it stands.

England and France Is At Parting Of Ways Over German Affairs

France Demands Extradition Of The Former Crown Prince And Military Control

(By Associated Press)
London, November 16.—Indications are multiplying that England and France are approaching a parting of the ways on the question of how to deal with Germany. France's threatened penalties against Germany if Berlin does not recede from its position on the extradition of the former Crown Prince and the re-establishment of a full fledged military control in Germany are declared in government quarters here to be wholly unacceptable to England.

PERPETUAL LIGHT PROPOSED AT TOMB OF UNKNOWN POILU

(By Associated Press)
Paris, November 16.—The tomb of France's unknown soldier beneath the Arc de Triomphe will become a mere impressive symbol of sacrifice if the proposal to keep aflame under the arch burning day and night is adopted. The unknown soldier's tomb continues a national shrine and is visited by thousands Sundays and holidays.

In this connection it has been pointed out that time has effaced many memories connected with war. It is a rare thing to see a war ribbon in a man's buttonhole while during the first year after the war every winner of a cross displayed its ribbon.

MARYLAND TO PLAY STATE COLLEGE TEAM TOMORROW

When the "Wolfpack" stacks up against "Curly" Byrd's crack Maryland University team here Saturday it will be the fifth gridiron engagement between the two teams.

In the four games played, State has won two, Maryland has taken one, and one battle resulted in a tie. The 1921 game was played in Baltimore and resulted in a 6-6 tie. State scored a touchdown but "Runt" Faucett failed to kick goal the only one he missed in three seasons, and Maryland knotted the count with two field goals from the toe of "Untz" Brewer.

Maryland won its first victory of the series last Thanksgiving day when the game was played at Ridgick field. Failure to add the extra point after touchdown again robbed State of a victory and Bobby Long was the offender on this occasion as his dropkick following Tommy Park's touchdown, went wide of the mark. State scored in four rushes from the 15 yard line after Joe Rip ple had recovered a punt which a Maryland back fumbled. Maryland earned its touchdowns on a brilliant run of 40 yards by halfback Groves

WHEN "HOLLERING WILLIAM" HOLLERED

(By Wickes Wamboldt)
Early one Sunday morning I was awakened by a loud commotion down the road. There were hails for help and pleas for mercy mingled with vigorous imprecations in another voice.

I hurried to investigate and found a group of white men in the center of which was a real black, shiny negro known as "Hollerin' William." It was evident that William was in trouble. He was sobbing energetically. All he had on was a duplicated suit, a funderwear and the skin had been knocked off him in spots.

Standing at some distance was a yellow negro by the name of Adam Full. Adam was part Spaniard and powerful. He was a good shot. I hurried to investigate and found a group of white men in the center of which was a real black, shiny negro known as "Hollerin' William." It was evident that William was in trouble. He was sobbing energetically. All he had on was a duplicated suit, a funderwear and the skin had been knocked off him in spots.

During his absence William had fallen under the spell of a certain colored siren known as Piano Jackson and wishing to show the lady some attention had sold ever getick of furniture out of Adam's house and had blown in the proceed on the aforesaid Piano. He had expected to be elsewhere when Adam returned but Adam came home to soon and found his despoiler asleep on a pallet, which was the only article left in the house.

Sensing the situation he had seized an oar and proceeded to work on William. Without stopping to make his toilet William had fled with Adam in close pursuit giving him a lick at every jump.

At the suggestion of one of the white men William offered to go and collect some money that was due him from a man named Henderson. But he declared he was afraid Adam would kill him if he left the protection of the white folks. And Adam grimly admitted that William he absolutely the right idea.

A council was held. A team was hitched up and a couple of white men started with William to Henderson's place which was three miles away. On account of William's unconventional attire, the men did not care to be seen out riding with him on Sunday morning, so they made him walk behind the wagon.

Off they went, William trotting as close to the tail gate as he could get and Adam with his oar trotting doggedly behind William. They found Henderson, he paid William and William paid Adam who took him self off with his oar.

FORBES CONTINUES TO DENY CHARGES OF MISCONDUCT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, November 16.—A sharp ploughshare of the senate veterans committee was driven forward again thru the affairs of former director Forbes turned up another collection of charges, denials and counter charges. With Forbes on the stand under cross examination the inquiry traversed a wide field of subjects ranging from hospital contracts to alleged drinking parties and pleasure trips. Forbes continued to deny generally and specifically accusations of misconduct that have been made against him.

after he had intercepted a Tech forward pass. On the basis of past performance of course Maryland is favored to beat State, but the Pack has a habit of turning at bay in the face of the bitterest opposition and there are many who believe that the game will be closer than the "dope" seems to indicate. The encounter will get under way promptly at 2:30.

Minnesota Man Slays 4 Persons Flees To Woods

Leonard Portano Kills John Sanders And Wife, Ocar Timmy and J. A. Wilson

(By Associated Press)
Kellier, Minn., November 16.—A madman slayer of four, is fleeing thru the woods before a posse formed here. Leonard Portano yesterday slew Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders of whose 15 year old daughter, Myrtle he was enamored. Oscar Timmy, suitor of the girl and J. A. ### UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB AT REILSVILLE ON MONDAY NIGHT

Many alumni of the University of North Carolina will meet in Reidville on Monday evening, November 19, when the Carolina Glee Club will under its entertaining program for the first time in Rockingham county. It is seldom that the smaller cities have an opportunity to get an engagement with the University club and the alumni think themselves fortunate to underwrite the entertainment for the benefit of the Student Loan Fund of the association.

There are five boys in the glee club this season from the country and this fact adds much to the interest of many. A string quartet, mandolin, violin, vocal and piano pieces add variety to the regular program of the glee club. The club is by far the strongest musical organization which the university has ever sent out into the state. It consists of a total of 33 men and includes twelve club proper, the Carolina Club Orchestra a male quartet, a violonist, two vocal soloists and a pianist. The program contains a large variety in the musical material presented, something for every type of musical taste; it is sure to appeal to the large audience which is anticipated Monday evening.

In the past the University authorities have sent out on trips of short organization consisting of combination of three groups—Glee Club, Orchestra, and Mandolin Club. This has always meant that each of these three organizations was the most part so small that it was not representative of the work done on the campus and that it was undisciplined that it could give a program of a very high type. In contrast with this the organization sent out this year consists entirely of the glee club, the men having been chosen primarily from the standpoint of their singing ability.

The result is that the glee club is not only much stronger numerically but that it contains the best voices on the campus and is capable of such finer work than ever before. The other attractions scheduled for the program are all provided by men who are members of the glee club proper.

Chief among these in interest to the general public is the Carolina Club Orchestra which has during the last two years made a name for itself as the most clever group of jazz artists in the state. The managers and the musical advisers of the glee club believe that god jazz is just as good as any other good music, and they feel that the Carolina Club Orchestra represents a high mark among jazz organizations. This group will appear twice on the program.

The male quartet consists of Messrs W. F. Fulton, H. C. Taylor, C. N. Seivers and N. C. Gordon. A male quartet is always a popular feature, and this one is exceptionally good.

The solo numbers on the program will be given by Mr. W. D. Weighe, Mr. N. C. Gordon, and Mr. Theo. Fitch. The work of Mr. Gordon will be remembered by those who heard last year's program. He has an excellent bass voice, and sings with a very pleasing manner. Mr. Weighe is a native of Warrington, D. C., where he studied violin under a teacher of national prominence. He is selling in Leaksville-Spray and tickets may be obtained from the

NORTH CAROLINA TOBACCO COMPARED WITH LAST YEAR

The North Carolina tobacco crop for the present year will have probable total value of about $80,000,000 on a basis of between 22 and 25 wilcents average for the year. Our probable 357,000,000 pounds production in comparison with Kentucky's 476,000,000 this year, if sold at the same ratio of value per pound as has been experienced for the past three years, will still give us the lead of first place in the total value of the crop. The October sales show an increased value per pound over the previous month. With the season's average to date approximately 1 cent per pound and one third of the crop sold it may be safely assumed that the crop will average 23 cents. On this basis our present estimated crop although 105,000,000 pounds more than last year will aggregate in value only about the same as last year's crop according to the government estimate of 30 cents per pound for that crop.

While the quality averages low, the field per acre is 110 pounds more than last year's production of 599 pounds. This was due largely to the plants being closer in the row and more leaves left per plant rather than to the quality factor. There is also some doubt as to the acreage as compared with last year, which preliminary figures show to be 99 percent.

Wilson has the distinct lead in the sales for October with almost 10,000,000 pounds at an average of 24.70 as compared with last year's average of $31.94 per hundred weight. Winston Salem and Greensboro each sold between nine and ten million pounds with averages respectively of $18.28 and $23.32 per hundred pounds.

According to reports, Farmville averaged the highest price during October with $25.07 per hundred pounds. Wilson, Fuquay Springs, Greenville and Washington each averaged over 23 cents per pound. Last year Fuquay Springs, Mebane and Raleigh averaged the highest prices respectively all being over 35 cents per pound for the October sales.

of an expert. Mr. Weighe will play two numbers by Kreisler. Mr. Fitch has recently come to the University as instructor in voice and piano. He is from Rochester, N. Y., a graduate of the University of Rochester, and of the Eastern School of Music a very talented musician who makes an immediate appeal to his audience. Mr. Fitch will play one piano number, and will sing two numbers on the glee club program.

The glee club this year is working under the joint direction of Mr. Fitch and Mr. J. Paul Weaver head of the department of music at the University. The numbers which it will sing are taken mainly from the repertoire of the Harvard Glee Club which is recognized as having the highest standards of any glee club in the country. Both in point of musical quality and in the interpretation and actual singing of the songs the work of the club this year represents a very distinct advance over anything that has been possible heretofore at the university. The program is scheduled for 8 o'clock and will be given in the high school auditorium in Reidville. L. H. Hodges is chairman of the selling in Leaksville-Spray and tickets may be obtained from the
