The feats of several of its players, especially Manager Tris Speaker, and Pitchers George Uhle and Stanley Coveleskie, stand out.

PENNSYLVANIA JURY APPROVES A KILLING

Headed by a Woman. It indorses the Summary Vengeance

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 23.—A coroner's jury, the foreman of which was a woman, "heartily approved" the killing of Henry Thomas, a negro, at Death January 16, by Ida McNeal, a negress, who accused the man of attacking her 9-year-old daughter. After the woman told of the attack and the victim added her story, the jury returned a verdict finding "that Henry Thomas came to his death January 16, 1924, as the result of gunshot wounds inflicted by Ida McNeal. Without any intention of commending or encouraging defiance of the laws of the commonwealth, we heartily approve, in this particular case, of the method of dealing with human fiends, and recommend that the said Ida McNeal be entirely exonerated of any charges which may have been, or may be lodged against her in this act."

Mrs. Frank P. Rosboro was foreman of the jury, of which Mayor Robert D. Warner was a member.

KNIGHTS OF OLD WERE MEN OF SMALL STATURE

(By Associated Press) Cleveland, Jan. 23.—Suits of armor

worn by knights of old would fit tightly on the average high school lad of today. Few men now are small enough to squeeze into the coats of mail at the Museum of Art here.

Men of the Middle Ages must have averaged about 130 pounds in weight, believes William M. Milliken, curator of decorative arts, who also finds that rounded paunches did not thrive in the age of steel corselets—at least among the fighting men.

Workmen have just assembled the latest acquisition for the museum's armor room, a rare suit of mail for man and horse. It was worn by a gallant of the 16th century. Dents there in the plates show the armor suffered from lusty blows. Yet the wearer had a today."

waist line of only 30 inches, a calf 13 inches in circumference and would wear a No. 6 shoe in modern footwear.

"Virtually all medieval armor is correspondingly small," says Mr. Milliken. "In European galleries there is hardly a suit of mail that would fit the average sized man of today."

NAVAL AVIATORS RETURN FROM 11,000 MILE FLIGHT

San Domingo City, W. I., Jan. 23.—What is thought to be the longest flight ever undertaken by American aviators came to a successful close here recently when two navy airplanes alighted at the local aviation field. The machines were piloted by Lieut. Ford O. Rogers and Lieut. Horace D. Palmer, of the Marine Corps, with Sergeant Benjamin F. Belcher and Sergeant Peter P. Tolusciak as mechanics. They had covered 10,953 miles without a forced landing since September 19 last, when they started on a trip which took them as far as San Francisco.

The long flight carried the flyers over the ocean, lakes, deserts, plains and mountain passes. Speed was not an object. The trip was undertaken to demonstrate the mobility of the aviation squadron stationed on the east Indian island.

GERMANS MAKE FUN OF DESIRE OF DANZIG FOR NATIONAL SONG

(By Associated Press)

Danzig, Jan. 23.—Since Danzig has become a free and independent state and has its own currency it now wants a national air and has offered a prize for the composer who supplies the most acceptable patriotic anthem.

The German press is poking much fun at Danzig's display of national feeling and one paper has suggested that since one of the chief revenues of the new state is the income from gambling at the casino in Zoppot, the Monte Carlo of the Baltic, there should be some allusion to "na song" in the new song.
