BEWARE OF DEADLY
CARBON MONOXIDE

Four rules for protection against deadly effects of poisonous gas, carbon monoxide, always present in exhaust from gas-driven engines, issued by the U. S. Bureau of Mines:

Never run automobile engine in a closed garage; open doors wide.

Never crawl under car with engine running, even if car is in open air.

Never sit in closed car with engine running, even if in a ventilated garage.

Never sit in closed car with engine running and all windows shut, even if car is in open air; always have window open

BULLETINS APPRECIATED

The editor for a Texas paper, with a wide circulation sends the following letter to the Scottish Rite News Bureau:

"It will probably interest you to know that the use of your service has given my paper a distinction among many of my readers and at least some of my exchanges, that is very gratifying. It has also, I am quite sure, brought to me some subscriptions that I otherwise would not have received. Several distinguished lawyers and a number of men prominent in public service are upon my subscription list—and from remarks they have made to me, either in person or in letters, I infer that their interest in my paper arises largely because of my use of your service, either as news items direct, or as editorials, both news items and editorial comments being used sometimes with explanatory or supplemental additions by myself

"I keep all unused material on file, and now and then use information gained therefrom in talks upon civic duties and obligations. Only within the last week I had occasion to refer to this matter to assist a high school student in getting information to be used in a theme upon the Monroe octrine."

WHEN CROSSROADS
CROSS AGAIN IS NEW
M. E. CHURCH PLAY

Author and Collier's Donate Rights to Methodist Church Societies

(Special to the Gazette)

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 18.—"When Crossroad Cross Again," the story of a worn-out preacher and an actress, by Rupert Hughes, published by Collier's, has been dramatized by Dr. H.
E. Spence of Trinity College, North Carolina, and will be staged in the Southern Methodist churches throughout the country within the next thirty days.

Permission for use of the play-version of the story in Southern Methodist churches has been granted by both Hughes and Collier's, according to an announcement of r. Luther E.
Todd, secretary of the Board of Finance, which is directing the movement for raising ten million dollars as an endowment fund for the benefit of old preachers of the church.

WOULD RETRIEVE LOST TRADE

(By Associated Press)
London, Feb. 18.—Efforts are being made to rehabilitate the glove industry in this country. Today, owing to foreign competition, there are only nine manufacturers of gloves in London. The Worshipful Company of Glovers, with the help of the Board of Trade, is making an effort to get some of this trade back to England.

PUBLIC LIKES STAMPED ENVELOPES

Washington, Feb. 16.—Use of stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers in the mails is extensive.
Last year 2,721,000,000 were made for the post-office department at Dayton, Ohio. They included 1,236,000,000 plain stamped envelopes, 1,434,000,000 stamped envelopes with return cards printed in the upper left-hand corner, and 50,000,000 newspaper wrappers. It cost the government about $1,300,000 to have these printed.

"WEST OF THE WATER TOWER"
WITH
ERNEST TORRENCE
MAY McAVOY

You have been looking for a picture that transfers life to the screen and here it is.

When Cupid wants to do a real neat job he throws away his bow and arrow and sends for a bungalow apron.

The Story is "The Miracle Man," "Over the Hill," and "Humoresque" rolled into one.

A jewel of priceless value, a human story, so big, so vital, so full of pathos and laughs, human interests and a love story you will never forget.

"WEST OF THE WATER TOWER" they believe that when a man and woman are meant for each other it's only a matter between them and God....
