The Teapot Dome Prosecutor Gets Wild Demonstration

(By Associated Press)
Madison Square Garden New York, June 25.—The pentup fires of Democratic enthusiasm fed by the rivalries that are moving beneath the surface found tumultuous outlet again today in the big convention hall. This time it was senator Walsh of Montana, oil committee prosecutor who set the convention a flame when he appeared on the platform to make his address as permanent chairman. From the moment this selection for the place was announced the garden rang with cheers of approbation and when he took over the gavel, delegates snatched their state standards and began a howling parade in tribute to Walsh, public services in uncovering the scandal of teapot dome. It was more than ten minutes before the hall was quieted again and the Montana senator then proceeded with his address as permanent chairman, to the accompaniment of a constant canonading of applause. His speech was part of the session devoted to the formalities of perfecting a permanent organization, while the convention was waiting for its platform committee to settle its difficulties over party declaration.

Amid scene almost without a parallel in the party history, the convention began to grapple with two great issues before its nomination of presidential candidate and determination of party attitude toward the Ku Klux Klan. Scarcely had nominating speeches begun, when the vast hall was thrown into chaos by a prolonged demonstration, provoked by reference to a positive stand against the Klan taken by senator Underwood.

CHURCH PLANS MEMORIAL TO MISSIONARY BISHOP

(By Associated Press)
St. Louis, June 24.—A national memorial to the late Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, Episcopal bishop of Missouri for almost 40 years, and presiding bishop of the Episcopal church of the United States for more than 20 years, is to be erected in St. Louis in connection with Christ Church Cathedral, Bishop Tuttle's church for many years.

The Bishop Tuttle Memorial building will replace the old parish house which has proved inadequate for the large program of church and community work of the cathedral.

The memorial will not be limited to community and diocesan service. As the old parish house was used for various national conferences of the church, so will the new building, with its large auditorium, be offered to the National Council for conventions and conferences when desired.

The memorial will be connected with the first Episcopal church established west of the Mississippi River, and in a parish which is more than 100 years old, in the heart of St. Louis. It will also contain conference rooms, a large gymnasium, swimming pool, library and a radio station for broadcasting.

Bishop Tuttle, although a man of wide learning, and one upon whom many honors had been bestowed, was a man of great simplicity, beloved by all those with whom he was associated.

A fine response to a "big gifts" campaign has come from the west, especially from Montana and nearby states, where, at the age of 30, Bishop Tuttle was consecrated in 1887 the first Missionary Bishop of the Episcopal Church of Montana, and for 20 years was a strong and loved force of law and order in those rough days.

NON-PARTISIAN LEAGUE CALLING FOR STATE OWNED

(By Associated Press)
Edigo, N. D., June 25.—The industrial program the Non-Partisan League of North Dakota, calling for state-owned and operated briquetting and mill plants, the Bank of North Dakota and other similar enterprises will be placed before the voters at the primary election on today, as a result of the indorsement of the program by the league candidates and a condemnation of that program by their opponents, the "real" Republicans. Both factions admit the industrial program is the paramount issue.

Heading the "real" Republican ticket will be the present governor, R. A. Nestos, who will be opposed for the Republican nomination by A. G. Sorlie, league indorsee, and I. J. Moe., independent. With the exception of the race between Halvor L. Halvorson and L. S. Platou for the gubernatorial nomination, there will be no contest among the Democrats.

Each faction in the Republican party, represented by the league and the "real" Republicans, has put forth a full slate of candidates for the people's vote. Each candidate, with the re-affirmation by the voters of the league, which its supporters claim will come with victories of their candidates, will come an enlargement of the league industrial program; with their defeat and the election of "real" Republicans will come the virtual exit of the league from North Dakota politics and the continuance of that program on a greatly modified basis, league opponent assert.

In addition to the state-wide elections, North Dakota will elect its three Congressmen. Two of the present members, O. B. Burtness, "real" Republican, of the first district, and James H. Sinclair, Non-partisan league, of the second district, will contest for renomination of the Republican ballot. The contest in the second congressional district, however, will be open to a field of newcomers, the present congressman, George M. Young, having declined renomination to accept appointment as customs appraiser, tendered by President Coolidge. Representative Burtness will be opposed by H. H. Aaker, while Representative Sinclair will find opposition in the candidacy of M. O. Hall, indorsed by the "real" Republicans.

The only candidate to file under the banner of the "Nonpartisan league," Martin Freeks, Jamestown, will contest for the Republican nomination for congressman from the second district against Thomas Hall, present secretary of state, a "real" Republican indorsee, and John Sherman and E. A. Williams, who are running as independents.

There will be no contest for the United States senatorship.

Although the June primary is expected to be interesting, the ballot is one of the shortest in North Dakota's political history. Only 53 candidates are listed, exclusive of the district judges. There will be the usual elections to the state legislature and state senate.

WISCONSIN BANKERS' ASSOCIATION MEETS

(By Associated Press)
Milwaukee, June 25.—Real dividends from a bank loan are not in the collection of principal and interest but in the impetus which is given to productive achievement and the consequent gain in the aggregate of wealth and happiness. Walter F. Head, president of the American Bankers' association, declared here today in an address before the Wisconsin Bankers' association.

The banker's interest in his "debtor-patron," Mr. Head said "does not end with an examination of his statement and approval of the book. It begins then. The interest in the debtor is not merely collection of the debt when due. It is to his interest that the borrower shall make his business successful in the largest possible way. He may collect his debt by selling his debtor's assets at auction, but if that is all he accomplishes has failed.

"The banker achieves success only when the money he loans enables an industry or a business to develop and grow, to become an increasing factor in the community, to contribute by its prosperity to the greater prosperity of those dependent upon it, and through them, to the greater prosperity of the entire territory in which it is located.

"To be bankers today, they also must be economists, sociologists, business men, versed in industry and in commerce, psychologists, knowing human nature, statesmen, understanding of politics, and they must have a knowledge of international affairs.

"It is because of adherence to this principle that bankers must be men of general affairs, that the association is sponsoring a campaign of cooperation with the farmer."

FIVE TONS OF COFFEE NEEDED FOR CONVENTION

New York, June 25.—Five tons of coffee, enough to make 360,000 cups, are being drunk by the delegates, alternates, and visitors attending the Democratic National Convention here this week. Whether the tremendous stock of the beverage will be exhausted by the thousands who flock to Madison Square Garden depends largely upon duration of the convention.

The concessionaires have laid in their edibles on the basis of a deadlock in choosing the presidential candidate that will hold the delegates in this city for two weeks. On that mode of reasoning, they have also laid in fifty barrels of lobsters and enough "hot dogs" to supply 32,000 every day. Coffee, "hot dogs" and sea food are chiefly in demand at the numerous counters which have been placed in convenient places in the Garden.

Unfaithful Public Servants Attacked By Senator Walsh

(By Associated Press)
New York, June 25.—The American people will be on trial before the world in the coming presidential campaign, Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, declared today in an address upon assuming the permanent chairmanship of the democratic national convention.

The issue he asserted, will be whether the American people will continue in power the party now in control of the government notwithstanding the scandals which have been disclosed in senate investigations.

"I can not admit the accusation," Senator Walsh said, "that the American people are indifferent to the corroding influence of corruption in office, high or low. But we shall see. They are on trial.

"If, notwithstanding what has transpired the party now in power in the nation is continued in control by the choice of the people of the United States, apparent or real, what judgement must be passed upon them by the world? They enjoy the distinction of having erected and maintained a government whose officers are as free from suspicion of venality as those on any nation on earth and they will not, I venture to predict, forfeit it."

Charging spokesmen of the Republican party with attempts at palliation of the offenses of the "unfaithful public servants," Senator Walsh declared that it is in "the easy tolerance of turpitude in public office that the real peril to free government lies, rather than in its casual occurrence."

"The president of the United States himself," he continued, "has not hesitated to endeavor to shield the delinquents from the public odium to which their derelictions have subjected them by joining in the hue and cry against the investigations that have been conducted under the authority of the senate and against that body for authorizing them. His message on the subject has for its plain purpose the suppression of an inquiry into the official conduct of a member of his cabinet."

Senator Walsh said President Coolidge had historic warrant for his attitude, recalling that when the British house of commons sought to investigate the Duke of Buskingham, Charles would not permit it.

"Charles lost his head," the senator added, and "Calvin Coolidge may profit politically by his example."

Declaring the Republican party to be impotent in the face of "an impending national calamity," Senator Walsh said that because of antagonisms within its ranks it had ceased to be an organization through which the business of the country can be carried on.

"It has no remedy, it offers no relief from the paralysis that afflicts agriculture, threatening every form of industry," the chairman said, "moreover it finds itself plagued with representatives in both houses of congress holding views so radically antagonistic to those of the dominant faction in the faction in the party as to preclude the possibility of uniting on any program of legislation."

"Efforts of the dominant faction to shake off the insurgent members is as ludicrous as it will prove futile," the speaker continued, adding that they could not be shaken off because they have the endorsement of their people.

Senator Walsh said he knew how eager the managers of the campaign for the re-election of President Coolidge were to switch the issues from hon-

EXCERPTS FROM HARRISON'S SPEECH AT NEW YORK

(By Associated Press)
Senator Harrison said in his speech at the Harding-Corbridge administration a series of biting criticisms. A large part of his speech was taken up with a resume of the disclosures of senate investigation committees. The bill policies, in particular, came in for vigorous denunciation.

"Show this administration an oil well," he said, "and it will show you a foreign policy."

"America has taken the measure of this administration," he continued. "It might have been able to free itself from the sectional idolatry and to have looked beyond the skies of New England. It might have heard the groans of the distressed farmers of the West and sympathetic, responded. It might have sought markets and removed the tariff jams in the channels through which our surplus products flow. It might have visualized world conditions and courageously assumed the part fitting a great nation. It might have reduced living costs, redeemed pledge to the soldier, and adopted a broad and statesmanlike foreign policy. But, even then, it would have availed it nothing with a carnival of corruption.

"The laas that the American people expect of their public servants is common honesty. They will forgive their passivity, overlook their indiscretions, and, too often, forget their impotency, but to them corruption is inexcusable, grant is indefensible."

COLLAPSE OF BUILDING KILLS MAN AND WOMAN

Chicago, June 25.—Man and woman were killed and an arm torn off a girl by the collapse of the portion of a building in the downtown wholesale tailoring district.

Invented by a Chicago man, a coupling for spring belts consists of a ball to be inserted in the spirals so that the wire grips it.

An attachment for alarm clocks switches on lights in a poultry house and releases feed for the awakened occupants at a designated time.

Government, the repeal of the new tariff abominations, relief for agriculture and related reforms, to the league of nations." He added that it was not so necessary that America immediately join the league as that it abandon foolish antagonism to any world movement, merely because it was on some way associated with the league.

"The honor of our country" he declared, "the prosperity of our people, demand that we return to the ideals of Woodrow Wilson, that we resume the place he won for us as the moral leadership of the world."
