ROUMANIA MAKES SECOND APPEAL TO HER ALLIES FOR HELP; DEFENSE IS FALLING TO PIECES UNDER SMASHING TEUTON BLOWS

Having Lost One Seaport, Roumanians Will Probably Have to Evacuate Important Constanza In Few Hours. Von Mackensen Striking at Railway Line Which Supplies Defending Armies—Bulgar Right Wing Crashes Through Allied Works for a Great Gain—Offensive Is Successful Along 45-Mile Front—Bulgars Advance 6 Miles in Few Hours' Time Near Seacoast

(By the United Press)

Berlin, Oct. 23.—Constanza, Roumania's greatest seaport, has fallen before Field Marshal Von Mackensen's armies, it is officially announced this afternoon. The capture was the greatest single achievement for the Central Powers since Roumania's entrance into the war, eight weeks ago. The victory is hailed by German military men as more important than all the Allies' gains since the Somme offensive began. Official dispatches from the German and Bulgarian war offices indicate that the Russo-Roumanians have suffered a disastrous rout.

A new spirit of optimism has been inspired in Germany by Von Mackensen's and Falkenhayne's victories over the Roumanians. This is expressed in remarkable sacrifices to the old gold fund. A hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars worth of gold has been donated in the last five days. Farmers, servants and crown princes were among the contributors. Nobility gave of their gold plate and jewelry.

Germans Near Monastir.

London, Oct. 23.—Germany is reinforcing the Bulgars southwest of Monastir, says a Serbian official statement.

Big Bulgar Gain.

Sofia, Oct. 23.—The Bulgarian right wing has smashed through the Roumanian defenses and arrived at within six miles of the important Roumanian seaport of Constanza, says an official statement. The capture of the seaport of Tuzlam, 12 miles south of Constanza, was reported only Saturday afternoon. The six miles' advance indicates that the Roumanians suffered a severe defeat.

The Roumanians are being rolled back on a 45-mile front in Dobrudja under tremendous pressure of superior German, Bulgarian and Turkish forces.

Von Mackensen's vanguard is within a few miles of the Constanza-Czernavoda railway. This line, carrying supplies to Russian troops in Roumania, with two important terminals, is the objective of the Germans' great effort. The Roumanian left center is yielding. Toprai Sari and Tuzla, main supporting positions in Roumania, and defending the strategically important Danube bridge at Cernavoda, are repulsing enemy attacks. For the second time since the start of the German campaign to crush Roumania, Bucharest has appealed for help.

French Take Hill 12.

Paris, Oct. 23.—Following a short bombardment, the French late last night stormed and captured hill No. 28, northwest of Sailly-Saillisset, it is said officially.

No Infantry Action in West.

London, Oct. 23.—Considerable shelling is being done between Leslrs and Guedecourt, Gen. Haig reports. No infantry is in action on the Somme.

Ietrograd Statement.

Petrograd, Oct. 23.—The Russo-Roumanians continue their retirement in Dobrudja under pressure, though offering stubborn resistance, it is said officially.

NEARLY SCORE MINE WORKERS KILLED IN ALABAMA COAL PIT

(By the United Press)
Birmingham, Oct. 23.—Fifteen or twenty lives were probably lost in an explosion in the marvel mines near here. Twelve bodies have been recovered. Five men are unaccounted for. Government mine rescue men are directing the rescue work, which was feverish all night. Crowds surround the shaft.

CHANGE THE ROUTE TO FAIR GROUNDS

Because of a torn-up condition of the Central Highway near the city, autoists during Fair will be required to use the following route, slightly changed from the original route: Going out, from Queen into Lenoir, to the right to Pollock to the highway. Returning, from highway into Rhem, Lenoir to Pollock and turn into Washington.

BABY DAUGHTER OF GREENE FARMER IS NEAR VICTIM BRUTE

Negro Rushed to State Prison; Mob Spirit Held Sway in County

FATHER RESCUED CHILD

Little Aswell Girl Is Younger Still Than Lispering Object of Similar Attack In Spring—People Raging With Anger

Will Hines, 17, a Greene county negro, is in the penitentiary at Raleigh Monday to save him from a violent death at the hands of infuriated Greene county men. Hines is accused of attempted assault upon a little white girl, the daughter of John Aswell, a planter of the Shine section. The child is a mere baby, less than five years of age. John Aswell rescued his daughter. It is reported that she screamed and that the father, hearing her cries, arrived in time to prevent the actual crime. Hines escaped and secreted himself in woods; late Sunday white men crept through the undergrowth on their hands and knees and took him without difficulty. Once in the officers' hands they lost no time in getting him to Goldsboro, in Wayne county. Last spring Will Black, a young negro, committed an atrocious assault upon a 6-year-old white girl and was spirited off, later paying the penalty in the electric chair at Raleigh. His father, Joseph Black, attracted attention by threats made to the father of the little victim. The Sheriff had forewarning of a lynching and hastened with the old negro to this city. That night Kinston had the sensation of its history when the Lenoir county jail was stormed and Joseph Black carried off by a mob and shot to death.

Hines' crime occurred Sunday morning. Sunday night Sheriff Edwards of Wayne county, hearing that a mob was being formed to take the negro, faced with him to Raleigh in an automobile. Greene county seethed late Sunday. Persons here from Snow Hill assert that Hines would have been quickly despatched had he fallen into the hands of the Greene county farmers.

Hines, according to information from the local police office, is a negro of small stature. After his arrest he declared he was only thirteen years of age. The officials believe that he was shrewd enough to state that because he had heard somewhere that being on the younger side of 14 makes a big difference to a defendant in a criminal assault case. Questioned, however, he admitted criminal intent in his treatment of the little girl.

Quiet prevailed in Greene county Monday morning. There was no excitement here following arrival of the news, although there was a lot of interest, of course.

10, Educational exercises.
11, Demonstration of basketry.
11:30, Judge exhibits.
12, Trapeze act.
12:30, Pony harness race.
1, Race, 2:25 trot.
2, High dive.
2:30, Race, 2:18 pace.
3, Bombardment of fort.
Thursday, Agricultural Day.
10, Visit exhibits.
11, Stock parade.
12, Trapeze act.
12:30, Gentlemen's driving race.
1, Race, 2:20 trot.
2, High dive.
2:30, Race, 2:12 pace.
3, Aeroplane-motorcycle race.
Friday, Athletic Day.
11, Athletic exercises.
12, Trapeze act.
12:30, mule race.
1, Race, 2:17 trot.
2, high dive.
2:30, Race, 2:15 pace.
3, Carrying mail in the aeroplanes.
3:30 Football game, Kinston High School against Goldsboro.

KINSTON ALL READY TO PULL OFF GREAT ANNUAL EXPOSITION

10-County Fair to Be Opened After We've Slept One More Time

INTERESTING SPECTACLE

Will Be Parade Starting Off Fall's Event—Thousands Upon Thousands Coming. Will Feed Them, All Right, But—

Tuesday will be the big day of all days in the year in Kinston. The annual Ten-County Fair will get into swing with the biggest industrial and civic parade ever pulled off in East Carolina, at 10 a. m. Final details preliminary to the opening are being attended to. The officials of the Fair Association were at work at an early hour Monday. Nothing of great importance remained to be done, but there "can always be found something to do," and the workers were finding a lot of little things.

The town is wearing the fanciest dress it ever owned. The decorations along the business streets are about the most lavish Kinston ever saw. Strings of small lights over Queen street add considerably to the charm of the thoroughfare at night. "Raleigh did nothing like this," Assistant Secretary Douglass states, admiring the bunting and electric display. He saw the State Fair in the Capital City.

Fifty thousand people will come here this week from all parts of East Carolina, it is estimated. Special trains will be operated from Tarboro, Greenville, Snow Hill and other places. Several hundred transients having to do with the big event arrived Sunday and Monday. Accommodations are skimpy, of course. They have been for months and months. The hotels and restaurants have put forth their best efforts, however. Enough food to supply a big army is being held in the city's eating places. Sunday night the authorities turned a blind eye upon restaurateurs violating the 9 o'clock closing law. It was sheer necessity.

The police have their plans made. The force will increase threefold in number in the next few hours. Chief Skinner will keep one lid on with no let-up. Any automobile driver who breaks the speed limit is going to get pinched.

The parade Tuesday morning will be more than two miles long, from indications. There will be several hundred mounted men; probably as many decorated cars, about a hundred commercial, industrial and educational floats, including some gems in that line, and a lot of other units to make up the greatest pageant Kinston ever saw. Assembling it in sections, it is hoped to get the long procession under way promptly at 10 o'clock.

Thousands of Kinstonians will observe the day as a holiday. Dinners will be prepared by housewives in advance; many clerks have arranged to "get off" at least half the day; the banks will be closed; the cotton and tobacco markets, which the other day did a little matter of an eighth of a million dollars' business in seven hours, will be insignificant institutions on this day; realizing it, the officials have announced suspension of both for Tuesday.

POLICE CHIEF KILLS PROMINENT HORSEMAN

(By the United Press)
Richton, Miss., Oct. 23.—W. H. Dobbins, a prominent horseman, was shot and killed by Chief of Police Esell today when Dobbins resisted an order to move on as Esell endeavored to disperse a crowd.

WORK OF CHARITIES GIVEN GOOD START FOR WINTER SUNDAY

About $500 Subscribed at the Union Meeting in the Gordon Street Christian Church—Mr. Craig's Address

The union meeting of the Kinston churches, held in the Gordon Street Christian church Sunday night in the interest of the United Charities, was largely attended, and an interest manifested that was highly satisfactory and pleasing to the directors of that important work. There were seven or eight hundred people present, and as a result of the emphasis of the needs for the winter among the poor of the city about five hundred dollars was given in cash and pledges for the work.

President Dal Wooten of the United Charities is highly pleased at the outcome of the meeting, and asks The Free Press to thank the pastors of the various churches, to whom he gives credit for the idea, and those who contributed.

Following the song service, a few welcoming remarks by Pastor Bernard P. Smith of the church, and opening prayer by Rev. G. B. Hanrahan of Atkinson Memorial Presbyterian church, Capt. Vendeville of the Salvation Army, who was recently named by the board of directors as superintendent of the Charities, outlined the work and the needs. He was followed by Rev. W. Marshall Craig, the new pastor of the Baptist church, who delivered a most impressive address, emphasizing the work of the United Charities, and paying tribute to the Salvation Army. Mr. Craig said that he endorsed the charity work because it was "New Testament" in its plan, and he urged more close adherence to the Christy teachings and plans. Mr. Craig's remarks were very happy in their spirit of fellowship and good will.

Capt. Vendeville asked that the people of Kinston give him their support and prayers, and suggested that when mendicants and beggars applied for assistance that they be referred to him and after due investigation their needs would be cared for commensurately.

Mr. Wooten spoke of the lack of sympathy heretofore manifested and declared that he often felt "lonesome." Rev. E. N. Harrison of the Caswell Street Methodist church pronounced the benediction.

COTTON IN NINETY-EIGHT DIDN'T HAVE DEMOCRATIC VALUE

On November 4, 1898, thirty bales of cotton were sold in Kinston. The staple sold here for 4.60. The market report in a copy of The Free Press of that date gives the figures.

Monday, October 23, 1916, cotton is bringing 18.40 cents on this exchange. This does not tally with the Republican assertion that low cotton invariably accompanies a Democratic President. McKinley was President in 1898. Every schoolboy knows what party the martyr belonged to.

FORTY-EIGHT LIVES BELIEVED LOST IN GALE ON LAKE ERIE

(By the United Press)
Cleveland, Oct. 23.—Probably the toll of Lake Erie's Black Friday storm reached 48. The Toledo steamer Matthews arrived today with the bodies of three persons wearing life-belts from the steamer Merida. Two were lost on the steamer Colgate.

NORTH CAROLINA INCREASES FUND FOR CAUSE OF DEMOCRACY; CONTRIBUTIONS NEARING THIRTY THOUS'D DOLLARS NOW

The Wilson-Marshall campaign fund contributions from North Carolina have grown to nearly $30,000. Forsyth county is by far the largest contributor yet, having presented $11,694.50. Lenoir county has given 127. This county has not greatly exerted itself so far; there is time to do better. The fund by counties now stands:	Lee county	36.00

ADLER WON'T STATE REASON FOR KILLING AUSTRIAN PREMIER

Denies Instigation by Others—Expected Demonstration Which Did Not Occur—The Vienna Public Indignant

By CARL W. ACKERMAN, United Press Staff Correspondent
Berlin, Oct. 23.—The Vienna authorities took prompt action to prevent demonstrations following the assassination of Count Stuerghk, the Austrian premier. The usual Sunday meetings were prohibited. Crowds gathered in the streets, indignant over the shooting, but there were no disturbances.

Dr. Frederick Adler, the assassin, declared his act would be the signal for great demonstrations. He expected other radical Socialists to head disturbances.

Adler Examined.
Vienna, Oct. 23.—In a preliminary examination Frederick Adler, assassin of Count Stuerghk, today refused to explain his motive in committing the deed. He denied that he had received advice that was its instigation. He gave the impression of being mentally weak, it is said.

MASSACRE SURVIVOR TELLS ABOUT MEXICO

(Special to The Free Press)
Camp Stewart, near El Paso, Oct. 18.—The 'Free Press' correspondent today had a most interesting interview with a Carrizal survivor—a black trooper of the type that pulled Roosevelt's outfit out of the hole at San Juan. Quiet, unobtrusive, well-mannered, the colored soldier made a good impression upon a small party of Southerners, among the number myself. He said:

"Over there" (across the border) "you can see farther and see less than anywhere else in the world. There are more rivers and less water, and more eggs and less milk, than in any place I ever browsed in."

BAKER IS 'AMIALE PACIFICIST,' DANIELS ALSO OUT OF PLACE

Roosevelt Tells New Mexico Audience—Secretary of War 'Exquisitely Unfit,' He Declares—Wilson to Task

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 23.—Col. Roosevelt today bitterly attacked Secretary of War Newton D. Baker as an "amiable pacifist, who is exquisitely unfit for his present position."

The attitude of President Wilson in maintaining Mr. Daniels as Secretary of the Navy and Baker as Secretary of War, is wholly indefensible. The Colonel denounced Baker's comparison of the Carranza revolution with the American revolution.

HERE IS GOOD NEWS FOR THE PRIDE OF THE FAMILY; BULLY

There will be no school Tuesday. There will be no school Wednesday. There will be no school Thursday afternoon.

There will be no school Friday afternoon. There, now, that's plain enough for anybody. Also hear this: "With so much consideration shown the children, no excuse from parents will be considered valid." That means that on Thursday and Friday the schools will be in operation until 1 p. m. By "letting out" at that hour, every kid can get his dinner and sike-dadde in plenty of time to get to the Fair Grounds for the afternoon bill. Supt. K. R. Curtis thinks that is doing just by the youngsters, and according to an announcement Monday morning, he expects every one to attend the short sessions that are held during the week.
