PRICE FIVE CENTS

EIGHT HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS TO BE RELEASED TO MANUFACTURERS AS RESULT STOCK MARKET LIQUIDATION

Government Officials Regard "Wild Orgy of Speculation" as Ended—Many Lose, Some Ruined, Presumed—Decline Continues—Call Loan Rates Expected Come Down—Reached 30 Per cent. Late Wednesday—Experts Expect Masses to Benefit to Some Extent by Drops in Prices—Trouble Government Predicted Arrives and Hits Wall Street's Careless Ones Hard—Enterprises Can Be Developed

(By the United Press)

Washington, Nov. 13.—Approximately $800,000,000 will be released to help local enterprises throughout the United States as a result of a crash on the New York stock market that began late yesterday, Government officials say.

This vast sum, no longer subject to speculation, will be available to local businessmen who need cash to increase production, build factory additions, buy new machinery and boost business, it is generally believed.

This will tend to help reduce prices and living costs, officials hope. Part of the money will be available to farmers who need ready money to finance their work. Government officials also pointed out that the crash may have brought loss to many and ruin to some. A decided drop is looked for in rates of call money, which yesterday reached 30 per cent. This drop is expected to come tomorrow. The decline in stocks is expected to continue today, and perhaps tomorrow. This means, financial experts here said, that the orgy of speculation which has swept over the country since the armistice was signed has ended.

The Treasury Department sounded a warning against speculation in the early summer. The Federal Reserve Board issued a formal statement condemning it.

American Camel Train in Arabia Aids a Lot in Reconstruction Work

Aleppo, Syria, Nov. 13.—Bringing lumber across the Arabian desert by camel caravan is one of the achievements for which Americans will be longest remembered in Aleppo. The lumber was used in the reconstruction of Armenian refugees' homes.

When the American Red Cross arrived here it found many refugees living in the open, their houses having fallen apart through the removal of beams by Turk soldiery for firewood. The nearest timber source was the Taurus mountains, along the Euphrates River. An expedition under Capt. Edward Bickel, of Seattle, Washington, was sent to investigate. It arranged for the cutting of timber and its transportation down the river on rafts to El Doir, in the desert.

Convoys of camels were then engaged and the lumber carried for miles across the desert to Aintab, Aleppo and Marash. Troubles arose with the Bedouin tribes of the desert, attack being made upon the convoys and the lumber occasionally destroyed. Captain Bickel then arranged for a guard of 30 armed men to accompany each caravan. Thereafter the supplies arrived regularly.

One hundred native carpenters were rounded up by Capt. Bickel and set to work reconstructing the ruined buildings. As a result of this American energy and ingenuity, scores of Armenian families have been able to reoccupy their old homes.

Negroes Disarm and Beat Up Policeman Onslow County Town

The authorities here and elsewhere are seeking Davis and James Lamar, negroes charged with attacking and mauling a policeman at Richlands. The officer arrested the men for disorderly conduct in the outskirts of the town. They assaulted him, deposed him on his revolver and severely wounded him, according to reports reaching the police and sheriff here.

A mob of about 50 men gathered around and beat up the officer in full view Thursday.

COLONEL SCOTT OF FIRST INFANTRY A VISITOR TO CITY

Kinston Urged to Get Move on if it Wants Headquarters Company—58 Men Needed—Many Towns After Units in Outfit

Col. Don E. Scott, the commanding officer of the 1st North Carolina Infantry, visited Kinston last night and held a conference with Lt.-Col. John Hall Manning and Capt. Charles W. Perry in connection with organization of the headquarters company here. He was well pleased with the prospects here and with what had been done.

Colonel Scott stated that the organization throughout the State is moving on rapidly, and that a great many towns in different sections have asked to have organizations assigned them. Wilson has not been assigned an organization, and they are very anxious for one, so Kinston will have to get to work or lose its chance.

All ex-servicemen interested are urged to see Lt.-Col. Manning or Capt. Perry at once. First sergeants draw $153 per annum in addition to camp pay and expenses, sergeants $114, corporals $108 and privates $90. Fifty-eight men are wanted here.

Kettles Draws 30 Years for Murder of His Wife

William Kettles, who last August shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Agnes Leggett Kettles, was sentenced to 30 years by Superior Court at Greenville Thursday. Kettles, according to information which came to Rouse & Rouse, attorneys here, Thursday afternoon entered a plea of guilty in the second degree, which was accepted by the court.

Kettles entered a room where Mrs. Kettles was sitting, holding a little child in her arms, and shot her three times. Subsequently he made two attempts to suicide. Domestic troubles were alleged to have led to the murder.

Mrs. Kettles was a Kinston young woman. Kettles was employed by a Chattanooga, Tenn., construction firm. He met the slain woman here several years ago and married her.

GAS PLANT GETS A DEATH OF JUNIUS NEW BLOW IN SOLAR STALLINGS, LEADER PLEXUS; DONE FOR ON TOBACCO MART

Opposing Aldermen Believe it Won't "Come To" for Months—Nine Against Proposition—Not Soul With Vote to Defend It

Nine members of the City Council having voted against installation of a gas plant Wednesday night, 6 for the proposition, it appears that Kinston will not have such a utility for many months to come. Mayor Joe Dawson considers the aldermen presumptuous; they voted to table a motion to build in the face of the expressed wishes of 625 of the most representative residents of Kinston, he declares. Petitions bearing that many names, most of them of businessmen and nearly all of property-owners, are now in the city's files.

The gas plant has been Mayor Dawson's hobby ever since his election. Authority to issue bonds exists under an ordinance which became law some weeks ago. The proposition has been before the council a number of times, at one time to be closed and at another to be reopened. It will "stay put" for months to come now, members predict. Opposing aldermen say other needs must be met first. Alderman Chester A. Walsh did not vote, being absent.

Popular Tobacconist Was Known in Many Places—Survived by Sons and Daughters in 3 States—Funeral Friday

(Daily Free Press—Nov. 13) Junius B. Stallings, one of the best-known tobacconists in this part of the country, died about 8:45 Wednesday evening. His death was sudden, though he had not been in best health for some time. He resided at a boarding house conducted by Mrs. J. L. Vause. Mr. Stallings was 57 years of age and a native of Danville, Va. He came here many years ago, and aided in the rebuilding of the Kinston tobacco market. He was a member of the Farmers' Warehouse Company.

Mr. Stallings was known to tobacconists in many markets in Virginia, Kentucky, North and South Carolina. He was a clever auctioneer. In late years he was successful in business affairs. He is survived by the following children: Harry Stallings, a theatrical man with interests here and at other places; Carr Stallings, of Durham; Miss Mildred Stallings, Kinston; Mrs. Frank Clark, Danville, and Mrs. Fred Seagle, Dallas, Tex.

The funeral will be held Friday at 12 m. It will probably be largely attended. Relatives from out-of-town points are expected here late Thursday.

WEYHER OPENS BOX AND OUT JUMPS AS GOOD BET FOR NEW JACK O'WORRY SUCCESSOR MARTIN

City Electric Plant Overloaded; Water Supply is Inadequate

MUST BE SOMETHING DONE

And That Quickly—Another Estimate of "Situation Cared For for Many Years to Come" Smashed to Flinders

The municipal electric plant must be enlarged. John E. Weyher, superintendent of water and lights, told the City Council Wednesday night that something must be done quickly to relieve the strain upon the plant and take care of additional business. In a report Mr. Weyher said:

"Especially do I desire to direct your attention to what may be expected to be its condition in the near future if the service increases as it has in the recent past. The plant is what is ordinarily known as a double-unit plant. This means two engines and two generators. Their maximum capacity is 1,000 horsepower. At present they are being operated at 775 horsepower, which makes it necessary for both units to be in constant use, and when anything is necessary to be done to either unit a part of the city is compelled to remain in darkness during the repairs. Application has been made to the department for power to the extent of 400 additional horsepower. The applicants will expect this service about the 1st of April. At present the city cannot furnish in excess of 1,000 horsepower, which would leave it short 175 horsepower of applications heretofore made.

"The plant now has four boilers. Of these three are in constant use, and are much overloaded, with the result that a great amount of excess fuel is necessary. One boiler is used whenever repairs to either of the other three become necessary. Gee, Whiz!

"I also desire to direct the attention of the council to the present inadequate water supply.

"I recommend to the council that it make immediate investigation along the lines which I have mentioned to the end that the necessary provisions may be made to give the city service. Necessarily the plant will have to run during the winter months in a greatly overloaded condition. Superintendent Weyher urged employment of an engineer at once and declared he could not too strongly urge the necessity for immediate consideration of the situation.

The consideration was had, all right,—immediately. Council will study the situation with a view to taking steps as soon as practicable. What the expense will be is not certain. It is believed it will amount to a sum well in excess of $50,000.

HAVEN'T DECIDED ABOUT PATROL; COMMITTEE NAMED

The city aldermen haven't decided if they will buy the patrol wagon held by a local auto concern for delivery to the police when its purchase has been authorized by the council. Aldermen W. E. Bailey, Sam. Pate and Joseph Kennedy are a committee to decide the matter. The machine would cost $708. The council Monday night decided not to relinquish right to the abandoned colored school in South Kinston in favor of colored trustees who would set up an industrial school. It voted $50 toward entertainment of Governor Bickett, who comes here November 25 to address a colored audience. The "leaning tower of Kinston," the fire-bell tower at City Hall which threatens to tumble down, will be examined by an engineer. Council authorized this action Wednesday night.

Hitchcock Another, With Underwood Compromise Between Two

CHOOSE LEADER SOON

Place Held by Dead Virginia Senator Especially Important Now—St. George Tucker May Get Seat, Washington Hears

(By the United Press) Washington, Nov. 13.—Democratic members of the Senate will hold a caucus within a few days to select a minority leader to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Martin of Virginia.

With the administration's hardest congressional battles in prospect the position of Democratic floor leader in the Senate is now one of the most important in Washington from a political point of view. Senators Hitchcock of Nebraska, Underwood of Alabama and Simmons of North Carolina are the three foremost candidates. Underwood is viewed as a compromise between Hitchcock and Simmons.

Among those mentioned as a successor to Senator Martin is Henry St. George Tucker of Lexington, Va., authority on international law and a former member of Congress. Governor Westmoreland Davis is expected to run in the election which will come later.

Baseball Barons to Powwow Soon; Naught to Worry Ban Johnson

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent) New York, Nov. 13.—Ban Johnson is getting so he has a relapse every time a bunch of baseball heads get together.

The big "getting together stunt" of the National League heads is scheduled for the second Tuesday of December. Ban has nothing to fear from it, as the barons of the old league will not have time to even whisper of American League politics. A big program of business may also serve to keep the magnates from talking about a successor for Gerry Herrmann, under whom dynamite that failed to explode was shoved several times during the late season.

There is a pile of work for the magnates to get off their chests during the busy shopping time. Among some of the subjects they will discuss are: Resumption of the old 154-game schedule, abolition of the nine-game world's series, barring of late season trades, ban on freak pitching deliveries.

One experience with the 140-game schedule has been enough for the magnates and they are sure to return to the old 154-game route or even go it better by adding a dozen or so games.

Expedition to Study Aborigines in Heart of Unknown Australia

(By the United Press)

Adelaide, South Australia, Nov. 13.—Data shedding light upon many difficult ethnological and sociological questions is expected to result from the proposed scientific expedition into the heart of Australia with the purpose of studying the aborigines and rendering them such aid as found necessary.

Thorough medical and anthropological examinations will be made of the tribes. The itinerary will cover an immense area, stretching from the Queensland border to the Fowler's Bay and Western Australia border districts.

Members of the expedition will also chart the country, which geographically is not yet thoroughly known. The question of setting up native reserves will be considered in the light of the investigation, which will last several months.
