Let The Whole World Know The Good Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Does

HEART DISEASE has its victim at a disadvantage. Always taught that heart disease is incurable, when the symptoms become well defined, the patient becomes alarmed and a nervous panic takes place. But when a sure remedy is found and a cure effected, after years of suffering, there is great rejoicing and the patient, as the whole world know, Mrs. Laura Wheeler, of Sulkirk, Kansas, writes: "I desire to let the whole world know what Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has done for me. For ten years I had pain in my heart, shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in my left side, oppressed feeling in my chest, weak and hungry spells, bad dreams, could not lie on either side, was numb and suffered terribly. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and before I had had the second bottle I felt its good effects. I feel now that I am fully recovered, and that Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life." Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on guarantee that first bottle benefits, or money refunded.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY.

I have made $1,640 clear money in 87 days and attended to my household duties besides, and I think this is doing splendid for a woman inexperienced in business. Anyone can sell what everyone wants to buy, and every family wants a Dish Washer. I can't canvass at all; people come or send for the washer, and every washer that goes out sell two or three more, as they do to work to perfection. You can wash and dry the dishes in two minutes. I am going to devote my time to this business now and I am sure I can clear $5,000 a year. My sister and brother have started in the business and are doing splendid. You can get complete instructions and hundreds of testimonials by addressing the Iron City Dish Washer Co., Station A, Pittsburg, Pa., and if you don't make lots of money it's your own fault. Mrs. W. H. 10-23-181.

We're Waitin'.

Send on the big prosperity—
We're fond of jubilatin'!
And from the north hills to the sea
We're waitin'—O we're waitin'!
Don't let the wave get lost away—
Be sure about the datin',
And let it break, and break today;
We're waitin'—O we're waitin'!
Start up the mills! Start up the mills!
And stop the long debatin':
We want some quinine for the chills;
We're waitin'—O we're waitin'!
Just let it come—"a tidal wave,"
Like that he've long been standin';
"The combat deepens; On, ye brave!"
We're waitin'—O we're waitin'!"

Chicago's Reign of Terror.

Forty-one holdups have been reported to the police of Chicago during November, and it is probable the number will reach fifty before the month ends. Arrests have been made in half the cases, but the epidemic of robberies only seems to increase.

Chief of Police Badenoch has asked the city council to allow him 150 more policemen for the better protection of the city. The alarm of citizens has become so great that travel on the streets at night has been affected to a marked degree. Theatre managers say that the attendance at their places has decreased greatly, and that first-class performances fail to draw full houses.

Street car traffic has suffered most of all. People are afraid to ride in the cars at night and the travel finally became so light that Mr. Yerkes several weeks ago took the night cars off Madison street, where they have been running for 20 years. Often the cars would carry no passengers and the company decided to abolish the line altogether.

A vigorous protest was made, however, by patrons who work nights, and the cars were restored by order of the council. Robberies have been common in Chicago ever since the "long" and "short" men began their daring raids last summer. Those notorious young villains are now in custody, but holdups, sand-bagging and burglaries are as frequent as before.—Chicago Dispatch.

The Chinese Work Backward.

The Chinese do everything backward. Their compass points to the south instead of the north. The men wear skirts and the women trousers; while the men wear their hair long the women coil theirs in knots. The dress-makers are men; the women carry burdens. The spoken language is not written and the written language is not spoken. Books are read backward, and any notes are inserted at the top. White is used for mourning, and the bridesmaids wear black—instead of being maids these functionaries are old women. The Chinese surname comes first, and they shake their own hands instead of the hand of the one whom they would greet. Vessels are launched sideways and horses are mounted from the off side. They commence their dinner with the dessert and end up with soup and fish. In shaving, the barber operates on the head, cutting the hair upward, then downward, and then polishes it off with a small knife, which is passed over the eye-brows and into the nose to remove any superfluous hairs.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Chance to Make Money Easy.

Mr. Editor.—I have read how Mr. C. E. B. made so much money in the Dish Washer business and think I have beat him. I am very young yet and have had little experience in selling goods, but have made over eight hundred dollars in ten weeks selling Dish Washers. It is simply wonderful how easy it is to sell them. All you have to do is to show the ladies how they work and they cannot help but buy one. For the benefit of others I will state that I got my start from the Mound City Dish Washer Co., St. Louis, Mo. Write to them, and they will send you full particulars. I think I can clear over $3,000 the coming year, and I am not going to let the opportunity pass. Try it and publish your success for the benefit of others. J. F. C.

AN ENGINEER KILLED

A Sleeping Car Telescoped on the Carolina Central Railroad.

The Charlotte-bound combination train on the Carolina Central was telescoped at 6 o'clock Thursday morning at Laurel Hill, by an extra freight train, Engineer W. E. Clayton, of the extra freight was killed.

The combination train, with a sleeping car attached to the rear, left Wilmington an hour and thirty minutes ahead of the extra freight, but during the run to Laurel Hill had lost some time. At that station some freight cars had to be shifted to the siding, and the sleeper, with two or three box cars, were detached and left standing on the main line while the shifting was being done. The conductor and train's crew were at work on the Charlotte end of the siding, and there was no one in or about the detached cars on the main line, except Mr. Ed. L. Martin, of Charlotte, who was asleep in the berth, and a negro man who served as flagman. All the signals were properly set and the red lights turned so as to show down the track. A heavy fog prevailed, and through this the extra train came booming up. The fireman on this train says that the headlight from his engine flashed on the rear of the sleeper before they had seen the signals. They were then within four or five car lengths of the sleeper. Engineer Clayton exclaimed: "My God!" at the same time reversing the engine. He tried to jump from the cab, and the crash came. The tender was jammed up against the engine, and between the two the engineer's body was caught, and his bones were crushed through his flesh. The fireman remained in the cab. It all happened so quickly that he had not thought of jumping, and was unhurt.

The flagman was in the rear part of the sleeper when he saw the approaching headlight flare up out of the fog, and leaped from the car. The lone occupant, Mr. Martin, thrown from his berth by the shock. Clouds of steam filled the car; the engine was jammed up against the rear door, and the wheels of the machine were revolving and grinding at a great rate on the rails in reverse motion, given them by the last touch of the dead engineer on the lever. The train men were very quickly on the scene, but engineer Clayton was dead before anyone reached his side. The sleeper was pulled away from the wreckage, and the body of the engineer was taken from the wreck. The rear platform of the sleeper was smashed to pieces, and the front part of the engine, headlight, pilot and smoke stack were broken.

Engineer Clayton's body was taken to Hamlet, where he lived. He was 35 years old, and leaves a wife and two children. He had been running an engine on the Carolina Central for 12 years. Four years ago he took a run on G., C. & N. division, and in an accident his engine turned over. He was badly hurt, his legs being scalded, and for three years thereafter he was unable to walk. After he had recovered the use of his legs, he returned to the Carolina Central as a freighter conductor. His father was for a long time master machinist of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad at Newbern. The railroad men are greatly depressed over the death of Mr. Clayton, who was one of the most efficient engineers on the road.—Charlotte Observer.

Catarrah Means Danger.

Because if unchecked it may lead directly to consumption. Catarrah is caused by impure blood. This fact is fully established. Therefore, it is useless to try to cure catarrah by outward applications or inhalants. The true way to cure catarrah is to purify the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, cures catarrah by its power to drive out all impurities from the blood. Thousands of people testify that they have been perfectly and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Pritchard's Lucky Number.

Upon the return of Senator Jeter C. Pritchard, of North Carolina, it now seems, depends the political status of the next Senate. Senator Chandler and Senator Thurston have both been quoted as saying that the Republicans were already sure of forty-three Senators in the Fifty-fifth Congress, were almost reasonably certain of electing Blackburn's successor, and had strong hopes of Pritchard's re-election. This would give a tie vote on all measures, and the decisive vote of the Vice-President would enable them to carry all important propositions. Thus it will be seen that there are but two very important ifs in the way of the absolute control of the next Senate by the Republicans. Senator Blackburn still sees a fighting chance for himself, for he declares unmistakably that he is still in the race, and will be there until the end. In North Carolina the Populists are doing everything in their power to defeat the return of Senator Pritchard, in order that they may hold the balance of power in the Senate.

North Carolinians are wide awake to the importance of the vote which will be cast by the Senator to be elected in that State. The old cry of goldbugs is being raised against Pritchard, and his opponents declare he is not to be trusted even if he should give them a pledge not to vote against free silver. The Republican plurality in the Legislature lacks considerable of a majority, but there is no lack of confidence on the part of Pritchard's friends. The Democrats, who are not taking any particular part in the fight, say that the promise of the Federal patronage of the State, to be controlled by Pritchard for the next four years, will be sufficient to bring him in a winner.—Washington Post.

Chi's Battle with an Eagle.

Seven-year-old Nettie Hinkle was yesterday attacked by a large bald eagle in the Quakake Valley. Her screams brought Miss Jennie McDowell, aged 16 years, to her assistance. Miss McDowell struck the bird with a stick, when it swooped down on her head and shoulders, tearing the flesh and clothing.

The eagle repeated the attack half a dozen times, when the young woman thrust a large steel hat-pin into the bird's neck and breast and succeeded in killing it. Miss McDowell's face, hands and arms were torn by the eagle's talons.—Catawissa, Pa., Dispatch, 24th.

Condensed Testimony.

Chas. B. Hood, Broker and manufacturer's agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies that Dr. King's New Discovery has no equals as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown Prop. St. James Hotel, Ft. Wayne, Ind., testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing, caused by La Grippe, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail and would rather have it than any doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming, 222 E. 25th St. Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup, because it instantly relieves. Free trials Bottles at any drug store.

A Wife Equal to a Gold Mine.

Will some of your readers give me a good recipe for making a cold starch? I am selling self-heating flatirons and iron a little at every place and want to know how to make a good cold starch. My husband was in debt and I being anxious to help him thought I would sell self-heating flatirons and I am doing splendidly. A cent's worth of fuel will heat the iron for 3 hours, so you have a perfectly even heat. You can iron in half the time and no danger of scorching the clothes, as with the old iron, and you can get the most beautiful gloss. I sell at nearly every house, as the iron saves so much fuel everybody wants one. I make $150 on each iron and have not sold less than ten any day I have worked. My brother is doing well and I think anyone can make lots of money anywhere selling iron. J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, Mo., will start any one in the business, as they did me, if you will address them. Mrs. A. Russell.

Severe Punishment for Spanish Bomb-Throwing Anarchists.

BARCELONA, Nov. 24.—The Attorney General, who is prosecuting the persons accused of being implicated in the throwing of a bomb in a crowded street during the passage of a religious procession on June 7 last, has declared his intention of urging the meting out of severe punishment to the offenders. He will ask the Court that twenty-eight of the prisoners be sentenced to death, and fifty-six condemned to penal servitude for life. Great precautions will be taken against disorder when the sentences are published. The Court will sit in the vault of the Fortress of Mont Juich and only military officers will be admitted to its proceedings.

The crime for which the prisoners are to be tried was one of the most fiendish of the many similar outrages committed by Anarchists within the last few years. The usual religious observances of the feast of Corpus Christi were being observed, and thousands of people lined the streets to witness the procession on its way to the ancient Church of Santa Maria del Mar.

Just as the procession was entering the church the bomb was exploded in the crowd, killing a dozen persons outright and wounding about fifty others, some of whom died from their injuries.

To Negroize the Eastern Towns.

It is announced that certain Republicans will give notice that application will be made to the next General Assembly to change the charter of the city of Raleigh. An attempt was made during the session of the Legislature to so change the charter as to give the absolute control of the city over into the hands of the negroes. The public is familiar with the causes that defeated that measure, and the people of Raleigh as well as the other cities which were saved from negro domination, know that but for the refusal of certain Populists to join with the Republicans in giving the negroes the control of our Eastern towns and cities not one would have escaped negro rule.

The Republicans this year believe that they can force the Populists to vote with them for complete and full negro domination and all the Eastern towns they are arranging to have bills to amend the charters introduced, by reason of his large influence. Judge Russell got a bill through the Legislature changing the charter of Wilmington. Result: A negro city clerk and negro policeman galore. This is the condition the Republicans would bring about in every town in the State if they could. There are reasons to believe the Populists chosen to the Legislature will draw the line at turning the Eastern towns and cities over to absolute negro rule.—News & Observer.

A Georgia County Which Had No Election.

There is one county in the United States that did not know of the national election, that is Charlton county, Ga. The officials of the office of Secretary of State are authority for the declaration that the people of the county could not have known of the election, for no election was held there and the official digest of the election in Georgia has been made up with Charlton left out.

The famous Okefenokee swamp covers most of the territory of Charlton county, which is on the Florida line and indeed, runs down into Florida. According to the maps there are several towns in the county, with Trader's Hill as the county seat, but all efforts of the Secretary of State to get returns from there have proved unavailing, and it is claimed as a certainty that no election was held.—Atlanta Dispatch, 22nd.

Conflict Between Laws

A very timely question has been asked us by one of the Bryan ejectors of this State, namely on what day should the electors meet? The doubt, of course, arose from the confusion created by the difference of dates prescribed respectively by the new State election law and the act of Congress on the subject.

The day prescribed by the State law, section 67, is the first Wednesday in December. That prescribed by act of Congress is the second Monday in January. The act of Congress is controlling, as is settled in the case of McPherson vs. Brooker, 146 U. S. Reports, page 35. The case is an interesting one and covers exactly the point at issue here, where there is a difference in time between the State law and the United States statute. In the opinion, while the electors are accounted State officers in the same sense, in fact, as members of the Legislature, yet the jurisdiction is given to Congress as to the time of meeting.

Therefore, we do not see that there is any doubt about the fact that the second Monday in January is the day on which the electors are legally required to meet.—News & Observer.

On a Southern Engine.

Not a great while ago when an engineer on the D. L. W. railroad made a big run with a Brooks engine, the Brooks Company presented the engineer with a handsome gold watch.

The famous run of 78 miles in 72 minutes by Engineer H. J. Heilig, on the Seaboard Air Line, was made on a Southern made engine, manufactured by the Richmond Locomotive Works. Mr. Heilig's fine run has been widely commented on all over the State. He is one of the most popular engineers in the State, as well as one of the most capable, tried and true. He deserves all the good things that are being said of him, and more besides.

It is pleasant to know that this run was made by a native Southerner on an engine manufactured in the South. Southern men and Southern manufacturers are at the front.—News & Observer.

Among the passengers who arrived in New York last Thursday, on the North German Lloyd steamer Havel from Bremen and Southampton, were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Castle and son. During the voyage Mr. and Mrs. Castle mingled freely with their fellow-passengers, and appeared to be in good health and spirits.

There were sixty new convicts received at the penitentiary during the month of October.

Churning Done in One Minute.

I have tried the Lightning Churn you recently described in your paper, and it is certainly a wonder. I can churn in less than one minute, and the butter is elegant, and you get considerably more butter than when you use a common churn. I took the agency for the churn here and every butter maker that sees it buys one. I have sold three dozen and they give the best of satisfaction. I know I can sell 100 in this township, as they churn so quickly, make so much more butter than common churns, and are so cheap. Some one in every township can make two or three hundred dollars selling these churns. By addressing J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, you can get circulars and full information so you can make big money right at home. I have made $50 the past two weeks and have never sold any thing in my life before. A FARMER.

A Horse Boards a Street Car.

New York, Nov. 24.—A big bay horse attached to an open truck took fright last week and dashed into Twenty-third street behind a Fourth avenue horse car. There was a yell and a crash and a chorus of feminine shrieks. A blue-coated conductor landed on the sidewalk in a heap. He had cleared the street in one leap. Out of the front door of the car rushed a lot of women shrieking.

On the rear of the platform was the horse—at least, as much of him as could get there, and he was the most astonished horse in the city. Just how he did it no one knows, but with one plunge his front legs went over the dashboard, carrying with them most of his body. Over the back of the dashboard dangled his hind legs, barely reaching the ground; the truck had run half-way up his back. A lot of cabbies detached him from the truck and slid him off the dashboard sideways, none the worse for his experience.

The Brethren Not in Harmony.

Mr. A. B. Hildebrand, one of the men read out of the Republican party of Catawba county by the recent meeting held in Hickory, refuses to accept the dictum of those passing the resolution. He publishes a card, which is, to say the least, salty, and makes fun of his critics. Mr. Hildebrand says he was a Republican when it was far more desirable to be one than now and would be found voting the ticket when his critics had deserted. He charges some of them with being such new converts to Republicanism that they are wearing the same clothes they wore as Democrats. After the above was written, Col. P. M. Hildebrand comes out in a card in the Mercury and refuses to abide the action of the committee. Truly the brethren are not living together in harmony.—Hickory Times.

A Minister From China.

A dispatch from Peking says that Wu-Ting-Fang has been appointed Chinese Minister to the United States, in place of Yang Yu, who has been transferred to St. Petersburg.

Wu-Ting-Fang is a barrister at law, about fifty years of age, and regarded in China as an exceptionally clever all-round man. He was graduated from an English University, and received his judicial training also in Great Britain. He has been the legal adviser of Li Hung Chang, and enjoys not only the confidence, but the cordial friendship of the great Chinese Viceroy.

Nineteen damage suits, for $10,000 each, have been brought against the Catawba Coal Mining Company, of Chatham county, by relatives of persons killed in the terrible accident at the mines about a year ago.

Maj. C. T. Pierson is manager of the State Hotel, at Davidson, Texas, which the traveling men say is one of the best hotels in that section. In speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Major Pierson says: "I have used it myself and in my family for several years, and take pleasure in saying that I consider it an infallible cure for diarrhoea and dysentery. I always recommend it, and have frequently administered it to my guests in the hotel, and in every case it has proven itself worthy of unqualified endorsement. For sale by W. L. Crouse, Druggist."

In Jackson county, where the Democratic and Republican legislative candidates received a tie vote, another campaign has begun in view of the election recently ordered by the Governor. The Populists and Republicans fused the last time and the Populists supported Ensley, the Republican candidate. Ensley has publicly stated that he will support Senator Pritchard. Mr. Walter Moore, who has represented his county in the Legislature, several times in the Democratic candidate. They received 926 votes each on November 3.
