RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA

These twin diseases cause untold suffering. Doctors admit that they are difficult to cure—so do their patients. Paine's Celery Compound has permanently cured the worst cases of rheumatism and neuralgia—so may those who have used it.

"Having been troubled with rheumatism at the knee and foot for five years, I was almost unable to get around, and was very often confined to my bed for weeks at a time. I used only one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and was perfectly cured. I can now jump around, and feel as lively as a top." FRANK CARROLL, Bureka, Nevada.

Paine's Celery Compound

"I have been greatly afflicted with acute rheumatism, and could find no relief until I used Paine's Celery Compound. After using six bottles of this medicine I am now cured of rheumatic troubles." SAMUEL HIRONOSKO, So. Cornish, N. H.

Effects Lasting Cures.

Paine's Celery Compound has performed many other cures as marvelous as these,—copies of letters sent to any address. Pleasant to take, does not disturb the digestion, and entirely vegetable; a child can take it. What's the use of suffering longer with rheumatism or neuralgia?

BABIES Living upon Lactated Food are Healthy, Happy, Healthy. It is Unequaled.

FOR SALE. NO USE TO OWNERS.

DIAMOND DYES Give Color and Brighter Colors than any other Dyes.

FORCED SALES.

In order to reduce my large Stock of Cashmeres and Jeans, which embraces the best assortment in all grades. I have decided to "Cut the Price" to a mere INCREASE OVER COST. This includes the entire line, and it will prove a "big bonanza" to large families who have not yet made their Winter purchases. On any and all Dress Goods, I will sell at a reduction of from 10 to 25 per cent. Dress Buttons, about 1500 dozen, worth from 10 to 20 cents per dozen, shall all go to the uniform price of 5 cents per dozen. My Stock of Clothing exceeds anything in the county, and the fact that I sell double the amount of any other house is the best assurance that my prices are the lowest. Any style and quality for Children, Boys and Men, constantly on hand or will be supplied at short notice. A new lot of Overcoats has just come in and I am ready to supply the wants of either Men and Boys.

Special sale of Carpets at 15 cents worth 25 cents.

Business will be generally suspended on Thanksgiving day and my store closed.

Come and see what a quantity of goods you can buy for a little money.

I now have a small quantity of Plaids for the benefit of customers.

Respectfully, JOHN L. COBB.

COL. L. L. POLK

Speaks at the Banquet at Raleigh, given in honor of his election to the Presidency of the Farmers' Alliance and Laborers' Union of the U. S.

COL. POLK'S SPEECH.

MR. CHAIRMAN: History is ever repeating itself. The march of human progress is strewn with the wrecks of empires, kingdoms, systems, thrones and governments. Many of them went down in violence and blood. But the declaration in the sentiment to which I am called to respond—"The New Revolution"—is but the echo of the mighty fiat which has been put forth by 3,000,000 liberty loving, law-abiding American freemen. The approach of this New Revolution has not been heralded by the flare of flambeau, the beat of drum or the thunder of cannon. The thousands and hundreds of thousands of patriots who are enlisting in its ranks are marshaling under no ensign of strife, of hate, of blood, or of carnage. But they align themselves under a banner on whose snow-white folds are imprinted in characters of heavenly hue, the God-given motto: "Peace on earth, good will to men;" and the battle cry of this mighty host from one end of the land to the other, is: "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none." [Great applause.]

In the rapid development of our American civilization, demoralizing forces have been evolved which seriously threaten to paralyze our industries, to impoverish our wealth-producers, to subvert our free institutions and to destroy our Republic, can form of government. To meet these forces and neutralize or subdue them, is an undertaking as formidable, as patriotic and as heroic, as its accomplishment shall be grand and glorious. With that quiescent submission characteristic of the American farmer in times of peace, he pursued the even tenor of his way, sowing for the harvest and hoping for the reward of his labor. How anxiously, but how in vain did he look for its coming! Banking and other moneyed interests, manufacturing in all its departments, railroads, schemes of speculation, villages, towns and cities, all prospering and flourishing; yet, despite his earnest, honest, manly and untiring efforts, he is being gradually drawn into the chilling shades of helpless and hopeless poverty.

Most naturally he began to investigate the situation. And here are a few of the alarming and appalling facts that confronted him:

1. That from 1870 to 1880, while farms of 3 to 20 acres decreased 14 to 33 per cent, those of 1,000 acres or more increased 770 per cent! And in this connection he finds another no less alarmingly significant fact—that aliens and foreign syndicates own 61,900,000 acres of land. He is startled, for he belongs to that class of conservative thinkers who believe, that with all the vast area of our country, there is not a single acre for any except actual citizens under our government. [Applause.]

2. That from 1850 to 1860 Agriculture led Manufacturing, in increased value of products, ten per cent; yet from 1870 to 1880 Manufacturing led Agriculture in increased value of products 27 per cent, thus showing 37 per cent in favor of the growth of manufacturing.

3. That in 1867, 65,636,000 acres in cultivation produced 1,329,729,000 bushels of all kinds of grain, which sold for $1,284,000,000; while in 1887, twenty years subsequent, 141,821,000 acres produced 2,669,457,000 bushels which sold for only $1,204,289,000. That is, the products of 1860 from less than one half as many acres and half the amount, brought the farmer $79,711,000 more. It is impossible to charge this wholesale destruction of values to overproduction. It was a want of ability to purchase, caused by a shrinking volume of currency, and nothing else. In 1867 we had $52 per capita of population, and in 1887 we had less than $7 per capita.

He finds in the vaults of our National Treasury on the 1st of November, 1889, $648,220,000. It is not overproduction, but underconsumption. There can be no overproduction in that country where there is the cry of a single child, for bread. [Applause.]

Had the 65,000,000 of our people consumed each day during last year more than they did consume, one ounce of meat, it would have taken 1,470,000,000 pounds, 338,000,000 pounds more than was exported.

If they had consumed four ounces of flour each day, it would have required 148,280,000 bushels of wheat, 28,280,000 bushels more than was exported. If they had expended 3 cents each day for products in excess of what they did expend, they would have bought $711,750,000 or nearly $29,000,000 more than was exported.

Could not our population have consumed four ounces of flour each day per capita more than was consumed, or one ounce of meat per day, or have expended three cents per day more for bread and meat than was expended, without invading the province of luxurious extravagance? Who shall answer the argument that our domestic exports are the measure of our overproduction? Stand at your street corners, visit the haunts and cells of the hundreds of thousands who are wrapped in squalid want and poverty, and they can give the answer. [Applause.]

4. Our National debt in 1866 was $2,783,000,000. We have paid since that time in principal, in interest, and in premiums on bonds, $3,578,000,000, and yet we owed, on the 1st day of November last, $1,693,000,000.

5. In 1860 there were but two millionaires in all this country; today they are counted by thousands and own three-fifths of the wealth of the nation. Two days ago I stood in the gallery of your Senate Chamber in Washington and looked down upon a body of 76 men, 41 of whom are millionaires. What brought about this state of affairs? Where among the 8,000,000 farmers in this broad land will you find a farmer's millionaire? This vast aggregation of wealth is the product of labor. What kind of labor? Search our country's history, and you will search in vain to find where slave labor ever made a single millionaire. It is not slave labor, but it is CONTROLLED labor. Slave labor had to be cared for in childhood and old age, in sickness and in health, but controlled labor is used only when found profitable, and is discarded with heartless indifference when found unremunerative, and without manhood and womanhood, and is cast aside to find its refuge in a poor house or a pauper's grave. [Applause.]

6. In 1860 the farmers numbered one-half our population and owned one-half the wealth of the country. In 1880, while they still numbered one-half the population, they owned but one-fourth the wealth of the country, and I confidently predict that the forthcoming census will show a still more deplorable condition of affairs.

7. One of the most potent factors in this wholesale destruction of values is to be found in the financial policy of this government. In 1866, when the business interests of the country were never in a more prosperous condition, we had a circulating medium of $52 per capita, with an estimated total indebtedness of all kinds of $5,000,000,000. To day we have a circulating medium of less than $7 per capita, with the estimated total of indebtedness of all kinds of $38,000,000,000! During the past twenty-three years there have been one hundred and sixty three thousand failures, amounting to $3,898,000,000! The experience of our own and all other nations—the judgment of our own economists and those of all other nations, of our own and all other ages, agree that a contraction of the volume of currency is invariably attended by a corresponding shrinkage in values, and that an inadequate circulating medium is always followed by the same disastrous results. [Applause.]

Does the farmer share these results? I point to the fact that the average decrease in the value of farms throughout the country is not less than twenty per cent. I point to the ten great leading agricultural States of the North West loaded down with farm mortgages to the extent of $3,425,000,000, and in which the assessed value of the farms in 1880 but little exceeded $5,000,000,000. With the accumulated interest on these mortgages at high rates and the constant decline in the value of the farms, what must be the condition of the farmers of those States? It was my fortune a few days since to pass across the three great States of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, and the most significant feature, as indicating their condition, was the striking absence of new or improved buildings on the farms. Again I point to the mortgage-ridden, mortgage-cursed farms all over the land, north, south, east and west. I point to the cattle grower of Kansas, selling his beef at one cent per pound, the Illinois corn grower selling his corn at fourteen cents per bushel and the cotton grower of the South selling his cotton at barely the cost of its production. I point to the populous States of Vermont and New Hampshire—where the farmers had cash markets for their products at their doors—and who used the bells and whistles of crowded factories daily for their "dinner horns." In the small State of New Hampshire, alone, the hum of machinery, the ringing of bells and the scream of whistles reverberate over the hills and plains of 851 abandoned farms and find no echo in the happy song of contented husbandmen. I point to the great and prosperous State of Michigan with its great diversity of industries and to its richest agricultural county, in which during the year 1888 three hundred and sixty-six of its farms passed under the hammer of its sheriff—one for every day in the year. I point to this fruitful land, from ocean to ocean, the richest and grandest heritage ever vouchsafed to man, and whose very air should be vocal with the thrilling notes of peace and plenty, but which is laden with the dismal, universal wail of "hard times."

President Garfield said, "Who ever controls the currency of a country controls the people." This vast aggregation of capital, enriching the few to the impoverishment of the many, is entrenched behind law, but it has heard the sullen and ominous murmur of an oppressed people. [Applause.]

Over one thousand years ago, the old Sheik Iderim, of Medina, said to certain Roman ingrates: "Do you dream that because the prophet of Allah dwells now beyond the bridge of Al Sirat, that therefore he is deaf, and dumb, and blind? I tell you by the splendor of God! that tempest is brooding on his brow, there is lightning gathering in his soul for you." Do men dream that because of the Genius of Justice has withdrawn and no longer presides in the Councils of the Nation, that therefore it has become deaf and dumb and blind? Let them not deceive themselves with such delusion. [Continued applause.]

We are told that the unjust and ruinous exactions of capital and corporate power are made in conformity to law. I answer as an American citizen—as a North Carolinian, etc., as a descendant of our Mecklenburg fathers, that the tyrannical mandates of George the Third, were accompanied by the boastful declaration that he, too, was the rightful occupant of the British throne. [Applause.]

There is no tyranny so degrading as legalized tyranny—there is no injustice so oppressive as that which tands entrenched behind the forms of law.

Thus, Mr. Chairman, I have very briefly referred to some of the causes which have inaugurated the "new revolution," and which assumed form and life, and being in the great convention at St. Louis, last week. The cry for relief which swells up all over the land will not—it cannot be suppressed. Justice, and not charity, is what we demand. Warning on no legitimate interest, legitimately prosecuted, we earnestly invoke the sympathy and aid of all good citizens of whatever rank, or class, or vocation. [Applause.]

Thank God! that the farmers of the great Northwest and of the South—representatives of a constituency of 3,000,000 of the most conservative of all our people, were at last permitted to convene in St. Louis, without the obnoxious and wicked interference of designing sectional agitators—those men who were "invisible in war and who have been invincible in peace." Many of these farmers were war-scarred veterans who had faced each other in the red blaze of battle. But patriotically and magnanimously turning their backs to the past, they clasped hands as brethren and standing around the grave of sectionalism, they planted thereon the white rose of peace, with the united prayer that it might bloom perpetually and forever. [Applause.]

Thus united in purpose and impelled by common interest and common peril, the "new revolution" will move forward with resistless force until the sovereignty of the people shall be re-established in the glory of its majesty and power, and justice shall be re-enthroned. [Applause.]

And when old Father Time shall grow weary with his work of demolition, and shall sit down "mid the wreck of empires and wasted monuments and extinct governments to recount his victories, may he find towering high above the desolation of the ages, in all the freshness and beauty of resplendent glory, the Temple of American Liberty, and inscribed above its portal, in characters of fadeless light, the symbols of its immortal duration—Truth, Justice and Equity! [Great Applause.]

The Blair Bill.

The Republicans in the Senate reported the Blair bill favorably yesterday. The Republican platform to capture the South, by appeals to its poverty, is to be feared. Many honest and able men and papers in the South advocate federal aid to education. They defend their position by the statistics of illiteracy, and an appeal to the masses to relieve themselves and their children from ignorance by accepting this present from the Greeks.

The Blair bill is an entering wedge for that nefarious proposition of Senator Blair's, already formulated into a bill before the Senate, for a Constitutional amendment establishing a federal common school system.

Centralization is growing in this country, and the people will continue to yield up the rights of themselves and the States until—well, it is simply horrible to contemplate what will be the result. Certainly centralization is not the keynote of a successful and happy republic. Southern Democrats favoring the Blair bill are assuming a vast responsibility.—From Charlotte Chronicle.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

Mrs. Mitchell, Captain Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.
