ANOTHER WITHDRAWAL.

Wm. E. Cameron, former Gov. of Virginia, and who has been a Republican a number of years has renounced his allegiance to that party. Hear what he has to say:

"I have been taught by the events of eighteen months past, that men of our antecedents and connections can no longer with self-respect lend our voices, our votes, or even the negative support of silence, to the Republican party as it is expounded by the organization in this State, or as it is administered by the present executive and Legislative departments of the United States government.

"The Republican party preserves no longer the semblance of speaking for the entire country, but bases its claims to supremacy on sectional prejudices and sectional interests; pure and simple. Not only so, but the directors of its policy have not hesitated, in the attainment of their ends, to prostitute the plighted faith of the party, in sight of all the world, and to renounce in their Congressional enactments the promises solemnly made to the Chicago platform.

"Their objects was and is to force the fighting as between a solid North and a solid South, and at the same time to use the small contingent of Southern Republicans in Congress to minimize the power of the South by such a political abolition as the Lodge bill, and by so framing a tariff law (under pretext of protection of American labor and American products,) so as to increase every burden of the customs upon the weaker section, and as to force, in all its shameless inequality, the revenue tax upon the tobacco of Virginia, Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Maryland and Florida."

PLAN TO STORE 2,000,000 BALES OF COTTON.

A Montgomery, Ala., special of Saturday to the Atlanta Constitution says:

"At the last meeting of the National Farmers' Alliance, the matter of arranging some plan by which the cotton producers could hold their crop for better prices, was referred to the Cotton Committee with power to make any arrangement possible to effect this end. The committee at once opened communication with European capitalists, which has now been in progress several months, and it is given out in New York today that arrangements have been at last perfected.

A correspondent of the Atlanta Journal says:

"The National Alliance has achieved a great work. The cotton committee of the National body has completed arrangements with European capitalists to advance $32 per bale on 2,000,000 bales of American cotton to be stored in the warehouses of the South for a period of one year, allowing the farmer to dispose of the cotton any time during the year should the price advance to his satisfaction. The European syndicate which advances this money on the cotton will charge 4 per cent. per annum in their interest, and will be fully secured, on which the advance is made.

These arrangements mean that the farmer will have the use of $64,000,000 and at the same time keep 2,000,000 bales of cotton out of the market. This money comes at the very lowest rate of interest that could be asked, and the arrangement cannot fail to produce marked advance in the price of cotton, as it virtually withdraws at once over one-fourth of the crop of the country. The COURIER sincerely hopes that this or some other plan will be effected so that the farmers may be enabled to get a good price for their cotton.

MAJ. GUTHRIE, a prominent Republican of Durham, has recently gotten into the secrets of some of the bad work of Republican officers, by coming upon some official papers in a pile of waste papers, and being an honest, conscientious man, he has, therefore, withdrawn from the "G. O. P.," and asks all honest white Republicans to go and do likewise.

An Interesting Mineral Spring.

It was our privilege a few days ago to pay a visit to the mineral spring known as Wilson's, now owned by Miss Dovie Jetton. I submit a few words descriptive of the spring and its surroundings in the hope that it may prove of interest to your readers. This spring is situated about 15 miles east of Lincolnton and two miles southwest of Triangle. One mile from Triangle on the road leading to Lincolnton is a left hand which traveled a mile brings us to the spring, one hundred and fifty yards before we arrive at the fording of Seagle's Creek. A visitor is at once struck with the location of the spring. Approaching it from the creek you ascend a hill until you are at an elevation of thirty or forty feet above the creek before you come to the spring in a level beautifully shaded spot by the roadside. The spring is large, bold-looking about two feet square, walled with granite, the water in it a foot deep but the water runs from it very timidly and after trickling off about fifty feet again sinks into the ground. The water is strongly impregnated with sulphur and there are yellow deposits on the rocks in the spring which have the appearance of sulphur. There has never been a boarding house or health resort at this place but the water has been frequently used with good effect. The variety of trees and vegetation growing around this spring is also worthy of notice, the woodman's axe has kindly spared the original forest in a circle from ten to fifteen feet around the spring and along the streamlet that flows from it. In this area and down the stream a distance of thirty feet, observing that almost every tree was a different kind from the others forming the little group, we made a list of them as follows, some of which were small: Mulberry, persimmon, wild cherry, poplar, red oak, birch, sycamore, sumac, sassafras, hickory, ash, pine, chinquapin, white oak, dogwood, cedar, walnut, crab apple, and one grape vine.

Observing the great variety of wild flowers, grasses, &c. luxuriantly growing around the spring and in the oasis below, the writer was tempted to gather a wild bouquet and on actual count was surprised to find it composed of 24 different kinds of vegetation, all gathered in the same space, but our familiarity with them was not sufficient to enable us to submit a list of their names. Congress Outlines.

(Wilmington Star—Sept. 11.) The consideration of the tariff bill was closed in the Senate yesterday, after six hours' discussion in which Messrs. Hoar, Hiseock, and Jones represented the Republican side, and Messrs. Turpie, Vest and Vance that of the Democratic; Mr. Hiseock, in his speech, made a vituperative attack on the Democratic Senators and the Democratic party, which was replied to in a very effective way by Mr. Vest; Mr. Vance got in some very strong points against the bill, and indulged in some ludicrous remarks, which caused much laughter; the debate being closed, a vote was taken on the passage of the bill, which resulted—yeas 40, nays 29, a strict party vote; six pairs were announced; in the House the session was principally occupied in efforts to obtain a quorum, and the only thing done was the reading of the journal; this, however, failed of approval, no quorum being in sight, and an adjournment followed.

(September 14.) Yesterday was an enjoyable day in Congress; in the Senate Mr. Quay, Mr. Barbour, Mr. Plumb, Mr. Daniel, and a number of others paid eloquent and touching tributes to the memory of Hon. Samuel J. Randall, after which, as a mark of respect, an adjournment took place; in the House the journal of Tuesday last was unanimously passed, together with that of the three following days, all of the Democrats voting in the affirmative; the rest of the session was occupied in the delivery of eulogies to the memory of the late Senator James B. Beck, of Kentucky; Mr. Breckinridge described in beautiful language the character and ability of the dead Senator, and he was followed by a number of other members, all of whom delivered most appropriate addresses; an adjournment followed the delivery of the eulogies.

(September 16.) Business on the calendar was considered for an hour in the Senate yesterday, after which the conference report on the railroad land forfeiture bill was considered until adjournment; in the House Mr. McKinley reported back the tariff bill with Senate amendments, with recommendation that they be non-concurred in, and at the same time he reported a resolution from the committee on rules for the immediate consideration of the bill; the resolution gave rise to a lengthened discussion in opposition thereto, after which the amendments were non-concurred in by a vote of 120 to 82; the rest of the session was consumed in the discussion of a resolution offered by Mr. Eoloe, of Tennessee, repudiating and condemning the speech of Mr. Kennedy, reflecting upon the character and integrity of the Senate as a body. The ways and means committee of the House yesterday rushed through the consideration of the remaining Senate amendments to the tariff bill, and made report to the House; non-concurrence was recommended in every case; Mr. McKinley's special rule for the consideration of the bill and amendments was adopted. The speech of Mr. Kennedy, of Ohio, attacking the Senate and Senator Quay, which created such a sensation when delivered, ten days ago, appeared in the Record with the language somewhat modified, but still of an offensive character.

Exchange of Cotton Seed For Meal.

Ought I to exchange my seed with the oil mill, getting meal in return at the rate of one ton of meal for two tons of seed? Emphatically no, if the meal is not returned to the land either as a mixed fertilizer, or as manure after passing through stock. Two tons of seed contain forty-six pounds phosphoric acid, 120 pounds ammonia, and forty-eight pounds of potash, valued at $20.30, giving the same value as to commercial fertilizers the past season. One ton of meal contains fifty-six phosphoric acid, 172 pounds of ammonia and thirty-two pounds of potash, valued at $26.76. I give to the oil mill men materials worth $20.30 and they give me in return materials worth $26.76. I make $6.46 by the transaction. This is no fanciful sketch, but actual fact. Are the oil mill men not fools to give me this $6.46? Oh no, they save the oil, which I do not want (as it contains no fertilizing ingredients), and sell it. They have in addition the hulls from the seed which are used for fuel under the engine boilers or for bedding.—H. B. Battle, Experiment Station, Raleigh.

The Gospel Truth.

Extract from the Platform of the Indiana Democracy. We are rejoiced at the evidences of an awakening of the farmers of the country to the necessity for organized efforts to better their own condition and protect themselves against unjust legislation and oppressive administration. We invite attention to the fact that the farmers are demanding in substance the same measures of relief which the Democratic party has been advocating for years, but has not had the power to enact, and that the surest and speediest way of obtaining this relief is to restore the Democracy to power in every department of the government.

Weekly Weather Crop Bulletin.

CENTRAL OFFICE, RALEIGH, N. C. During the week ending Saturday, September 13, 1890, the temperature has been considerably above the normal which has been favorable for the maturing of crops. The earlier part of the week was generally clear with but little rain. The latter part cloudy with frequent showers, not sufficient to do much injury except to a few counties as Richmond, Mecklenburg and Rowan. Farmers are chiefly employed in picking cotton and curing the finest crop of tobacco produced in this State for many years. Fodder has been nearly all saved. Wheat land is being prepared and the sowing of oats has commenced.

EASTERN DISTRICT The temperature has been above the average and the rain-fall below except in a few Southern counties, as Pender, Brunswick. The weather has been generally favorable for saving fodder and picking cotton. Rust still reported in a few places.

CENTRAL DISTRICT. Farmers are very busy curing tobacco and picking cotton, for which the weather has been very favorable. Too much rain has fallen in Richmond county, retarding the work there. Fodder is nearly all saved. Wheat land is being broken and oats sowed.

WESTERN DISTRICT. Too much rain has fallen in some of the southeastern counties of this district, Mecklenburg, Rowan, etc., damaging cotton to some extent. In other parts the weather has been very favorable for picking cotton, curing tobacco and saving fodder. Splendid crops of corn in this district.

Everybody Weighed.

It would astonish many of us sometimes, if we could know what our neighbors think of us. Every man has some kind of a standing in the community where he lives, and he is sized up a great deal closer than he has any idea of. You may set it down as a fact that there isn't a twelve-year-old boy in your neighborhood who hasn't got his opinion of you, and he wouldn't be slow about expressing it either, if a stranger should ask him for it. Every man is always making character, whether he is doing anything else or not.—Ex.
