Jenkins Bros. Notice—C. E. Childs. Run Away—J. W. Lowery. Mrs. Calvert has returned home from a visit to Mt. Holly. Mr. J. F. Rhodes, of Asheville, who has been sick is at home on a visit. Misses Prue and May Crouse are spending a few days with relatives in Shelby. Mr. Will Payseur, of Rutherfordton visited his people in this county this week. Messrs. D. W. Robinson and B. C. Cobb are attending Court at Shelby this week. Mrs. W. R. Edwards is visiting, her daughter Mrs. Henry Johnson at Manchester Va. Mrs. Finch and Miss Finch returned Monday from a visit to Maj W. A. Graham's. Col. H. C. Jones' daughters, Miss Connie and Miss Lela, were at Judge Hoke's this week. The Misses Wilkes, of Washington, D. C., visited Mrs. Richardson and others last week. Copies of the laws of North Carolina of the session of 1891, is now at the office of the Register of Deeds. Mrs. Rev. Miller, of Hickory, is on a visit to her parents Capt, and Mrs. P. W. Carpenter, a few miles from town. Mrs. W. L. Crouse, her little daughter, Bright, and her son, Stowe are visiting relatives near Clover, S. C. Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Seagle and daughter, of Gainesville Fla., are visiting their relatives and friends in this county. Mrs. W. H. Speck returned to home at Palatka Fla., last week and was accompanied by Miss Jessie Alexander. If you want to see a real handsome mantel piece go to Mr. E. James' shop and see the one made for the writer's parlor. Mrs. Judge Shipp and little daughter will spend several days in Lincoln this week, the guests of Mrs. Georgeanna Hoke. W. A. Sherrill died at Madison Ga., July 9th, 1891, aged about 48 years. He was a brother of J. P. Sherrill, of this county. Mrs. L. C. Payseur and family of Lancaster, S. C. have been visiting relatives and friends in the county, for several weeks. Miss Laura Sumner of Salisbury who has been visiting the family of Mr. V. A. McBee for several days has returned home. We have issued the COURIER two days earlier this week in order that we might have the pleasure of attending the press association at Winston. Miss Mollie McLean, of Steele Creek, Mecklenburg county, and her brother Robert, are visiting relatives and friends in and near Lincoln. We were glad to see C. O. Cobb Esq., of Dallas, Texas, who is here on a visit to relatives and friends, to spend several days among his old acquaintances. Judge W. A. Hoke is holding court this week in Shelby. Miss Sallie, his sister, accompanied him and will spend a short while at the Cleveland Springs. Read the announcements, in this issue, of the Alliance meetings which are to be addressed by Hon. A. Leazar who is an able and entertaining speaker. Mr. W. C. Carrington and family left last week on a visit to Mrs. Carrington's relatives at Mt. Laurel

Va. They will probably be absent for several months. Col. W. H. Michal and family and Mrs. T. H. Hoke and children expect to leave this week for Rutherfordton to spend several weeks with relatives and friends. It is early to talk about it, but we think it would be well for Lincoln to have a law passed by the next Legislature granting Lincoln the power to hold an election on graded schools. Rev. M. P. Matheny assisted Rev. J. B. Marsh in meeting at Olivet in Catawba County. They had a good meeting. Mr. Matheny is this week in a meeting at Salem Church just below town. We will give in our next issue an epitome of the discussion of the subtreasury which took place recently at Prosperity, S. C., between Dr. Stokes and General Butler, and which may give some light on this important question. We will be absent this week till Saturday. Anyone wishing to pay subscriptions will please leave the money at the store of Capt. W. R. Edwards or at the office with the printers. Hope the treasury will be filled when we return. Prof. D. Matt. Thompson has been elected Superintendent of the graded schools at Statesville which position he has decided to accept. Statesville people are to be congratulated on their choice. As a superintendent of schools Prof Thompson has few equals. Mr. A. M. Wingate has finished painting the inside of the Baptist church. The painting is a beautiful color. The seats are oak and the windows rostrum & co. are dark cherry. Services will hereafter be conducted in the church, which is to be dedicated first Sunday in next month. At the regular meeting of the town council last Friday night, it was decided to make all special taxes the same as last year. Mr. H. E. Ramsaur tendered his resignation as mayor and Maj. Burton resigned his position as member of the council. Resignations were accepted. Mr. J. A. Abernethy was appointed Mayor pro tem. Two young ladies set the type for this paper. Last Friday morning we gave notice to them that we wanted to gain two days and issue the COURIER two days earlier so we could attend the Press convention. They said all right; and they had the paper ready Monday evening and did not work any day later than 6 o'clock. Who can beat it? What is to be done about Piedmont Seminary? Is Lincoln to have a first class high school? We hope it can. What inducements are being offered for a man of ability and push to take charge of the school? There are so many good positions to be had elsewhere that it will require substantial inducements to get a live, progressive teacher to come here. We fear there is not enough interest taken in this important matter by the majority of the citizens. Sheriff J. B. Luckey of Lincoln county died last Thursday evening after a four week prostration with that deadly disease which is killing so many people in our section of the country now—typhoid fever. Sheriff Luckey was thirty-three years of age and very popular, especially with the Alliance. He was elected Sheriff by the Democratic party last November without opposition and during his short tenure of office gave great satisfaction. We had not the pleasure of an acquaintance with Sheriff Luckey but knew his wife to whom we now extend our sincerest sympathies in this time of her great bereavement.—Dallas Eagle. We like to hear a man refuse to take his home paper, and all the time sponge on his neighbor for the reading of it. We like to hear a man complain when asked to subscribe for a home paper that he takes more than he can read and then go and borrow his neighbor's or loaf around until he gathers all the news from it. We like to see a man run down his home paper as not worth taking, and now and then beg the editor for a favor in the editorial column. We like to see a man run down his home paper and then try to get a share of the trade which the newspaper brings to town. We like to see this; it looks economical, thrifty, progressive and cheery.—Fisher and Farmer. Try planting sunflowers in your garden if compelled to live in a malarial neighborhood.

Alliance District Meetings.

A. Leazar, Lecturer for the 7th Congressional District, will address the public at the following times and places: Bess' Chapel, Lincoln Co., Aug. 18; Lincolnton, " " " 19; Iron Station, " " " 20; Denver, " " " 21 at 11 o'clock.

Alliance men, those indifferent to the Alliance, those hostile to the Alliance, if there be such, everybody, are invited to come prepared to spend the day.

AUGUSTUS LEAZAR, District Lecturer.

Sam Motz.

The prevalent anxiety and desire to have a clear head and steady hand, have restrained somewhat the expression of friendship for this young man. We do not propose to open the wounds his removal has made, but wish to place this tribute on his grave. Troubles we talk about, usually grow; troubles we leave with God, die. In this spirit, it may be allowed one, who knew him well, to record the estimate in which he was held and remembered. Sam Motz was about 26 years of age, born and raised in Lincoln county, and his associations were with the young people of Lincoln who have come from the cradle to maturity since the civil war. He was a young man deservedly popular and praiseworthy. I do not mean to say he was backward, diffident, retiring—he was rather conspicuous and always at the front. I do not mean to say he could not be indignant—he could be so and often was much so when little tricks and meanness were practiced. I do not mean to say that he was the only good young man that ever grew up here. But I do mean he was modest in his estimate of himself, indifferent to publicity, not seeking a dominant influence. He loved his own county and people, and clung to his home, his friends and early associations. He had brains, muscle, and courage, and did not waste these endowments in complaints against men who were able to start industries, but used them in endeavoring to start one of his own. And he was succeeding and had become the representative and contractor for a business that is giving varied employment, and calling for skilled labor. In a place where improvements are going on, money easy and industry rewarded, a contractor can keep a force organized to do work promptly and satisfactorily; but it requires more enterprise to manage a business where these conditions do not exist. If anything had to be done, Sam was the man to see about it; he was expected to have judgment about it and to be kind enough to do it or have it done. Never sick or out of place he was always relied on as one to take a hand in anything that was worth doing. He was generous, cheerful and strong, and never felt afraid of anything or anybody, and no violence was suspected in his presence. He was sober-minded—I never heard him say an intemperate word nor knew him to do an intemperate act. When excitement and distress prevailed and good order was disturbed, his pleasant face and smile were a comfort, and he was sure to be on hand where he was needed sober, ready and in a good humor. He never indulged in extravagant speech, his lips were clean and his hands pure. When he registered his name as a member of the M. E. Church, he became an earnest Christian, in touch with every good work in which his church was engaged. In humble faith, hope and charity, he professed and defended the truths on which he rested his soul. He did not know how dear he was to us all, and we did not know how universally he was loved till his end came. It was not surprising that tears and lamentations followed his tragic death on the 11th of July, and the indignation of a distressed people was most natural. Dear distressed friends, you crowded around the grave of my boy and tried to comfort me when my heart was heavy; and now our tears fall upon the grave of this young man; they loved each other, and they were both swept from us just as they were getting able to help us. While this July has brought sunshine and showers and covered the fields with the richest corn, it has taken from us four young men dear to us all, and we feel like sitting under the juniper tree and nursing our sorrows. But let us come away in closer friendly fellowship and hold fast to the right, however difficult it be. We ought not to be disheartened. We ought to leave the past where it is, and go forward, and do what we have to do, suffer all we are, without perplexing ourselves about what might have been; for if we believe in an over-ruling Providence, (and we surely do believe it) there can be no such possibility as might have been.

"He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness and honour."

R. Z. J. July 31, 1891.

Run Away.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to hire, feed, harbor, or in any way lend help to my son, Mack Lowery, a boy aged about 14 years, with his second finger on left hand off to his knuckle. He left home without let from me, August 2, 1891. Respectfully, J. W. LOWERY.

Weekly Weather Crop Bulletin.

CENTRAL OFFICE, RALEIGH, N. C. The reports of correspondents of the Weekly Weather Crop Bulletin issued by the North Carolina Experiment Station and State Weather Service for the week ending Friday, Aug. 7, 1891, show that the weather continued very unfavorable up to the past three or four days, when it became quite favorable, the excessive rains having ceased and the crops in all sections getting more sunshine. The temperature the early part of the week continued slightly below the average, but has reached 90 degrees and over during the last few days. Cotton throughout the State goes to weed and does not fruit well; tobacco is damaged considerably in some localities, while in others it is doing well; upland corn is fine, but in lowlands it is injured by rain; corn crop, generally, good. Present condition of crops: cotton 74; corn 84; tobacco 86. The following total rain-falls for the week have been reported: Weldon, 2.96; Wilmington 5.32; Goldsboro, 3.18; New Bern, 3.14; Lumberton, 4.21; Southern Pines 1.34; Smithfield, 4.60; Raleigh, 3.32; Wadesboro, 1.44; Chapel Hill, 3.06; Oak Ridge, 1.26; Salisbury 1.33; Charlotte 0.87; Statesville 1.53; Asheville 1.78; Bat Cave 2.00. Average rainfall for the State this week, 2.58 inches; normal rainfall for corresponding week of August is 1.52 inches. (160 reports received, representing 64 counties.) WESTERN DISTRICT. The weather has continued more favorable here than in the Eastern and Central parts. But the cotton reports are similar to those from the other districts. Corn and tobacco doing well. Present condition of crops for the district: Cotton 74; corn 88; tobacco 88; grass 81. (60 reports received from 22 counties.) H. B. BATTLE, Ph.D., Director. C. F. von HERMANN, Assistant. Weather Bureau.

Miscellaneous Helps.

A course of progressive reading and study for farmers throughout the country is being organized, which is designed to give instruction upon the subjects which pertain to farm life. The course which is being prepared by Prof. Merrow, of Illinois, assisted by Prof. Hunt, of Cornell University, N. Y., will practically cover four years. The first year's reading and study, beginning on November 1st and continuing six months, through the time when farmers have leisure, proposes to take up the subject of "Soils and Farm Crops." The second year, "Animals and Their Products." The third year, "Buildings, Implements and Farming in its Commercial or Business Features." The fourth year, "Horticulture and Garden Products." The first three books will be prepared by Prof. Merrow and Hunt, and the last by some competent horticulturist not yet selected. An examination will be conducted after some acceptable plan at the end of each year's course, and certificates awarded to those who successfully pass, and a first-class diploma to those who graduate at the end of the four year's course, and take a certificate each year. A second course, called the "Household Course," is for the ladies especially, which, like the above, will be a four year's course, taking up all the various phases of household ethics and economy of of particular interest to the women folk of the household. This is being prepared by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Read.

The first year's work, to begin in November, will be given to a study of the art of preparing food, and household hygiene; examinations will be held and diplomas awarded on the same plan as for the farm courses.

A third course, called the general information course, will take up the various branches of general information. Of this course the scientific books are being prepared by Prof. H. H. Ballard, president of the Agassiz Association, of Pittsfield, Mass.; assisted by Dr. Crosby, of the Boston Society of Natural History; Dr. Rameen, of Johns Hopkins, of Baltimore; and others of the first scientific teachers in the country.

The first year's study will take up "Chemistry and Mineralogy." The second, "Animal and Vegetable Life." The third, "Geology or the Structure of the Earth." "History of English Literature" and other appropriate subjects will also be introduced in this course.

"The fourth course will be entitled the "Science of Government," and, like the others will consume four years. This course will bring forward for discussion all the great questions of the day which are of vital interest from a political standpoint, giving the underlying principals and historical facts.

Diplomas will be awarded, etc., as in the other courses. Hon. N. B. Ashby, of Iowa, lecturer of the National Farmer's Alliance, is preparing this course.

Arrangements have also been made for a course of self-instruction in music, for those who wish to take it up. This will be conducted by a competent person under an approved system. Also a course in shorthand for such of our farmer boys and girls as wish to learn rapid writing.

PRICES SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS

With this plain statement I would say to the cash buyers of Lincoln county that I will offer my entire stock of goods FOR CASH, at such low prices that it will be to the interest of the people for miles distant to come and make their purchases of me, my stock is replete with all the new and desirable novelties in dress goods, dry goods, shoes, hats, furnishings, hardware, crockery and lamps. Clothing, however, is my greatest specialty, and I can satisfy anyone who is a judge of goods that my prices are lower, stock larger, and the garments better made and neater fitting than can be had elsewhere. Come and see the prettiest line of neckwear in town. I am almost giving away sugar. If you wish to save money, buy your goods from

Thousands of dollars worth of chickens are destroyed by Cholera every year. It is more fatal to them than all other diseases combined. But the discovery of a liquid remedy that positively destroys the Microbes has been made. Half of the young chickens are killed by Microbes before they are fryers. A 50-cent bottle is enough for 100 chickens. It is guaranteed. If, after using two-thirds of a bottle you are not satisfied with it as a cure for Cholera, return it to the druggist from whom you purchased it, and he will refund your money.
