Girls Who Want to Work-Few Things Young Women Should Know Before They Begin.

Almost all earnest girls nowada: come into maturity with a real loning for work. There are reposeft middle-aged people, to be sure, wh firmly believe that this is a michievous and misplaced activity, an that it is going to work out all kind a of destruction if the race of women take to other things than domestic and polite accomplishments. B: that as it will, it doesn't pay to a:gue about what we shall never live to prove. Here you are, hundrais of you, girls who bonestly want to work, and who are honestly averie to housework. It also happens to be true that women, like men, work for wages, and that the wages ag . I gets for housework, even in her father's house, are not such as ercourage you to adopt housework > a profession. And so it happens that you are thinking to-day abo ! a wage-earning business outsice your home more than you are thin . ing about a husband.

The first thing you've got to know is what you can do best. To fit c that out consult your taste. If ye c think it would be beautiful to trir hats or make gowns say so and stick to it. Then go to the best millir # or dressmaker in your town and a: k charge that poternal duty for a fe v months longer. If you are booki b you, go to the office of your fathe 8 simplest book and study it. In a: y ease, don't disdam the modest beginning that lies nearest your ban; you are not ready for wider field 3 brother or your father treats his.

And so, as your diligence at 1 tence and so increase your wages. You must leave your small town to- of 1890. a city or the small city for a larger bility-of something to work at th. must have money enough in reserve reform," to pay your way for a year abead. There is no compromising with this. Never leave your father's house on of young women who leave their work is simply appalling, and out o this spring the awful traged es o want and discouragement that drive women to death or worse.

With this provision made go into your work with the whole of you Take care of your health and for the rest give your mind and body to your duties. You will get discor :aged in every fiber of your tired body, but it will only do you good. The man or woman who doesn't get discouraged often and often, seeing his ultimate reach beyond his dayly grasp, doesn't see far enough abeau even to succeed. So be sure that you will get discouraged, and get ting discouraged encourage yourself because of that very thing.

"You will probably be throw: much among men. Learn not to expect parlor etiquette in business places. You are not there to interpret the amenities of life to a lot of It is surprising that people will use a combusy mer, but to do your work com petently and go your way sensibly. Last of all, you may be the daugiter of rich parents and you was not. If you are the former behave vourselves as if you were the latter Don't preface your first request for work with the information that you are going to work because you wan to and not because you have to. It a bad business policy and wore taste, and none of your employer' business anyway .- N. Y. Star.

How Men Die. If we know all the me'hods of approach adopted by an enemy we are the better en abled to ward off the danger and postpen the moment when surrender becomes it evitable. Speaker Crisp.

The nomination of Mr. Crisp end a very determined contest in a ws with which the Democratic paris will be well content.

Mr, Crisp is a man of judici: mind, large ability, well-atteste her to let you come into her ship skill in parliamentary tactics and and learn. She won't pay you t unalterable devotion to the cause first, but your father has fed you i z for which Democracy stands. The several years and can probably di - majority of his feliow Democrati members of the House have fixe i upon him as the man best fit to or and the law or medicine attrac s ganize and direct that body at the critical juncture in the party's his lawyer or physician and borrow h s tory. The party will accept as sat istactory this decision of its accred ited representatives.

Obstinate as the contest be been, it has involved no vital ques yet. And when you've settled up a tion whatever of broad party policy a work don't play with it; learn : a All the candidates have been me treat it just as seriously as your big who are of one mind as to the gree issue of present politics. All ar tariff-reformers, inflexibly oppose knowledge grow together, you will to the menstrous system of protec perhaps come to a point where year tive legislation embodied in law h must leave your father's roof in ore the Billion Dollar Congress. Always at the Front,

We have received a copy of the handsomely illustrated prospectua for 1892 issued by the Detroit Fro-Press. The achievements of this famous paper in the past has been great, but if its promises for the fu ture are to be fulfilled-and there certainly is no reason to expect the contrary-the Detroit Free Pres will in 1892 be, as its publisher confidently claim, the most enter taining and tustructive paper pub lished, giving additional pleasure to its thousadns of old subscriber and fresh enjoyment to the many housand new ones that its merit deserve. Its list of contributor for 1892 tuctudes many of the mos famous names in American livera 3 and public life and most of the ar ticles to be published are unusua importance and interest, presenting a splendid array of valuable feature: in addition to the immitable work done by its own staff of bright and famous writers.

The publishers of The Free Pres. will mail copies of the paper and prospectus to alt applicants.
