LINCOLN, N. C., FEB. 10, 1893.

ENTERED IN THE POST OFFICE AT LINCOLN AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

Subscription—Cash in Advance. Year, $1.25; 6 months, .75; 4 months, .50.

Obituary, one time, $1.00; 25c for each subsequent insertion. Two inches, one time, $1.50; 50c for each subsequent insertion.

SOME OF OUR DAILY EXCHANGES published in the Legislative proceedings that Dr. Crouse had introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of liquor in Lincoln county.

SENATOR SANDIFER'S bill to repeal the act prohibiting the sale of liquor in Gaston county has passed the Senate. It is clear now that Gas-

DR. W. L. CROUSE is chairman of the Committee on Public Roads, and he says there is but little doubt but something will be done towards changing the present road system.

GRADED SCHOOLS.

We are glad the people of Lincoln have become awakened upon the graded school subject. Those opposed to it and those in favor of it are becoming aroused upon the subject.

Now what is meant by graded schools? It means schools established by a vote of the people of the town and supported by taxation and managed by a board of commissioners, usually consisting of five members.

We have great respect for those who on a matter of opinion and parity of purpose may differ from us. But we are for the graded schools, and believe we can give a reason for the faith that is within us.

Mr. Cook doubted its efficiency, and moved to refer the question to Mr. Allen and Mr. Watson, of Forsyth, for their decision. He was proud he had voted "no" when the original resolution passed.

to do so? It will give us a school at least eight months every year free of tuition, which will enable the rich and poor alike to acquire a first class English education.

There are many arguments in favor of these schools but space forbids more now. At any rate Lincoln should have a chance to vote on the subject.

The COURIER wishes to urge, however, that the question be discussed in a cool, conservative, and friendly manner.

IMPORTANT TO FERTILIZERS.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer gets the following from Robinson, commissioner of Agriculture:

"Buyers of fertilizers in North Carolina are entitled to protection from fraud by the Department of Agriculture, and we desire to emphasize the fact that every precaution is being taken to this end. Farmers are cautioned not to purchase any fertilizer that does not show the proper evidence of being on sale in accordance with the provision of law.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Guilford Battle Ground.

The following proceeding took place in House last Saturday on the bill to increase the appropriation to the Guilford battle ground from $200 to $500.

A stiff breeze was fanned up by the motion to take up a resolution just announced as returned from the senate with an amendment, to which Mr. Allen asked immediate consideration. The original bill provided for an increase of the appropriation to the Guilford battle ground association from $200 to $500 per annum.

Mr. Long, of Alamance, moved that the consideration of the subject be postponed until Wednesday next. The chairman of the committee on education, to which committee the resolution had been referred, was to-day absent from his seat.

Mr. Allen said there were matters men did not like to speak of. He had high respect for the chairman of the committee of Education. But there was no other courtesy due to anybody. He stated that within five minutes after the resolution passed a messenger ran to the treasury and drew $800, $300 had to be refunded.

Mr. Vance, of Buncombe, said we ought at once to rectify the wrong. His vote was intended to apply to the future rather than to the past. Mr. Merritt moved to table Mr. Long's motion to postpone. Upon that motion Mr. Allen called the eyes and says:

Mr. Spruill desired to explain that when the original bill was before the house, he thought it undemocratic; not in harmony with campaign speeches. He voted for the bill to cultivate the feeling of patriotism, but in doing so, compromising party interests. He hoped rectification will be made.

Mr. Watson, of Forsyth, asked whether the present bill (or resolution) effects the object Mr. Allen refers to. Mr. Cook doubted its efficiency, and moved to refer the question to Mr. Allen and Mr. Watson, of Forsyth, for their decision. He was proud he had voted "no" when the original resolution passed.

Mr. Anderson hoped that no reference would be made. The integrity of the House is involved. We must meet the issue.

Mr. Tolar, of Hertford, illustrated his views with a very apt story, to the effect that when a wrong grievance is discovered no time must be lost in rectifying it, no matter what the time or where the place.

Mr. Cook said the only question was whether the bill rights the wrong, "an infamous wrong."

Mr. Anderson said that an appeal to patriotism had won his vote.

Mr. Ray said that any misunderstanding ought to be corrected. He was responsible for his own vote. He ought to have examined more closely.

Mr. Long, of Alamance, moved the bill be made the special order for next Tuesday.

The question on this motion was put and lost and also on Mr. Satterfield's, also lost and then on both which passed and was ordered to be sent to the senate without engrossment.

In view of the action of the general assembly in regard to the Guilford Battle Appropriation as appears in the proceedings in the Chronicle to day, we wish Judge Schenck for his construction of the bill and received the following answer:

GREENSBORO, N. C., Feb. 4, 1893.—I intended my bill to give us $500 on the first day of February, 1893, and $500 annually thereafter. No one was more astonished than I when I heard here today that it was construed to give us $300 additionally for 1892. I should have accepted the $300 if it had been sent to me for it was not what was intended. Mr. Holt stated my construction publicly in the house while I sat near him. I so understood it then and do so now. It is to be regretted that no opportunity was given me for explanation.

D. SCIENCE. It is proper to add in this connection that although a check for the additional $300 was made out and signed, its acceptance was refused by Judge Schenck, and it was returned by his son to whom it was handed.—State Chronicle.

In regard to the penitentiary, as it is desirable to have the institution self-sustained, so also is it wise and expedient to utilize the convict labor in developing the resources of the State and adding to the general prosperity. A combination of these two purposes in one general plan would be no less useful than important. What gratification would we not all feel were we to see this incubus turned into an instrument to advance the development of our resources and stir up activity where now capital and enterprise are dormant. There is a suggestion that tends to this end. The subject is too great to be treated of in a single editorial, and we can only broach it here, expecting to recur to it from time to time: The plan involves activity in the iron mines of central North Carolina. It affects the counties of Lincoln, Surry, Stokes, Yadkin, Guilford, Orange, Granville, Randolph, Moore, Chatham, etc. It involves the activity of the furnaces in Lincoln, at Greensboro and on the Deep River. It means that these mines shall be worked, and that these furnaces shall be in blast; and it means employment, at good prices, for the convicts. The proposition is to start inside the penitentiary a manufactory of car wheels. This will make a demand for pig iron, which will be supplied by the furnaces throughout the State; and these furnaces will be supplied with iron ore dug from the mines by convict labor, which they will hire for that purpose.—News and Observer.

Senator Harris, of Tennessee, says that Judge Jackson of that state who has been nominated to the vacancy on the Supreme Court, although commonly classed as a democrat, and appointed to his present position on the Bench of the Circuit Court by Mr. Cleveland, is as good a republican as Mr. Harrison. That there will be strong opposition from both sides of the Senate to Jackson's confirmation is certain, but whether it will be strong enough to defeat him is not yet apparent. Some republicans will oppose him because he is classed as a democrat, others because they had served notice on Mr. Harrison that they would oppose any nomination he made to the vacancy. Most of the democrats who oppose the confirmation do so on principle; they believe the vacancy should have been left for Mr. Cleveland to fill but there are other who while not opposed to Judge Jackson personally will vote against his confirmation because to vote for him would morally bind them to vote for Mr. Harrison's nomination to the vacancy which his confirmation would leave in the Circuit Court, and it is considered certain that a republican would be nominated. It is creditable to Judge Jackson that not a word has been said by anybody against his ability and personal fitness for the honor. Contrary to precedent his nomination was referred to a committee, and it will surprise very few should that committee failed to report it back to the Senate. Representative Blount, of Georgia, chairman of the House of Foreign Affairs, who voluntarily retires from Congress on the 1st of March, after having served continuously therein for twenty years, was the recipient on Saturday of an unusual and unexpected compliment from his colleagues on the floor of the House. It was while the diplomatic and consular Appropriation bill was under consideration that Mr. Blount was honored by such praise as few men have received, from political associates as well as opponents.

The Hawaii commission having presented the petition of the government they represent for annexation to the United States, to Mr. Harrison, through the Secretary of State, are now waiting as patiently as they may for an answer. In spite of the mystery with which the officials of the State Department are trying to surround the matter there would be little doubt of the character of the answer were it not so near the close of Harrison's term. He unquestionably favors annexation, but may, so long as it can hardly be consummated under his administration, conclude to leave it to Mr. Cleveland and the democratic Congress to arrange. That is certainly what he should do.

Washington News. Correspondence of the Courier. Washington, Feb. 6, 1893. This is going to be silver week in Congress, and conservative democrats will be very much disappointed if the result is not a compromise measure that will become a law and settle, at least for a time, the very troublesome and very important question. It has been known ever since Congress came together that President elect Cleveland was very anxious for this Congress to put a stop to the purchase of silver, which he believes to menace the prosperity of the country. It was through the effort of his friends in the House that Thursday and Friday of this week have been designated for the consideration of the Andrews bill for the repeal of the Silver law and amending the National Banking law. It is believed that a sufficient number of democrats in the House have changed their views on this question to make the passage of this bill probable by the House, but it is not thought that it can get through the Senate; hence the movement to effect a compromise that will be satisfactory to the silver men and at the same time will suspend the purchase of silver. Senator Hill, who voted for the present Silver law, now holds the same opinion about the purchase of silver that Mr. Cleveland does and is working to bring about its suspension. This week will determine whether a compromise is possible and if it is not accomplished an extra session early in the spring is believed by Mr. Cleveland's closest friends to be inevitable.

he found the most complete impartiality of mind, the most scrupulous avoidance of partisanship. This is the interest of the whole people, and it vitally concerns not only the interpretation of statutes but the perpetuity of our institutions. After Mr. Lamar's death there remained six Supreme Court Justices who were Republicans before their elevation and only two who were Democrats. Every partisan mind, on both sides, expected that Mr. Harrison would eagerly seize the opportunity offered still further to strengthen the Republican preponderance in the Court. He has appointed a Democrat to the place, presumably in the conviction that such a choice was necessary to maintain a just balance of view. And, better still, he has chosen an eminently fit man, a man already in service in the Federal judiciary and one whose services there has been conspicuously worthy.—N. Y. World.
