J. M. ROBERTS, Asheville, N. C.

LET US have no more foreign immigration unless it is of a better quality.

ANARCHISM and Populism go hand in hand. The former does the meanness and the latter works at it.

OURS is a Democratic paper in full and we opinion to others the right of opinion, but let them stick to the truth when they speak of our party.

THE N. C. CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE comes to us in a new and quite improved form. The Methodists of N. C. should give this paper their patronage and thus enable it to grow in usefulness.

THE CONCORD TIMES, one of the best weeklies in the State, has entered upon its 12th volume, and in doing so it has donned a new dress. It is now able to give its readers more matter and in a more attractive form. May it live to celebrate many more birthdays.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN for July, or the Builder's issue, comes up with all past issues. It is magnificently gotten up and no contractor or builder can afford to be without it. The price is within the reach of all, only $2.50 per year.

THE VESTIBULE AGAIN

The editor of The Vestibule, a populist paper published at Concord, N. C., is trying to stir up party affairs and has made some statements that will not bear head. He says: "Our government to-day is the outcome of Democratic brains."

Now, Bro. Vestibule, will you kindly tell the dear people the character of the document that is producing the trouble in the United States? Are the leaders principally of foreign birth? Must you get down to the root of that evil? Just so long as you throw combustible matter in a fire, just so long will that fire burn.

concluded to unite their forces and form a party from the remnants they could pick from each of the old parties, and they know a popular name was necessary to help them out, so they chose the name "Populist." We have never cast a slur upon the farmer any more than upon any other class of men. We recognize the farmer as the backbone and sinew of our country. These are many of our farmers who are men of as good common sense as you will find anywhere, but they are not all fitted to legislate. There are many first class merchants, but they were first class merchants out of their pew in the legislative halls. There are many first class physicians in the United States, but they are unable, with all their skill, to diagnose the Third party—only a Populist editor can do that. The best physic that a Populist can get for his future welfare is an overdose of Democratic ballots—the dose will have a bad effect upon them when given, but medicine that does the greatest good generally makes one feel very bad while it is operating. The Populists will be robust fellows when the Democratic physic takes full effect. We intended saying that there are many good, honest, intelligent editors throughout this broad, beautiful land, but we shall leave that for the public to judge. If many of them were in Congress and wore to butcher up law as they do their papers, it would require more than a Populist proof reader to straighten them out. We have many good newspaper men in N. C., but they would be out of their sphere in the Legislative halls. There are many good, honest men in the People's party and they have been allured there by sleek-tongued politicians who desire to be leaders somewhere. Now, in all candor, wank "The Vestibule" to go back a quarter of a century and bring up the rear. Don't fret and worry over the present administration too much until a retrospect of the past is taken into consideration.

The success which Hood's Sarsaparilla has had in freeing old and young from afflictions caused by impure blood, is readily remarkable. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a building-up medicine.

Washington Letter.

Washington, July 9, 1894.—Grover Cleveland's marvelous backbone was never more credibly displayed than in the crisis now upon the country. He recognized from the first that the first and foremost duty of the President of the United States is at all times to maintain the authority of the Federal government, which was defied by the stopping of mail facilities guaranteed to the people by the National government, and by the refusal of rioters to obey the judicial orders regularly issued by the United States courts, and he did not hesitate to order that the army be used to uphold the authority of the government. No one can regret more than he that men should have been killed by the militia, but he is not blind to the fact that it is better that men who openly defy the laws should be shot down than that red-handed anarchy should be in control even for a single day of any portion of our country. He intends that the people shall enjoy their mail facilities and that the dignity and authority of the U. S. Courts shall be maintained, no matter what the cost may be in money or blood, and his entire cabinet and an overwhelming majority of Congress, regardless of politics, are behind him.

It is a matter for regret that several democratic governors of States and a few democrats in Congress should have confused the question of states rights with the patriotic policy which the President has adopted. There is a mistake. There is—there can be no connection between the two. Nothing has been done by the administration to interfere with the rights of any state, and nothing will be done. It is for the preservation of the rights of National government that the President has been ordered that the first up Pacific railroad shall be operated (as provided for in their charters) as military post roads, and that U. S. troops be used to see that the mail is not abstracted upon any railroad and that government property is protected.

The government that does not maintain its own authority cannot retain the respect and allegiance of its people. The United States government claims no authority to interfere with railroad or other strikers, but when strikes are made the means for the propagation of anarchy and the defiance of National authority it may be relied upon to act, as long as President Cleveland is at its head. There is nothing in common between a patriotic American and the teachings of anarchy, and there cannot be a doubt that President Cleveland will receive the thanks of all good Americans for the promptness and decisiveness with which he has acted in suppressing anarchist tendencies.

There is no mistaking the sentiment which caused the democrats of the House to vigorously applaud the plain words of Chairman Wilson concerning the Senate amendments to the tariff bill, which the House refused to concur in and which are now being considered by a conference committee of 14 members—seven Senators and seven Representatives. Mr. Wilson said concerning the work of the Ways and Means committee of the House: "The committee performed their work honestly, laboriously, and to the best of their ability. The bill was based upon the principle that in gathering revenues, taxes should be levied upon finished products and not upon raw material, which was in accordance with a great fundamental democratic idea. The bill comes back from the Senate and does not recognize that principle. Only wood and lumber have come back undisturbed by the Senate amendments. The Conference committee held its first meeting to-day and meetings will be held and progress will probably from time to time be reported to the House and Senate, but it is hardly possible that the committee can conclude its labors inside of two weeks, although there are not more than 25 of the amendments over which there will be any serious difficulty in coming to an agreement."

It can be stated on the authority of leading democratic Senators that there is no foundation for the stories sent out from Washington that Senator Hill was to be read out of the party by a democratic caucus. There is a general feeling of regret among democratic Senators that Mr. Hill should have voted against the tariff bill, and a few of them have said harsh things of him, but there is no disposition to force him out of the democratic party. On the contrary, the disposition is to treat him so that he will not be disposed to take himself out of the party.

Secretary Carlisle has been quite sick for a week past and has not yet sufficiently recovered to actively resume his duties at the Treasury, but he attends the cabinet conferences which are daily held at the White House with President Cleveland to decide upon the telegraph reports hourly made to General Schield of the movements of the army and the condition of affairs at Chicago and other places where there are disturbances.

Business Cannot be Cured

By local agitators they expect to reach the U. S. and to do it on the coast. In the only way to cure the disease, not that I believe in a "cure" but in a "cure" is to have a "cure" of the disease. When the "cure" is to be "cured" by a "cure" of the disease, it is to be "cured" by a "cure" of the disease.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. 75c.

A. Ford. After mature deliberation and for reasons which I trust are proper, in not only as they concern myself, but also as they concern the Democratic voters of the 7th Congressional District, I announce myself a candidate for a seat in the next House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, subject to the action of the 7th Congressional District Convention, which convenes in Salisbury, N. C., August 1, 1894.

I bespeak from my friends and acquaintances, and in fact from the entire Democracy, such consideration as they may find me worthy of. Respectfully, J. G. HALL, Hickory, N. C., July 9, 1894.

Salesman for the Country.

Mrs. J. H. Housh, 152 Pacific Ave., Santa Cruz, Cal., writes: "When a girl at school in Reading, Ohio, had a severe attack of brain fever. On my recovery, I found myself perfectly bald, and, for a long time, I feared I should be permanently so. Friends urged me to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, on doing so, my hair began to grow again."

Began to Grow, and I now have as fine a head of hair as one could wish for, being changed, however, from black to dark brown. "After a bit of sickness, my hair came out in combfalls. I used two bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor and now my hair is over a yard long and very full and healthy. I have recommended this preparation to others with like good effect."—Mrs. Sidney Carr, 1100 Regatta St., Harrisburg, Pa.
