GOSSIP AND BALSE PRIENDSHIP. We have been thinking for some time of giving a few thoughts on this important subject, and we have heard enough of it during our stay in the world to treat the subject fairly well. We have formed such an unfavorable opinion of its fruits that we now rise to see H we cannot be instrumental in destroying some of the germs that are continually springing up. We do not expect to reform the Chronic Gossiper, nor will our article stop the evil habit. Gossip is not confined to the fair sex alone, as some seem to think, but it is an article of trade for many whose minds are unimployed. Ladies are given to gozzip, as a general rule, more than gentlemen. There is, always, a leader in every community to deal and this commodity. We were once in company with a family that seemed very agreeable in all things, and, while sitting and talking a lady was seen coming toward the house. The lady of the house looked out and said. "That's old Jones. Who wants to see her. Look what a horrid bonnet she has Just see how she switches. I h she would stay away from hate, I don't want to see her." Sal mes comes to the door and rings the bell. Mrs. Smith goes to the 6 or. "Why, how do you do Mrs. Let me have your bon-Oh what a lovely bonnethere did you get it? "Why, Mr. Snipes, I am so glad to see you. How have you been ? Come in to the parlor-just make yourself at home-my daughters will be in presently. Mrs, Smith goes out and tells her daughters to go and put on their best and go into elegant young man, Mr. Snipes has called to see them. At this juncture Mrs. Jones finds that it is time for her to be going and makes preparation to start. "Oh don' + hurry, the hours seem so short. Now, Mrs. Jones don't let it be so long before you call again." A smack of the lips tells of their separation. Mrs. Smith goes into the
