

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nice cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

WHEN ASHCRAFT'S Condition Powders

are fed to horses and mules, marked improvement will be seen after the first few doses. There is no doubt about it. The Powders, acting directly on the digestive organs, first thoroughly cleanses the stomach and bowels, correcting all disorders, and then good healthy appetite comes naturally and surely. It is the most powerful tonic and appetizer on the market to-day, and when once used horsemen will have no other.

Ashcraft's Powders produce that silky sheen of coat and hair so admired by horse fanciers. The Powders fatten but never bloat.

Always high grade and put up in doses—never in bulk.

By the use of three or four doses a week your horse or mule will not be subject to colic or any disease of the stomach and bowels.

It has an old home that was in vogue had a local disease that was causing the hair to come off. I gave the horse three doses of Ashcraft's Condition Powders a day for seven days and the hair came back. The appetite improved from the first dose and the animal gained fifty-two pounds in flesh during the week. I have since given the horse three more doses of the animal was greatly improved by the use of the powders and he was made almost a new horse. I most heartily recommend Ashcraft's Condition Powders. Cheap Flour is Bad Flour!

It's low price is the maker's excuse for the inferiority of his product. Bad flour is bad flour no matter how it is manipulated and juggled in packing. It all comes back to the same thing. Good flour mixed with poor will improve the quality of the blend, but like mixing white paint with black, it takes an awful lot of white to produce any effect. Bad or cheap flour is lacking in gluten, the nutritious portion of the wheat. It also contains a large percentage of the pulverized husk or shell of the grain. All of which you don't want. Therefore, we caution you to ask for the "Invincible" brand. This brand is sold at the lowest price for which really first class flour can be sold, and its price is the highest you need to pay in order to get the best. Mr. Newman, our local baker, says: "Invincible" is the I can get for baking."

Incident and Comment.

When a man gets it into his head to do wrong nothing deters him and no circumstance seems to be unsuited to his desires. The undertaker who buried a part of the bodies drowned at the great Clifton flood, in South Carolina, on June 6th, has been arrested on a charge of having defrauded the relief-committee by falsifying the number of bodies he had buried.

Perhaps the largest coffin ever made in North Carolina was manufactured by the Charlotte Coffin Company last week. It was made for a hundred pound man who was not then dead, but was expected to die at any time. It was six feet two inches long, 28 inches deep, and four feet wide.

The High Point correspondent of The Charlotte Observer says that at least 25 cases of appendicitis have occurred at High Point this year. The doctors seem to think that there is some local cause but are unable to tell what it is.

Col. Bill Horn of Cuba, Rutherford county, claims to have fifty bales of cotton that he has been holding since the price was five cents. He now refuses to sell at fifteen cents because he wants twenty-five. We shall be sorry for Col. Bill, but it will be just like a hardheaded citizen of his apparent stripe to wait till cotton goes back to seven cents and then unload.

People in this section are familiar with the name of the old Halle gold mine near Kershaw, S. C. It is now being operated quite successfully. The new processes of separation make it possible now to work low grade ores that were formerly worthless.

Mr. James McBrayer of Shelby was married last Wednesday to Miss Madge Rice. When the wedding occurred the groom's temperature was 104 though he didn't know it. They started on their honeymoon and got as far as Charlotte, when a physician informed Mr. McBrayer that he had typhoid fever and might expect a long seige.

Dispatches say that Pedro Alvarado, a mining man known throughout Mexico and the United States, died suddenly in Mexico some days ago. He leaves a fortune amounting to about $70,000,000, according to reliable estimates by those who have been handling the ore from his mine during the past six years. The value of the Palmito mine, which he owned and which he discovered a few years ago when he was a peon working in a mine at Alvarado, is not known, as Alvarado persistently refused to admit mining experts to its workings. It is, however, one of the richest silver properties in the world. Of the $70,000,000 worth of ore which Alvarado took out of the mine since its discovery, it is said that there is more than $60,000,000 worth in silver bars locked in a steel cage at the residence of its late owner. This cage is guarded day and night by a strong force of armed men.

The endless round of desires in life are thus expressed by a contemporary: Every farmer boy wants to be a school teacher, every school teacher hopes to be an editor, every editor would like to be a banker, every banker would like to be a trust magnate, and every magnate hopes some day to own a farm and have cows and pigs and horses to look after. We would end where we began.

The reunion at Fort Fisher, on Wednesday of last week, was a notable occasion. Among those present were not only ex-Confederates but also some of the survivors of the attacking force. The Confederate commander of the fort, the gallant Col. Wm. Lamb, was present as was also Capt. James Parker of New Jersey, who commanded the 2,000 United States marines, who suffered so heavily in the final assault. These two former foes met in friendly greeting on the very spot where they had once fought with such desperate courage.

News from Beulah.

Monroe R. F. D. No. 1, Aug. 20.—This section has been blessed with plenty of rain for the past few weeks, rather too much for cotton for it is causing it to shed.

Mr. W. T. Korie, Jr., is right sick with typhoid fever.

The annual protracted meeting at Philadelphia Baptist church will begin on Saturday before the 4th Sunday, and at Beulah Presbyterian church on Friday before the fifth Sunday in August.

The temperance rally at Beulah was not well attended. Col. Hotchkiss was on hand to speak, but so few were present that the meeting broke up without any speaking more than a social chat in which the colonel told how much Union county spent for whiskey annually, but this failure was not due to a lack of temperance sentiment.

THE HUMBERT SWINDLER.

The Wonderful Career of a French Woman who Borrowed Millions on Fictitious Stories and is Now on Trial for Swindling.

It is now perhaps some twenty years ago since there appeared in Paris a young woman from one of the provinces. She was neither pretty nor ugly; appeared to be neither specially bright nor specially dull, and yet it transpires that she had some kind of talent that it would be difficult to define. Not very long after her arrival in Paris she married the son of one of the municipal officers whose name was Humbert. This seemed rather an extraordinary achievement for a woman without means, without prestige, without beauty and apparently without special talent. Not very long after this event, she took a trip and on her return from the trip she represented that she had met on the railway train an American named Crawford. The way in which she had come to make his acquaintance was that Crawford was sick and she had done some little services for him while traveling and as Crawford grew worse she took him to a hospital at some point along the line. She represented further that Crawford had with him a lot of bonds and stocks to the value of a million dollars which he gave to her for safe keeping until he should be fully recovered. These bonds and stocks Mrs. Humbert put into a safe afterwards, and from time to time she represented the amount of bonds which Crawford had sent to her for safe keeping was increased to two millions, then to five millions, then to ten millions, then to twenty millions and then to fifty million dollars. In the meantime Mrs. Humbert devised a story in accordance with which under certain conditions she never made very plain, she was to have a large interest in the property. She brought up from her former home in the provinces a sister, and not very long after the sister came and reported that it had been arranged by Mr. Crawford that his wife and Mrs. Humbert's sister be married, and out of this fifty million dollars should come a very handsome dowry for the bride; but in some way, she herself would have a very large interest in the remainder. On the basis of these stories, which are generally very vaguely formulated, she excited sufficient interest to induce bankers to make loans to her based upon this prospective fortune. With her first loan she built a fine house. She set up an establishment and entertained lavishly. Her aggregated loans went into the hundred thousands. Later she built finer houses and purchased a hunting box in the country. Her entertainments became the most conspicuous in Paris, conspicuous as well for the quality of her guests as for the expense of the entertainments. She continued to borrow until the aggregate passed the million mark. She increased the extravagance of her living and continued to borrow until the aggregate passed the five million mark. She still further continued to borrow from the bankers until the aggregate passed the ten-million mark. Think of it! Without anything in the world as an underlying basis, this woman borrowed more than two million dollars and has kept up the business of borrowing for more than twenty years. Eleven bankers have committed suicide on account of the ruin that the loans have wrought. During this time many efforts have been made to open the safe to examine the securities. Mrs. Humbert has seemed to co-operate with those who wished to open the safe. Legal proceedings would be started to get an order of court authorizing the opening of the safe. Mrs. Humbert always averred that under instructions from Crawford she could not open the safe and could not allow it to be done, but it court chose to do it, she would not resist. Mysterious hands would appear on the opposite side and claim to represent Crawford. They would insist that the property was Crawford's property and that if he wanted to lock it up in a safe, no court had right to break the safe open; the safe would not be opened until Crawford consented.

These things could not have taken place except in France and

Gray Hair

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over thirty years. It has kept my scalp free from dandruff and has prevented my hair from turning gray."—Mrs. F. A. Soule, Billings, Mont.

There is this peculiar thing about Ayer's Hair Vigor—it is a hair food, not a dye. Your hair does not suddenly turn black, look dead and lifeless. But gradually the old color comes back—all the rich, dark color it used to have. The hair stops falling, too.

It is a hair food, not a dye.

There are lots of progressive neighborhoods in this county that might adopt the local tax system and have strong and permanent schools for their children. Several districts in the county have already taken this progressive step, and they are proud of it. Supplement your public school appropriation by local taxation and you'll have a sound basis for a permanent school, and it will make you more public spirited, more liberal, more patriotic.

Bulford Township News.

Altan, August 17.—It was the pleasure of your scribe to be at the temperance rally at Mt. Prospect Aug. 7th. There was a large crowd there. Everybody seemed to be well pleased with the speaking and nice dinner the people provided for them. The speeches were made in that elegant and spacious church, called to order by Rev. W. V. Honeycutt with singing and prayer. Rev. W. V. Honeycutt made the opening speech, followed by Mr. Stevens. He told many good and true things against the evil of strong drink. Then Mr. Stewart of South Carolina was introduced, who spoke very strong against intemperance and the despoilers of South Carolina. He hoped that our law would be enforced. At this point dinner was announced. Everybody was well cared for and plenty remained over. After dinner we again began the exercises with song and prayer, and Rev. Mr. Wynn of South Carolina was introduced. His speech was full of excellent advice. Col. H. G. Hotchkiss spoke in his peculiar forceful and convincing style. Temperance had a successful day, and blood tigers had better look out or they will be caught. We have not space to tell all that was said. The speaking was well done and great good will result.

Miss Mattie Perry of Marion held services at Altan, Sandy Ridge and New Hope. The people were well pleased with her discourse.

An abundance of rain has fallen in this section for the past two weeks. Crops have improved wonderfully, in fact, we can say they are pretty fair.

Protracted meetings at Sandy Ridge, Wolfe Pond, Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Prospect and Trinity have been held. Much earnest preaching was done and we trust much good will result.

The chinch long has done no harm this year; in fact, there is none to be seen. One man said he saw two in the spring, but he killed those two and has seen none since.

Resolutions of Respect.

The great and mysterious reaper, whose name is Death, with his cold, grim visage and noiseless hand, came in his omnipotence and carried away from among us a flower that was just blooming into loveliness—Miss Amelia Hurley.

She was a temporary member of the Meadow Branch Sunday school. Therefore be it resolved:—

I. That in her death our community and Sunday school has lost a good girl and a consecrated member.

II. That we have lost one whose record here has been irreproachable in every respect. And though we feel that her death was untimely, and are sad from the fact that one so young, good and pure should be taken from us so soon, yet we dare not revel in these mysteries, but "Believe where we cannot prove." We accept the truthfulness of her own words, "God knows best."

III. That we will ever cherish her memory and lovely christian character, and believe from her sweet life that she went to God, the great soul of the universe, and is now in heaven.

IV. That we extend to the family of the deceased our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

V. That a page of our records be devoted to her memory, a copy of these resolutions be sent to her sorrow-stricken family, and a copy be sent to the Gastonia papers, also to the Monroe papers, for publication.

Miss Rodman's School.

Wardlaw, Aug. 17.—Miss Pearl Rodman of Waxhaw, who has charge of the Wardlaw High School, is fast proving herself the thorough, accomplished teacher she was reputed to be. Miss Rodman graduated several years ago from Peace Institute and afterwards taught in the public schools of this county, where she made an enviable reputation as a teacher. She also has a life certificate obtained by standing very rigid State examinations. This allows her to teach in the public schools anywhere in the State without standing further examination. In addition she has taken post-graduate work at the University of North Carolina.

Wardlaw people compliment themselves on securing her services. The school is in a flourishing condition and every patron is well pleased.

LYNCHING AT HALIFAX.

The Body of Little Mary Griffin Found Mutilated and Hid Away in a Stable—Swift Work.

Maama Panton, a negro man, was lynched at Halifax, in this State, Thursday night, and his body riddled with bullets. He confessed to killing and assaulting the little thirteen year old daughter of Capt. Griffin, and was lynched on the same night that the crime was discovered.

The child, who lived with her grandparents, had been missed, and her grandmother began to look for her. She went to the stable and found the door locked. She then put the little girl's sister through an opening in the door for her to look inside, and the girl stumbled over the dead body of her little sister. The throat was cut from ear to ear and the body tied up in a bag.

The crowd that gathered and caught the negro made no attempt at concealment and quietly dispersed after the execution.

"Knocking" Isn't Dueling.

The indictment of two men of McDowell county for "dueling," because they had a difference and met by appointment by the waters of Buck creek and fought it out without weapons and with their naked hands, is to be totally disapproved. In this wicked and adulterous generation, when the revolver, the razor, the club and the torch and brass knuckles are so much involved as means of "getting even," the settlement of difficulties by the fair means of an open fight with bare hands is to be applauded. In this case an indictment for an affray and a dismissal of the matter with the costs would have been just about the right thing.

Fearful Crime Charged to a Father.

On the charge of criminally assaulting his own daughter, Will Reedy, a white man of this city, was sent to jail by Recorder Shantz for his life at the present term of Superior Court.

A few days ago Reedy was sent to jail for 30 days for vagrancy, and the evidence given at the trial indicated that he had been guilty of incest. A further examination by the recorder resulted in Reedy's being formally charged yesterday with criminal assault on his 14-year old daughter, Emma Reedy, who stated that she had been over come by her father two years ago, and that the incestuous relationship had been sustained until recently. Corroborative evidence was not lacking.

Reedy was refused bail, and sent to jail. Emma Reedy will be sent to the rescue home. A younger sister, seven years old, will be sent to an orphanage.

Mr. Hale Yet Wanted at Olive Branch.

Mr. Cannie Bann and his sister, Miss Lillie, of Concord have spent a few days with their friends at this place.—Dr. Smith of Polk town was in our village Wednesday.—Miss Rilla Hinson has a prosperous school at this place.—Mr. Judge Gaddy has accepted a position in the drug store at Marshville.—Mr. Bea Sinclair has entered school at Wingate.—Mr. Rilla Davis has entered school at Marshville.—Mr. R. A. Aroom is spending the summer at home.

Protracted meeting begins at the first Baptist church next Saturday. Spring has come and gone, summer is almost gone and Mr. Hale of Monroe has not visited our village yet. The scenery is not so grand as it was in the lovely spring, nevertheless we would gladly welcome Mr. Hale yet.

Habits in the Child.

The following is taken from a paper on Habits and Will, by Mrs. Theodore W. Birney, in The Educator for September: "The habits of reverence, gentleness; courtesy, honesty, courage and patience, like their opposites, are absorbed by the child from those with whom he is most closely associated. It is in these attributes that an ounce of example outweighs a ton of precept. It is a charming custom to lose no opportunity either in reading fiction or in the circumstances attending on everyday living to express an enthusiastic appreciation of the good, the noble, beautiful and true, but valuable beyond and above all discussion of these virtues is, 'To be as nearly as we can what we wish our children to be.'"

Agriculture Must be Studied in the Schools.

The following letter has been sent out from the office of the superintendent of public instruction, addressed to the county superintendents:

"In view of the fact that eighty-five per cent of the people of our State live by farming, and in view of the further fact that a large per cent of our farm boys get their only education in the public schools, the Legislature of North Carolina has ordered that the elements of agriculture shall be taught in all the schools of the commonwealth.

"All modern arts and trades are benefiting by the discoveries and adaptations of science. Farmers should share in these benefits. It has been fully demonstrated that children can be taught the fundamental principles of good cultivation of the soil just as they can be taught the fundamental principles of arithmetic and grammar. Indeed, if our farmers are to hold their own in the sharp competition of modern life, our future farmers must learn these principles and their application.

"The State board of education has adopted a simple, and beautifully illustrated book as a text book for this subject—a book that any capable teacher can teach by following the methods suggested in the book. This book is called 'Agriculture for Beginners,' and is published by Ginn & Co. It will be on sale at all State depositories.

"Section 16 of the best book law requires all books adopted by the text book commission to be introduced and used as text books to the extent of all other in all the public free schools of the State. In conformity, therefore, to the law of the State, you are instructed to see that every teacher in the schools, white and colored, under your supervision, adds this subject to the regular course of instruction.

"I suggest that all pupils in each school who are over fourteen years old and such others as are sufficiently advanced, be arranged into one class for this work."

"Have You Started Home?"

"No, I have been here all day and have just started over to Hill & Bivens to do my little trading. I can get better bargains over there than anywhere else in town. You see those clothes started out to selling real cheap in order to get a trade worked up and then when they got a good trade from all over the county they did not do like most others, gradually go up on their goods, but they continue to sell so cheaply that everybody who knows them and has ever traded at their store continues to do so, and they cannot and will not go elsewhere.

Big Income in North Carolina.

The News and Observer publishes the list of incomes listed for taxation in Raleigh township. The amount returned is in excess of the exemption of $1,000 allowed by all laws. The largest is that of Col. A. E. Andrews, vice president of the Southern Railway, who returns $22,750. This means that Col. Andrews has an annual income from salaries and fees and property not otherwise taxed of $23,750, which is undoubtedly the largest of any person in the State. The next largest income reported in Raleigh is $10,580 by Mrs. F. P. Tucker, and the next is Mr. J. H. Poon, $10,500. It is presumed that Mr. Poon's income thus reported, $11,500 in all, is largely if not entirely from his law practice, and this is not surprising when one comes to think of it, for Mr. Poon is about the highest lawyer in the State. Ernest Haywood, who is under indictment for the murder of Skinner, returns an income of $2,500.
