cuse for the inferiority of his product. Bad flour is bad flour no matter how it is manipulated and juggled in packing. It all comes back to the same thing. Good flour mixed with poor will improve the quality of the blend, but like mixing white paint with black, it takes an awful lot of white to pro-duce any effect. Bad or cheap flour is lacking in gluten, the nutritions portion of the wheat. It also contains a large percentage of the polyerized hosk or shell of the grain. All of which you don't want. Therefore, we caution you to ask for the "Invincible" brand. This brand is sold at the lowest price for which really firstclass flour can be sold, and its price is the highest you need pay in order to get the best.
