

THE MONROE JOURNAL.

VOLUME XII. NO. 52

MONROE, N. C., TUESDAY JANUARY 30, 1906.

One Dollar a Year

Why You Should Start a Bank Account.

To provide for a "rainy day."
To establish a business standing.
To do business in a business way.
To provide for opportunity of investment.
To establish habits of thrift and economy.
To build up self-esteem—a quality required for success in business.
To protect life; avoid robbery; lessen crime; conduce to peace and safety.
For convenience and safety in keeping of receipts and disbursements; also for settling for accounts and purchases.
Lastly but not least, "for the glorious purpose of being INDEPENDENT."

START NOW, and with us.

The People's Bank of Monroe.

Prophecies for This Year.

Those who like to hear of events before they happen, may paste the following predictions, from the New York World, in their hats and see how many come true during 1906:
The dissolution of Russia.
The overthrow of Turkey.
The assassination of the Czar of Russia.
The assassination of the Sultan of Turkey.
The prevention of three wars by President Roosevelt.
A protracted race-war in the South.
Destructive spring floods in the United States.
A destructive eruption of Mount Vesuvius.
The activity of Mount Pelee and Popocatepetet.
Volcanic eruptions in all parts of the world.
The eruption of many volcanoes now supposed to be extinct.
Great loss of life at sea by storms.
Destruction of two Western cities by cyclones.
Earthquakes in all parts of the world.
Destructive earthquakes in California and the Philippines.
Rebellion in Spain.
Spangler says further that the summer of 1906 will be hot and sultry throughout the temperate zone, with extensive death rate;
That Christ will make his spirit felt among the people of the United States and England, in which countries there are to be fervent religious and potent political movements which are to overcome in a great degree the present spirit of graft and commercialism;
That the United States will continue as a world power and the leader of other nations;
That Pennsylvania is to have an administration of the people, and that discoveries of corruption will be made which will drive some of the guilty to suicide;
That God will wreak terrible vengeance upon the Russians for the massacre of the Jews.

Doctors in Germany.

Overcrowding of the medical profession in Germany is a matter of grave concern. There are now in the empire 29,200 physicians, which doubles the number found in 1876. In other words, there is one physician in Germany for every 1,700 inhabitants. In the city of Berlin 46 per cent of all the physicians have an income of less than $700, and 5 per cent of the whole number do not have a sufficient income to return for their taxation.

The World's Publications.

Germany leads European countries in the number of publications, with 5,500 newspapers, of which 800 are dailies. England is second, with 3,000, of which 800 are dailies. France, Italy, Austria-Hungary, Spain, Russia, Greece and Switzerland followed in order. Asia has not less than 3,000 periodical papers and Africa 200 dailies. America has 17,223 publications, of which 2,215 are dailies.

The Supreme Court.

Melville W. Fuller of Illinois is chief justice of the United States supreme court. The associate justices are: John M. Harlan, Kentucky; David J. Brewer, Kansas; Henry B. Brown, Michigan; Rufus W. Peckham, New York; Joseph McKenna, California; Oliver W. Holmes, Massachusetts; and William R. Day, Ohio.

The secret of successfully ridding the system of a cold is thorough evacuation of the bowels. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this—liquid cold cure, drives all cold out of the system. Best for coughs, croup, etc. Sold by C. N. Simpson and S. J. Welsh.

Death of Mr. R. T. McCain and Other News About Waxhaw.

Enterprise, 2nd.
Mr. C. B. Gordon, a good citizen of the Osceola neighborhood, who sold his personal property a few months ago and moved to Sanford, has just returned to his old home to take up life where he left it off and hereafter to let well enough alone.

Mr. H. J. McManus, who moved to Sanford in the fall, has now returned to Waxhaw and will engage in the mercantile business. Mr. McManus is a very industrious and deserving young man, who is now fully decided that Waxhaw is good enough for him.

H. J. McManus & Co. is a new mercantile firm for Waxhaw just launched in business. The new firm occupies what is known as the McCain building recently vacated by John L. Walkup & Co. The business is in charge of Mr. H. J. McManus. Here is wishing the new firm much success in business.

As will be seen from a notice elsewhere in this paper, John L. Walkup & Co. have just moved into their handsome new storeroom in the new brick building next to the Jackson Drug Company. It is one of the prettiest and most attractive store rooms in town and is very conveniently arranged and located. This popular mercantile firm is justly proud of its new quarters, and their numerous customers are proud of it, too. Mr. Walkup's face, always delightful to look upon, is now wreathed in a more gracious and pleasant smile than ever before. Mr. Keziah strives to conceal his exultant feelings but he cannot. Mr. Harris doesn't seem to let on but he does just the same. Even the old store cat, whom our friend, Henry Gilliam, has made famous in story and song, has caught the contagion of the elegant new quarters and barely blinks at customers when they step in.

Mr. W. F. Chears has moved his family from this place to Sanford, where he will engage in mercantile business with his father-in-law, Mr. H. M. Williams. His family left for Sanford last week and Mr. Chears, who remained behind to pack up, will go this week. Mr. Chears has been engaged in the jewelry and fancy goods business here for several years, and the best wishes of his friends for his success go with him to Sanford.

Have you ever noticed the end-seat hog at church? Surely everybody has had to crawl over him many times to get to a seat. Maybe you have often wondered, as we have, why the end-seat hog doesn't wait and come in last, so that other people would not be forced to crawl over him to get to their seats. Well, it's this way: He knows that there are other end-seat hogs just like himself, and so he hastens to church early to secure a favorite end-seat before any of the other end-seat hogs get ahead of him. So the end-seat hog is always in evidence, early and late, at church, and he's a pretty thing, too.

Mr. R. T. McCain, Sr., one of the oldest and best known citizens of this township, died at his home in the Walkersville neighborhood last Friday. He was 79 years old and was the oldest surviving member of the McCain family in this section. He had been in very feeble health since last July and gradually grew weaker till the end came. His remains were buried last Saturday at Tirzah Presbyterian church, of which he had long been a member, funeral services being conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. W. Rathford. For many years he had been an elder in that church and was regarded as a pious and consecrated christian man. In his death another landmark has been removed. He is survived by four children, viz: Messrs. R. B. and Willis McCain, Mrs. J. C. McCain and Miss Maggie McCain, all of whom reside in the same community.

Gates and His Millions.

New Yorkers are still gasping over a nonchalant remark recently made by John W. Gates while testifying in court regarding a property in which he was interested. "How much money did you and your associates really put into this venture?" queried a lawyer for the plaintiff. "Somewhere between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000," replied the witness to the amazed court, jurors and auditors. "But surely you can remember nearer the exact amount?" "No," yawned Mr. Gates wearily, "any sum that I might name would probably be several million dollars out of the way."

The Editor's Rat.

Dr. Charles Cooper, the veteran editor of the Edinburgh Scotsman, is about to retire, and his successor will be Mr. Croal, the London representative of the paper. Of Mr. Cooper not a few anecdotes are told. One of them has reference to an anonymous series of articles which he wrote for the Scotsman from Egypt. Showing one of the articles to a colleague in parliament house one day, a barrister remarked, "It's easily seen the editor is away from home when rat like this is allowed to appear."

It invigorates, strengthens and builds up. It keeps you in condition physically, mentally and morally. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents, tea or tablets. English Drug Co.

President Moore Calls the County Meetings for February 3rd.

To the Cotton Growers of North Carolina:
"Every county cotton association president is requested to call a meeting of farmers at the court house of his county, to be held Saturday, February 3, at 11 o'clock a. m. Every cotton grower, business and professional man, and all others interested in the general prosperity of North Carolina, are cordially invited to attend this meeting, which will be the most important yet held in the new year. Business and professional men are in liberal with the tremendous cotton movement in the South, and they are desirous of encouraging the planters in their efforts to win their rights, and of co-operating with them to achieve the objects of the Southern Cotton Association. We are working for their interests as well as for the welfare of the farmers. If we prosper they prosper also."

"Farmers, are you familiar with the cotton situation? Do you realize that we occupy ground which can be held only by exerting ourselves earnestly, honestly, patriotically, and unanimously; and that if you go backward, this movement, which is for your emancipation from the treacherous market controlled by gamblers and speculators, will be lost?"

"Be careful what you do. Learn the conditions which effect this mighty crop. Then do your duty. If you plant more cotton this year than you did in 1905, you will sell your staple at a low price. But if you are wise, and remain loyal to the association, your cotton will bring you a living and profitable price. This is your work and your opportunity. It is to support you and your family; to provide you with the necessities and comforts of life, and to educate your children. It is for all the farmers. The tenants and one-horse farmers are wanted in the association as much as the larger producers. The man behind the plow is the salvation of the State, and the hope of the Southland."

"I shall endeavor to secure speakers for every meeting on the 3rd of February and these gentlemen will be thoroughly informed in regard to the cotton situation. They will speak facts worth knowing and remembering. The leading farmers of your county will address you. February the 3rd is to be a grand rally day in the cotton growing counties of North Carolina. Let the farmers turn out en masse, and sing: 'Long Live King Cotton.'"

"CHARLES C. MOORE, 'Pres. N. C. Division S. C. A.'"

Items from Marshville.

Mrs. G. A. Marsh entertained a few of her friends Saturday afternoon in honor of her guests, Misses Blair and Kilber of Monroe. The occasion was much enjoyed by all present.

Mr. J. F. Hallman, who has been section master here for the past twenty years, has moved to his farm near Wingate. His brother, Mr. W. A. Hallman, succeeds him as section master here.

Mr. J. T. Tadlock sold a hog here last week that weighed 410 pounds. Mr. George Holmes also killed one last week, nine months old, that weighed exactly 20 pounds. Mr. Holmes did not put his on the market, but will keep it to season vegetables with next spring and summer.

The hawks had been bothering Mr. Elison Hamilton's chickens. One day last week he took his gun and went to an open place to sit and try his hand at 'em 'on the wing.' He finally succeeded in bringing down one that measured three feet from tip to tip of the wings.

For any disease of the skin there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Salve. It relieves the itching and burning sensation instantly and soon effects a cure. Sold by C. N. Simpson, Jr., and S. J. Welsh.

"Gird on Your Armour!"

In his speech before the Y. M. C. A. at Charlotte some days ago, Governor Glenn, among other statements, is reported to have said: "There is coming in the old State a great conflict. I do not know whether it will be in 1906, 1907, or 1908, but it will be between God and the devil, light against darkness, righteousness against wrong, the school house and the church against the saloon, distillery, brothel and gambling hell. Christianity and the bar room cannot continue to exist side by side and the saloon must go. It is high time that you were arousing yourself for the fight."

Greatly in Demand.

Nothing is more in demand than a medicine which meets modern requirements for a blood and system cleanser, such as Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are just what you need to cure stomach and liver troubles. Try them. At English Drug Co.'s, 25c. guaranteed.

Employees who think they are only stealing their employers' time are really only robbing themselves.

Spilled Her Beauty.

Harriet Howard of W. 34th street, New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had salt rheum or eczema for years but nothing would cure it until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. 25c. at English Drug Co.'s.

A Tribute to Our Mothers.

They are the foundation and key-stone of the home in all ages. What is a home without a mother? Nothing. They are entitled to the credit for the destiny and achievements of their sons. In the shadow of every great man, hidden from the careless observer, stands that great man's mother. And in every new epoch of the world may be found a great mother giving to her son the inspiration of his life and mission. That was notable in the case of Abraham Lincoln. "All I am and all I hope to be, I owe to my angel mother." This he said after he had buried that mother's body in a lonely grave and had achieved the position of the first American.

Whitlaw Reid, the successor of Joseph Choate as ambassador at the court of St. James, when a young man went to Miami College, not very far from where he was born in Ohio. He used to walk home Friday and back again on Monday. He carried from home each week the provisions to board himself for the week he was at school. His mother, when she heard that he had received the President's appointment, said, "My son has greatly honored me." She then recalled that one week at school she had sent his supplies in the raw, leaving him to do his own cooking. She got anxious about him and wrote him, asking how his better cakes that he was to mix and bake himself, tasted, and he replied that he had never eaten better cakes, because he had mixed the corn meal strictly according to her directions.

Christianity in Japan.

North Carolina Baptist.

The influences of christianity in Japan are felt in every avenue of the nation's life. And it is recognized, too. The leaders of thought and action speak their appreciation. They see the fruits of the Christ men and gladly welcome the teachings of the missionaries. The following from the "Jiji Shimpo," a daily paper of Tokyo, shows the trend of thought in the Sunrise Kingdom:

"Though the christian religion is of recent introduction, the improvement it has effected in the moral condition of the nation and the influence it has had on the minds of the people are very great. No one can deny the great good accomplished by the believers of that religion in establishing many charitable institutions, in assisting the progress of the nation and in promoting the happiness of the poor and helpless. There are already in the country many schools and colleges for boys and girls, which are supported entirely by the christians. As for the charitable institutions, excepting those which are established by the public, it is not too much to say that all are the result of christian enterprise."

Perfection can only be obtained in the physical by allowing nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken, dissipate, while Dr. Williams' Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. Sold by C. N. Simpson, Jr., and S. J. Welsh.

Worry digs more graves than disease.

For coughs and colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It is different from all others—better, because it expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Affords immediate relief in croup, coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by C. N. Simpson, Jr., and S. J. Welsh.

The men who lead are those who have learned to follow.

You will not find beauty in roguish pot or complexion whitewash. True beauty comes to them only that take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It is a wonderful tonic and beautifier. 35 cents, tea or tablets. English Drug Company.

The boy who neglects his mother will surely neglect his wife.

A reasonable amount of food thoroughly digested and properly assimilated will always increase the strength. If your stomach is a "little off" Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat and enable the digestive organs to assimilate and transform all foods into tissue-building blood, heartburn and sour stomach, belching, heartburn and all forms of indigestion, Palatable and strengthening. Sold by C. N. Simpson, Jr., and S. J. Welsh.

A "big bluff" is as good as a "big stick" as long as it will fool the people.

Jamaican Lady Speaks Highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of cart service at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies Islands, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough and has found it very beneficial. She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her home. Sold by C. N. Simpson, Jr., and S. J. Welsh.

Home Made

Have your cake, muffins, and tea biscuit home-made. They will be fresher, cleaner, more tasty and wholesome.

Royal Baking Powder helps the house wife to produce at home, quickly and economically, fine and tasty cake, the raised hot-biscuit, puddings, the frosted layer-cake, crisp cookies, crullers, crusts and muffins, with which the ready-made food found at the bake-shop or grocery does not compare.

Royal is the greatest of bake-day helps.

PASSING OF THE SILVER DOLLAR

The Old Cart Wheel is Doomed—Why It Was and Still Is Popular in the South.

We do not allude to the passing of silver dollars over the counter, or from one to another, but to the fact that the use of the "cart wheel" is becoming unpopular and is likely to be a thing of the past as currency. Without any desire to stir up old issues or uncover old sores, it is well enough to remember that but a few years have passed since a determined effort was made to make the silver dollar the standard of our financial system and to crown the cart-wheel as the king of money.

The effort failed as it should have done, and the coin is losing its popularity. That it will not go entirely out of use is certain, because it is good sound money, and there are yet many people who prefer it to any other form of currency. Especially is this true of the negroes the South, and their preference is sensible. Unscrupulous rascals frequently take advantage of the negro's ignorance to swindle them in various ways with paper money. Old Confederate bills, repudiated State money and money of old State banks which have long passed away, are palmed off on ignorant negroes and it is frequent for bills to be passed on negroes of a lower denomination than represented by the swindler.

With the time-honored silver dollar these swindles are impossible. True, there are some counterfeiters, but they are comparatively few and no account is taken of them by the colored people. They know what a silver dollar is and what it represents. It appeals to them in many ways and they value it above all other money. It is also true that many white people prefer this money, partly from association and partly because it is more convenient to carry in small quantities, and when a small surplus is on hand, it can be laid away with more safety than paper bills can.

But all these varied reasons cannot keep the cart-wheel money in the front as a medium of exchange. All arguments in its favor, whether actual or sentimental, cannot prevent it from losing its popularity. Our Government itself, about a score of years ago, tried to force its circulation by drawing the greenbacks, but all efforts to keep it going have failed. Now, it is the words of a contemporary, "The interesting story comes from Washington."

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

ton that the efforts to crowd the bulky and inconvenient dollar upon the public has been abandoned, and that the "cartwheels" are going into the treasury vaults at the rate of several million a year. Their place in circulation is taken by silver certificates. The exchange is now encouraged by the government because of the heavy cost of shipping the silver from place to place as it is needed to equalize circulation. The silver dollar is virtually out of use in the East, and in a few years it will disappear from the West also if the present policy is followed. The chief objection to the paper dollar, its filthy condition after it has been a long time in circulation, has been especially potent in the West on account of the long distances to the sub-treasuries where new dollars could be procured. The government will endeavor to do away with this objection by making a special effort to send clean paper to the Western States."

The silver craze of a few years ago was the last spasmodic effort to keep the dollars going, and it is not likely that there will be another. Our paper currency is now practically safe, it is convenient to handle and carry, and occupies a comparatively small bulk. One of the great objections as stated above, is that the bills from constant handling become ragged and filthy, and many people object to them for that reason, but the government will remove that objection as rapidly as possible by substituting new bills for old ones.

The silver dollars are no longer coined, but the government will always keep enough of them to supply all demands, so that those who prefer them can be accommodated. And it should be remembered that the smaller silver coins are still made and are as popular as ever. They supply our only small change and immense quantities of them are needed, but the day of the cart-wheel is passing.

Dangers of a Cold and how to avoid them. More fatalities arise from their origin in or result from a cold than from any other cause. This fact alone should make people more careful as there is no danger whatever from a cold when it is properly treated in the beginning. For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been recognized as the most prompt and effective medicine in use for this disease. It acts on nature's plan, loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by C. N. Simpson, Jr., and S. J. Welsh.

John Mowery, Salisbury's wealthiest negro, died Saturday night. He was a tailor by trade and leaves an estate worth from $20,000 to $30,000.

A Grim Tragedy is daily enacted in thousands of homes, as death claims in each one another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c. and $1 by English Drug Co. Trial bottle free.

Mrs. Sallie Black of Warrenton aged 107 years, died Sunday. Until the day of her death she was able to go about and to help herself, and was perhaps the oldest person in the State.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
