A NEW FRENCH BULLET.

Important improvements have recently been made in the arms and ammunition of the French infantry soldier, and a new cartridge is shortly to be issued which combines many new features. This cartridge is absolutely smokeless, not even giving the small puff observed with the discharge of the present cartridges, while its bullet is a cigar shaped cylinder of bronze. This revolves with a speed of 3,600 turns per second during its flight, and at 800 yards it will have sufficient power to penetrate a mass equivalent in bulk and resistance to six men standing behind one another. This new cartridge is fired from the Lebel rifle, which is thus brought into the front rank of military weapons. - Harper's Weekly.

FOUND THE KEYNOTE.

The Story of an Angry Fiddler and Dancing Bridge.

The old Sixth street bridge was a sion bridge, and in conn crewith a story used to be told. Everybody knows that soldiers in crossing a suspension bridge must break step and bands are not allowed to play marches because of the cumulative force of the vibrations, which are ant to either destroy the bridge completely or crystallize the iron cables. Now, sound is vibration, and this explanation, not very scientifically put here, is the basis of the story, remembering that every object is supposed to have a keynote, which when struck on a musical instrument evokes responsive vi-brations in the said object.

The story gass that many years ago an old man carrying a fiddle in a case once started across the bridge without paying toil. He was called back by the naying toil. He was called back by the smile, "and it works like a top. follkeeper, protested his inability to You see I have not smoked a cigar pay, but was not allowed to cross, in 24 years, but I am now trying to pay, but was not allowed to chain the preak myself from chewing tobac Threatenine vengence, the old fidder seated himself on the wharf under the Allegheny end of the bridge and began smoke. If I do not lose it I can use to scrape away on his fiddle for hours, apparently trying all sorts of notes, half notes and combinations of notes and chords. Suddenly he seemed to find what he sought for for his face lighted up, and he began to scrape reached the house he was looking steadily on a certain chord. A mean for, and went in to ply his trade, went through the bridge " ed the old man fairly sang in response to the wild notes of the fiddle. Furiously the old fiddle scraped away, and the cables befiddle scraped away, and the cables to gan to vibrate, slowly at first, the vi-brations growing stronger and stronger as the keynote sounded on the violin. The bridge began to tremble, then to

The important bearing of such observations is due to the fact that oxygen gas, which is one of the chief constituents of air and the one to which it owes its power of supporting combustion, also forms the largest elementary constituent of niter and is likewise the
