Cotton today reached the lowest

To the Cotton Growers of the South: point since January 14th, 1903, except from November to May of the big crop year of 1904-05, when it sold 2 cents a pound lower than this. What caused this decline of 3 cents a pound in spite of the fact that the cotton crop of the world is about 4,500,000 short of last year's crop? The only answer is "lack of confidence." The retailer is not buying except as he needs the goods, obber is doing the same; cons quently the mills have no orders ahead, while last year, and for several years past, they have had orders booked from three to six months in advance.

What causes this lack of confidence per crop of cotton again this year. Why are they afraid of a large crop? They look at the past. In 1903 we had a short crop and good prices, which was followed by a large acreage and good seasons and a bumper crop. This year, 1905-06, we had a short crop and year, 1905-06, we had a short crop and good prices, which was again follow-ed by a large acreage and a bumper crop. Had it not been for the Sep-tember storm in the Mississippi val-ley and the exceptionally good trade the market would probably have gone to 8 cents or under for that crop. We n, but owing to the weather during planting time the acreage was cu some and the crop being poor in Texas and Louisiana enabled us to get a good price for the most of the crop. onth ago every indication was that we would have a large acreage this season, and the people did not care to place heavy orders for cotton goods,

How can we restore confidence? In place of planting the same acreage as last season in cotton plant 25 per cent less. As soon as the acreage report is out in June or even before the trade will know that there will be a moder ders ahead to enable them to supply their trade and the mills will contract in advance for supplies of cotton and the market will advance much faster ads is another thing.
