DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN NEW YORK

Wealthy Widow, Learning that Son Has Secretly Married During Her Absence in Europe, Rebukes Him—The Son Growing Angry, Shoots and Kills Mother, Then Takes His Own Life.

Revelation by a son to his mother of a secret marriage, and parental refusal to be reconciled to it, is believed to have been the impelling cause of a double tragedy in a large hotel here today.

The victims of the tragedy were Mrs. Rebecca Veit, a wealthy widow, and her only son, J. Nelson Veit, 27 years of age, a Wall Street broker, the circumstances of the affair indicating that the mother was shot by the son, and that the latter then took his own life by inhaling illuminating gas.

The bodies of both were discovered today. Mrs. Veit lay dead in her bed, while her son was found on the floor of the bath room in his mother's apartment. An aunt of the suicide, Miss Anna Veit, discovered the bodies when she sought to awaken Mrs. Veit, in whose apartment she had spent the night. The police made the discovery today that Veit, who was supposed to be single, was married secretly in October of last year. His mother had only recently returned from France and the coroner's theory is, that her finding out about her son's marriage precipitated a quarrel between them, culminating in the tragedy.

Late today the police found Mrs. J. Nelson Veit, widow of the dead man, in another uptown apartment house, where she said she had been living with Veit for a month past, having been away from New York all the time since her marriage with Veit in October, 1907. Mrs. Veit said that she never met her husband's mother and did not know whether or not the mother was ever told of the marriage. Her husband, she said, left early last night and telephoned to her about 10:30 o'clock that he would be home in half an hour. She did not hear from him again, she said.

The dead woman was the widow of the late Felix Veit, a wealthy broker and senior member of the firm of Veit, Lyon & Co., well known years ago in Wall Street. The mother usually spent the summer months in France, where she owned a chateau. Young Veit was a member of the National Guards of New York.

It was learned tonight that the maiden name of Mrs. J. Nelson Veit was Clara Jane Monroe, and that she and Veit were married by the Rev. Dr. Houghton in the Little Church Around the Corner, in September, 1907. Mrs. Veit said she was an actress before her marriage.

Mind Your Business!
If you don't nobody will. It is your business to keep out of all the trouble you can and you can and will keep out of liver and bowel trouble if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They keep biliousness, malaria and jaundice out of the system. 25c. at English Drug Co's.

An October Peach.
J. Van Lindley, the noted nurseryman at Pomona, has discovered a peach tree that bears in October, and he has purchased it, paying therefor several hundred dollars. He expects to be able to make this tree produce a variety of fruit that will be on the market in October.

A Sister of the young woman who wanted to go with her husband to a carnival, and who leaped from the train at Rocky Mount and was badly hurt, comes in for her share of trouble. Seeing the matter of matrimony in the light of her sister's experience, she declined to marry the man she was engaged to. He swore to kill himself before her eyes, got laudanum and drank it. A doctor and a stomach pump brought him round all right.

A Lazy Liver
May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a capital as well as a safe thing to lead a young or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the deflection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the mouth, poor or flabby appetite, coated tongue, food breath, constipation, irregular bowels, feet weak, easily tired, frequent, frequent headaches, pain in distention, small of back, nervous or distressed, or other symptoms of liver or stomach trouble, or if you are weary with over work, start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the deflection of other organs.

MR. BRYAN'S VIEW.

Cheerfully Acquiesces in the Result but Thinks that the Democratic Campaign Must Result in Great Good.

William J. Bryan, the great Democratic leader, made the following statement on Thursday:

"The election has gone against us by a decisive majority. The returns are not all in and it is impossible at the present time to analyze them or to say what causes contributed most to the Republican victory.

"We made our fight upon a platform which embodied what we believed to be good for the American people, but it is for the people themselves to decide what laws they desire and what methods of government they prefer. I have faith that the publicity which we asked for will yet commend itself to the American people, that the election of Senators by the people will be secured, that the integrity of the trusts will arouse an opposition that will result in the elimination of the principle of private monopoly. I am confident that the people will see the necessity for the labor legislation and the tariff reduction which our platform demanded. I am confident, too, that the educational work done in this campaign will result in securing greater protection to bank depositors.

"The above are the most prominent reforms for which we labored, and I believe that these reforms will yet come together with more effective regulation of railroads and indemnity for the Filipinos.

"I desire to commend the work of our National committee. I am entirely satisfied with Mr. Mack as the chairman and with the members of the committee. I do not see how they could have done more for them than they did, and as for myself, I put forth every effort in my power to secure victory for our cause. The nomination came from the hands of the voters; I have obeyed their command and have led as best I could. Words will not express my gratitude for the willingness of the Democrats during the past twelve months. Neither am I able to adequately express my appreciation for the kind words which have been spoken since the election. If I could regard the defeat as purely a personal one I would consider it a blessing rather than a misfortune, for I am relieved of the burdens and responsibilities of an office that is attractive only in proportion as it gives an opportunity to render a larger public service.

"But I shall serve as willingly in a private capacity as in a public one. God does not require great things of us. He only requires that we improve the opportunities that are presented by private life.

"In this hour of national defeat I find some consolation in the cordial support given by my neighbors, by the citizens of Lincoln and by the people of the State of Nebraska. With a Democratic Governor and a Democratic legislature we shall be able to put into practice so much of the Denver platform as relates to State legislation, and I trust that our State will set an example that will be an influence for good in the nation."

So Soon?
Everybody's Magazine.

A judge in North Carolina was sentencing a big, loose jointed negro who had been convicted of murdering another negro.

"George Early," his honor said, "you have been found by twelve men tried and true to be guilty of murder in first degree, for having killed in cold blood, Moses Stack house, and it is the sentence of this court that on the tenth day of August the sheriff of Polk county take you to a place near the county jail and there hang you by the neck until you are dead, dead, dead! And may God have mercy on your soul. Have you anything to say for yourself?"

The negro shifted from one foot to the other and twisted and untwisted the old felt that he held in his hands. All eyes in the court room were upon him. Finally, rolling his eyes at the judge, he said:

"Look y'here, judge, you all don't mean this coming August, does you?"

Butlers Give Bond.
The row between State Chairman Adams, Republican, and M. J. Butler, has culminated in the indictment and arrest of Butler and his brother on a charge of criminal libel on Adams. The Butlers charged in their paper, "The Caucasian," that Adams, while judge of an Indian court of claims, was a party to a big fraud practiced upon the Indians. The preliminary hearing was held in Greensboro Wednesday afternoon before Justices Collins and Wolfe. The defendants were held under bonds of $1,000 each for their appearance at the December criminal term of Superior court.

MR. TAFT

ELECTED BY BIG MAJORITY

Republicans Will Continue To Control Everything

Democrats Made Big Gains in Some States but Lost in Others—Many Surprises in Result—Features of the Campaign Were Disappointment of Democrats in New York and Gains of Republicans in North Carolina—Some States that Went for Taft Elected Democratic Governors—Bryan Sends Congratulations, and Taft Notifies the Law Breakers and the Law Obeyers What They Lay Expect.

William Howard Taft will be the next President of the United States, having carried the country by a popular plurality of nearly one million, and in the neighborhood of 320 of the 483 electoral votes. Considering the vote of Maryland split between the two candidates, the result by popular majorities is as follows:

Taft majorities—California, 75,000; Connecticut, 20,000; Delaware, 2,500; Idaho, 1,000; Illinois, 174,000; Indiana, 10,000; Iowa, 57,000; Kansas, 25,000; Maine, 25,000; Massachusetts, —; Michigan, 150,000; Minnesota, 80,000; Missouri, 179,000; Montana, 3,000; North Dakota, 15,000; New Hampshire, 19,000; New York, 202,000; Ohio, 75,000; Oregon, 10,000; Pennsylvania, 290,000; Rhode Island, —; South Dakota, 23,000; Utah, 15,000; Vermont, 27,873; Washington, 40,000; West Virginia, 29,159; Wisconsin, 75,000; Wyoming, 9,000.

Bryan majorities—Alabama, 57,000; Arkansas, 26,000; Colorado, 5,577; Florida, 20,000; Georgia, 33,765; Kentucky, 11,000; Louisiana, 48,894; Mississippi, 49,000; Nebraska, 10,000; Nevada, 1,500; North Carolina, 35,000; Oklahoma, 25,000; South Carolina, 55,000; Tennessee, 35,390; Texas, 165,000; Virginia, 30,000.

Indiana, Ohio and Minnesota, which went Republican on the national ticket, yield Democratic Governors, and Indiana and Missouri seem to have legislatures which are Democratic on joint ballot. The expectation is that Mr. Kern, late Democratic candidate for Vice President, will be elected to the Senate from Indiana, succeeding Mr. Hemenway, Republican. In Missouri the contest for the Senate is between Mr. Stone, whose senatorial term is about expiring, and Governor Folk.

Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois is re-elected by his usual majority, and will no doubt be re-elected Speaker of the next Congress, in which the Republicans will have a majority of about 49.

Candidates Exchange Telegrams.
The following telegrams were exchanged two days after the election:

"Please accept congratulations and best wishes for the success of your administration.

"WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

"I thank you sincerely for your cordial and courteous telegram of congratulation and good wishes.

"WILLIAM H. TAFT.

In a speech before the Commercial Club of Cincinnati Thursday night, Mr. Taft said: "Every business man who is obeying the law may go ahead with all the energy in his possession; every enterprise which is within the statutes may proceed without fear of interference from the administration, when acting legally; but all interests within [Continued on Page Two.]

Ladies Play Drink a Pint.
A witness for Mrs. Howard Gould, whose husband is seeking a divorce partly because he alleges his wife abuses too much spirits, testified in court the other day that Mrs. Gould drank no more than a lady should, and when asked what the limit was for a lady, replied that a pint of champagne at dinner (supper) was all right for a lady.

Raw Lungs.
When the lungs are sore and inflamed the germs of pneumonia and consumption find lodgment and multiply. Foley's Honey and Tar kills the cough germs, cures the most obstinate racking cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results. The granules in the yellow package. English Drug Company.

President's Proclamation.
President Roosevelt has set November 20th as the date for Thanksgiving, and in his proclamation says: "We owe it to the Almighty to make the same progress in moral and spiritual things as we have made in material. That life is worse than wasted which is spent in piling up heaps of things which minister only to the pleasures of the body."

If you suffer from constipation and liver trouble Foley's Orino Laxative will cure you permanently by stimulating the digestive organs so they will act naturally. Foley's Orino Laxative does not gripe, is pleasant to take and you do not have to take laxatives continually after taking Orino. Why continue to be the slave of pills and tablets? English Drug Company.

FOR THE COMMON GOOD.

A Physician Who Gave One-Third of His Time to Public Service Gratuitously.

"When I was in the South Seas two years ago," says Charles Edward Russell in the November Everybody's, "I long had for a traveling companion an excellent physician of the Scotch persuasion, who was taking a globe-trotting vacation. He is an able citizen, uniting when at home the functions of a busy medical practitioner with those of a member of the town council. The combination struck me as unusual, and I was moved to learn more about it. I found that my doctor had been six years an alderman, and was shortly to stand for re-election, about the outcome of which he was much concerned. But he served, of course, without salary or other compensation.

"The natural supposition (to an American) would be of some form of graft or perquisite concealed in the office. It appeared that there was nothing of the kind, and, indeed, I hardly needed assurance on that point, for it happened that I well knew the thriving Scotch town and how ably and cleanly it was governed. I made some calculations, based on what the excellent doctor told about council and committee meetings, inquiries, reports, and inspections that were required of him, and found that his official duties took up about one-third of his time. I said:

"How do you manage that? I shouldn't think you would be able to do it."

"He said: 'One can manage anything that one wants to manage.'"

"We used to sit out on the dock at night and watch the Southern Cross and gusto the improvements the council had introduced, the improved municipal street railroad service, electric light, gas, water, markets, and what not. I said:

"Why do you bother with such things? I don't see where they help you in any way. You don't make anything out of them, and while you are putting about the street railroads your practice must suffer. Why don't you look out for yourself?"

"Well," he said, "I inherited something. It seems to me we ought to bequeath something a little to do it."

I used to be mad about a big practice. I got one fee of £1,000. It meant much to me. I was, and am, a poor man. But I'll tell you—I never got any satisfaction from any source that compared with the satisfaction of thinking that our town is better than it was when I came to it, and that I had a hand in making it better."

"I never met a man on whom that idea would not grip it—it had a chance. The trouble is that with us it never has a chance."

Junius Brown has given $5,000 bond to appear at court for the murder of John Hafer, at a chicken fight in Alexander county some days ago. A lot of men had gathered to fight chickens, the practice is to be common along the Carolina-Alexander line, and stuff to drink flowed freely. It ended in a fight and John Hafer, son of Poley Hafer, a well known character, was cut to death. At the trial the murder was placed at Bowman's door, though there were several mixed up in it.

Hexamethylenetetramine.
The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities, and avoid a serious malady.

The Journal one year and Knife Free, $1.00.

SLAUGHTER OF INNOCENTS.

Where Women Work Hard and Long, the Rate of Infant Mortality Startlingly Increases.

Let us revert now to the Abstract of the Twelfth Census in its office at Washington. The Abstract says: In 1900 in the registration area of the United States, out of every 1,000 babies under one year of age there were 165 that died.

In Chicago, out of every 1,000 babies, 147 died.

In New York, out of every 1,000 babies, 189 died.

In Boston, out of every 1,000 babies, 194 died.

In Fall River, out of every 1,000 babies, 205 died.

The only higher infant mortality in the North for the year 1900 was in Biddeford, Maine, a cotton town, where, out of every 1,000 babies, 311 died.

Just below Biddeford and Fall River, among Northern cities, came Lowell, Mass., a cotton town, the only town with more working women, in proportion to population, than Fall River. In Lowell, out of every 1,000 babies, 276 died.

In Providence, which is much larger than Fall River, there were, in 1905, 2,998 deaths. Of these 2,998 deaths, 656 were of children under five years of age.

In Fall River, in 1905, there were 2,109 deaths. Of these 2,109 deaths, 1,117 were of children under five.

Less than one-fourth of deaths in Providence were of children under five. More than one-half of deaths in Fall River were of children under five.

Why?

Well, out of every 100 women in Providence, 25 are at work. In Fall River, out of every 100 women, 45 are at work.

Moreover, while Providence, being a larger city than Fall River, has 22,068 working women, only 2,118 of those women are married. Meanwhile, in Fall River, out of 16,170 working women in all trades there are 3,688 that are married.

It will be feasible to forbid married women to work for a certain period of time before and after childbirth, and it may even be feasible to forbid them to work at any time for more than a certain particular and special number of hours a day. But it will be forever impossible, in economic as well as in constitutional law, to prevent them from working, absolutely and arbitrarily.

IT WORKED A CURE.

Anecdote of an English Doctor of the Last Century.
Of the eminent physicians of England during the early part of the last century not one was more justly celebrated than Dr. Sydenham. Of the anecdotes of his medical experience, related by himself, the following is worth telling:

For a long time the doctor had been consulted by a gentleman of wealth and leisure who was persistent in his demands for medical help, who took all the medicines prescribed, but who did not appear to improve. At length Dr. Sydenham said to him:

"Sir, I have done all I can. If you would be thoroughly cured you must consult Dr. Robinson at Inverness, in Scotland. He is exceedingly clever in such diseases as yours, and if I give you a letter to him I can assure you he will give you relief."

It was a long journey from London away to the extreme north of Scotland, but the patient had plenty of leisure. He had money enough, he had good horses and carriages, and, above all, he was anxious to be cured. So away he went.

But, arrived at Inverness after a laborious jaunt of fully three weeks, he searched for Dr. Robinson in vain. He could find no such doctor. And, what was more, he was credibly informed that such a doctor had never lived there. The patient botched up his wrath, had his horses harnessed and their heads turned homeward, and the distance, which had occupied him three weeks in going, he covered in ten days on his return. Upon reaching London he made at once for the house of Dr. Sydenham, upon whom he burst like a whirlwind.

"Ha, Sir George! I am glad to see you, and to see you looking so well."

"But no thanks to you, you graceless rascal! Why did you so deceive me?"

"Deceive you, Sir George?"

"Yes. You told me I should find Dr. Robinson, and you knew there was no such man there. Now, what is your excuse? What is your explanation?"

"Sir George, answer me. Are you not better now than you have been before for years? In short, are you not entirely recovered from that old malady?"

The baronet thought a little and was forced to confess that such was the case.

"That, sir, is my excuse; that my explanation," returned the physician frankly. "I knew that a journey into the highlands of Scotland would cure you, and I took the only means in my power to send you off. Had I told you the truth you would not have gone. But to see Dr. Robinson you were willing to venture. So, Sir George, let us bless Dr. Robinson."

And Sir George surrendered.—London Tit-Bits.

He Got What He Asked For.

Spurred on by newspaper taunts, possibly, a plain-clothes man of the Atlanta police set out one day to detect violations of the Georgia prohibition law. On Decatur street he met an old negro whose appearance he considered "suspicious."

"Say, uncle," he whispered with a wink, "do you know where I can get some whiskey?"

"I s'pose maybe I kin git some of yer gin me de money," replied the suspected one.

"Well, here is a two-dollar bill," said the plain-clothes man. "I'll wait in the alley here. Now hurry back."

"Yessah, boss, ef yer'll jest hold dis box er shoes fer me," and the policeman had the box under his arm before he knew it, while the darkey shambled off down the street, turning the first corner.

Thinking he was on a warm trail and would soon be—

He was arrested and taken to the station, and the policeman and witness "with the goods on," the sleuth waited in patience. An hour went by. He was getting tired. Two hours. Still no sign of the messenger.

Weary and discouraged, he returned to the police station. Suddenly he remembered the shoes under his arm, and decided to have a look. The box contained, carefully wrapped, a full quart bottle of corn whiskey.

The Supreme court made decision last week on the noted case in which a man fired into a knot hole in a section house, hit dynamite and was injured, along with a friend. The man who fired sued the railroad for damages and failed to recover. The bystander with him sued and the court last week knocked him out, though Justices Clarke and Hoke dissented, claiming that the railroad was liable, having laid the dynamite there six months without a sign to show that it was in the little shed.
